Seaports People Of Europe:

Port Cities in Asia and Europe Arndt Graf, Chua Beng Huat, 2008-11-20 With the demise of European socialist economies and the marketization of Asian communist countries a new global capitalism has reshaped the configuration of the world economy with speed a determining factor to all transactions of information finance goods and services and people Sea ports that were significant for a slower but no less global economy have been undergoing transformation to stay economically and culturally relevant Some manage to reinvent themselves as tourist cities some face decline if they do not manage to transform This volume looks at a number of port cities in Asia and Europe that face this pressure With contributions considering history contemporary developments contacts between ports the representation of ports and the relations between port cities and their hinterlands This comparative study identifies many parallels between local histories and developments in the Asian and European port cities as well as new opportunities for sharing experiences and learning from the developments and decisions in similar situations in other port cities

Report on Physical Characteristics of European Seaports Charles W. Staniford, New York (N.Y.). Department of Docks and Ferries, 1911

European Port Cities in Transition Angela Carpenter, Rodrigo Lozano, 2020-01-22 Seaports as part of urban centers play a major role in the cultural social and economic life of the cities in which they are located and through the links they provide to the outside world Port cities in Europe have faced significant change first with the loss of heavy industry emergence of Eastern European democracies and the widening of the European Community now European Union during the second half of the twentieth century and more recently through drivers to change including the global Sustainable Development Agenda and the European Union Circular Economy Agenda This book examines the role of modern seaports in Europe and consider how port cities are responding to these major drivers for change It discusses the broad issues facing European Sea Ports including port life cycles spatial planning and societal integration May 2019 saw the 200th anniversary of the first steam ship to cross the Atlantic between the US and England and it is just over 60 years since the invention of the modern intermodal shipping container both drivers of change in the maritime and ports industry Increasing movements of people e g through low cost cruises to port cities can play a major role in changing the nature of such a city and impact on the lives of the people living there This book brings together original research by both long standing and younger scholars from multiple disciplines and builds upon the wider discourse about sea ports port cities and sustainability

European Seaports Law E. van Hooydonk, 2003 In 2001 the European Commission published its so called Ports Package a first attempt at developing a European policy for seaports The Ports Package includes a Directive on Market Access to Port Services which will influence the port industry thoroughly and lead to fundamental changes in daily port operations In this volume academics as well as practising lawyers from France Ireland Italy and Belgium describe the legal framework for the several branches of the port sector recalling the far reaching practical implications of existing general EU law and discussing the latest versions of the Port Services Directive proposal Completed by authoritative views from the head of the Commission's ports unit a specialist MEP and representatives from both the public and the private port sector this book offers a fairly complete overview of existing port law as well as the main points of concern in the policy debate Its purpose is to serve both as a policy background document and as a working tool for public and private port players as well as for academics and lawyers

Seaports of the Far East Allister Macmillan,1925 Atlas of Europe Karen Foster,2008 Features maps and information about the countries geography ecology population customs transportation and economy of Europe

Macmillan's short geography of the world George Frederick Bosworth,1902 Port City Atlas Carola Hein,Yvonne van Mil,Lucija Ažman Momirski,2023-06-29 The Atlas was created within the LDE PortCityFutures research group and the Faculty of Architecture TU Delft It is part of the series on the Urbanization of the Sea and the kick off of a sub series on Mapping Port Cities An analytical study on the complexity of port cities in Europe A multitude of port cities dots Europe's coastline all serving the purpose of facilitating maritime transportation Over millennia public and private leaders have built harbours urban spaces and infrastructures in diverse territories to serve hinterlands including landlocked capital cities and metropolitan areas As nodes on the edge of water and land port city territories embody knowledge on maritime flows and water conditions At a time of climate change they can be paradigms and stewards of sustainable development Taking a comprehensive mapping based approach Port City Atlas visualizes 100 port city territories located on four seas and connected through shared waters It provides a foundation for comparative analysis beyond case study approaches that are often locked into national contexts select languages or disciplinary approaches Conceived as a work of reference the book makes the case for a sea based approach to the understanding and design of Europe European Port Cities and Urban Regeneration Enrico Tommarchi,2022-07-29 Culture and event led regeneration have been catalysts for the transformation of redundant urban port areas and for the reframing of the image of many port cities which notably feature among mega event bidding and host cities However there is little understanding of the impacts of these processes on port city relationships as well as of how port city cultures shape mega events and the related regeneration strategies The book examines the underexplored mutual links between on the one hand urban and socio economic regeneration driven by cultural and sporting mega events and on the other hand the spatial political and symbolic ties between cities and their ports By adopting a cross national comparative perspective with in depth case studies Hull Rotterdam Genoa and Valencia and examples from other port cities across the world where mega events were held the book engages with issues such as the tension between port and cultural uses reactions and opposition to mega events in port cities clashing urban imaginaries drawing on port activity and culture the role of port authorities and companies in the city's cultural life the spectacularisation and commodification of local maritime culture and heritage processes of cultural demaritimisation and remaritimisation of port cities The book is therefore a contribution towards the bridging of port city and mega event studies and it provides insights for port city policy makers and mega event promoters drawing from a range of international experiences The book also shows how societal and political change in the current ontologically insecure times may undermine the very paradigm of culture and event led regeneration in the years to come A History of European Peoples Clarence Perkins,1927
