Seal Child:

Seal Child Robert Vescio, 2021-08-03 A little girl and a young seal pup are separated from their families after a devastating storm While the child is searching for a place to call home she is befriended by the seal pup There begins an enchanting friendship as the child and seal cross the sea for many days and for many nights Through harsh weather and through kind weather they keep each other warm and safe The daunting task of finding their families again is not quite so scary when they are together Beautiful watercolor illustrations capture the drama of the sea and sky creating a perfect backdrop to the story of hope and resilience

The Mabinogi Charles William Sullivan, 1996 Culture in Practice collects the academic and political writings from the 1960s through the 1990s of anthropologist Marshall Sahlins More than a compilation Culture in Practice unfolds as an intellectual autobiography The book opens with Sahlins's early general studies of culture, economy and human nature. It then moves to his reportage and reflections on the war in Vietnam and the antiwar movement, the event that most strongly affected his thinking about cultural specificity. Finally, it offers his more historical and globally aware works on indigenous peoples, especially those of the Pacific islands. Sahlins exposes the cultural specificity of the West, developing a critical account of the distinctive ways that we act in and understand the world. The book includes a play review of Robert Ardrey's sociobiology, essays on native consumption patterns of food and clothes in America, and the West's explorations of how two thousand years of Western cosmology affect our understanding of others. It also includes ethnohistorical accounts of how cultural orders of Europeans and Pacific islanders structured the historical experiences of both. Throughout, Sahlins offers his own way of thinking about the anthropological project. To transcend critically our native categories in order to understand how other peoples have historically constructed their modes of existence, even now in the era of globalization, is the great challenge of contemporary anthropology.

Across the globe, students are speaking up, walking out, and marching for social and ecological justice. Despite deficit discourses about students, youth are using their voice and agency to call forth a better world. Will educators respond to this call to stand with students in relational solidarity as co-constructors of a new tomorrow? What is possible when teachers and students engage together in new ways? Pedagogies of With-ness: Students' Teachers' Voice and Agency offers insight into the transformative possibilities of education when enacted as the art of being with. Driven by student voices and their experiences of marginalization, this text takes a clear ethical stance. It asserts that students are both capable and competent. Taking a narrative approach, this book honors academic work that is rooted in educational practice. Expanding beyond traditional conceptions of student voice, chapters engage in meditations on three themes: identity, pedagogy, and partnership. This book is an exploration of with-ness, a way of knowing, being, and acting. By centralizing the all too often suppressed wisdom of youth, teachers and researchers engage in new forms of critique and possibility-making with students. Editors reflect on this central theme, exploring the dimensions of such pedagogies of with-ness. Through this book, teachers are invited to imagine pedagogy under this new framework, actively committed to students, their voice, and mutual engagement. Perfect for courses such as Social Foundations, Student Teacher Partnerships, Secondary Methods, Service Learning, Leadership, Ethnic Studies, Democracy and Civics, Social Justice, and Education.
