The Canadian Alternative Klaus Martens, 2004 How Ottawa Spends, 2004-2005 G. Bruce Doern, 2004-10-19 Drawing on the work of academics and other experts from across Canada Carleton University's School of Public Policy and Administration's annual book takes a focused and robust look at an era where a political coronation seemed inevitable but high expectations had to be managed downwards almost immediately A less than buoyant fiscal surplus escalating concerns about liberal ethics and corruption and a growing volatility in public opinion are examined as are Canadians increasingly uncertain views about the new Liberal leadership versus the old Liberal Party's ten year hold on power A new Conservative Party and a suddenly feisty New Democratic Party are also a central part of the new 2004-2005 Canadian political and policy milieu Leadership Mindsets Linda Kaser, Judy Halbert, 2009-03-04 The evidence is clear school leaders make a difference to the learning of the pupils they serve And yet not all leaders have the same degree of impact What are the factors that make the difference to student learning Why are some leaders able to raise student achievement in schools in the most challenging circumstances whilst other leaders struggle to simply maintain the status quo Drawing from international case study research over many years from the experience of hundreds of school leaders serving widely diverse communities Judy Halbert and Linda Kaser argue that there are six distinct mindsets that characterize the way successful learning oriented leaders operate and make sense of their professional world These leaders are motivated by intense moral purpose knowledgeable about current models of learning consistently inquiry oriented able to build trusting relationships evidence informed able to move to wise action This book outlines an alternative way of thinking about school leadership It examines research evidence that leaders will find most useful and suggests how they might use this evidence to maximise their learning and the learning of their students Leadership Mindsets has been written specifically for aspiring to newly appointed school leaders who are determined and motivated to create quality and equality for learners in the schools they serve through networks of inquiry learning and support The World in Canada David Carment, David Bercuson, 2008-02-07 In response to these questions contributors trace changes in Canada's demographic make up explore the relationship between domestic politics and Canadian foreign policy across the fields of diplomacy development defense and security and immigration and determine the extent to which Quebec's sensibilities to international issues differ from those of the rest of the country The World in Canada argues that under certain conditions the motivation to pursue certain policy choices arises as much from domestic considerations as from the international conditions associated with them Canadian Music and American Culture Tristanne Connolly, Tomoyuki Iino, 2017-06-30 This collection explores Canadian music's commentaries on American culture American Woman get away from me one of the most resonant musical statements to come out of Canada is a cry of love and hate for its neighbour Canada's close inescapable entanglement with the superpower to the south provides a unique yet representative case study of the benefits and detriments of the global American culture machine

From Pride to Influence Michael Hart,2009-04-30 Recent Canadian foreign policy has fixated upon Canada's former status as a middle power within a small club of western democratic states The emergence of a US dominated world and of an integrated North American economy and the decline of multilateral rules and institutions as prime instruments of global governance have left Canadian foreign policy searching for new purpose and direction From Pride to Influence brings Canadian foreign policy into the twenty first century by grounding it in a conception of the national interest that accepts the primacy of the United States in guaranteeing Canadian national security and prosperity It will appeal to the engaged public practitioners analysts and senior undergraduate and graduate classes focused on Canadian foreign policy The People's House of Commons David E. Smith,2007-04-21 Canada's House of Commons has come under considerable attack in recent years Many critics have contended that the House has been unresponsive to public opinion and that its party leaders have too much control while leaving individual MPs essentially powerless The House has also faced challenges by the courts since the introduction of the Charter a powerful bureaucracy equipped with specialized knowledge and new telecommunications systems that are redefining the transfer of information Through an examination of academic judicial political and legal commentary The People's House of Commons explores the role of the House as a public institution While addressing much of the criticism that has been levelled at the House David E Smith considers the competing political models and inherent tensions and their affect on public understanding Smith maintains that court decisions are transforming the political system from one dominated by parties to one that promotes individual participation He argues that reforms such as fixed election dates or stronger parliamentary committees have constitutional significance since their implementation would alter the practice of responsible government which for more than a century has been a party government A definitive work by one of Canada's foremost experts in the field of political science The People's House of Commons explores the ramifications of many of the changes currently being proposed to Canada's political system with particular reference to their affect on prerogative power parliamentary privilege party discipline bicameralism and the role of the opposition The Art of the State II Thomas J.
