On the Seashore Cassell's "Eyes and No Eyes" R. Cadwallader Smith, The Sea of Silence Seth Hunter,2021-05-15 The seventh volume in the thrilling adventure series featuring Nathan Peake British naval officer and spy during the French Revolutionary and Napoleonic Wars The war moves to the Americas as Captain Nathan Peake freed from service in the Royal Navy is secretly commissioned by President Thomas Jefferson to command a naval operation in the Caribbean Sea and frustrate plans to establish a new French Empire on the North American mainland which would pose an existential threat to the infant United States With Europe temporarily at peace Napoleon Bonaparte has dispatched his victorious army with a vast fleet to the Caribbean Its aim is to re impose French authority in the region and then occupy a vast swathe of territory stretching from New Orleans to the Canada border and westward from the Mississippi to the Rocky Mountains But first they must reconquer Saint Domingue now Haiti where they are opposed by rebel slaves led by the African general Toussaint L Ouverture Nathan is sent from England with a small squadron crewed by British and American sailors tasked with disrupting French supply lines at sea and running guns to the rebel forces But if the men are caught they will be disowned by the British and US governments and very likely hanged by the French as pirates This adventure will lead Nathan into a running battle with the French Navy in the troubled waters off Saint Domingue an increasingly desperate involvement in one of the most brutal colonial conflicts in history a dangerous liaison with Pauline Bonaparte sister of Napoleon and wife of the French commander and a battle of ideas and ideologies that persists to the present day Forest and Stream ,1911 Riverbank and Seashore in Nineteenth and Twentieth Century British Literature Gillian Mary Hanson,2005-11-17 The waters of river and sea represent a kind of freedom a liberty which as Iris Murdoch writes enables man to exist sanely without fear and to perceive what is real As settings in fiction the riverbank and seashore are rich in potential offering a sense of destiny and suggesting the possibility of self truth and self knowledge In British literature the rural costal setting shadowed by cliffs tugged by the constant movement of the sea becomes the site of revelation and generates the energy that brings characters to a new level of self awareness The river s embankments bridges and tunnels often mark specific stages of revelation and movement in plot Entrapment and isolation contingency and communication are themes that seem born of such settings This book examines the ways in which 21 modern and postmodern writers from Tennyson to Ted Hughes from Jane Austen to Jane Gardam have made use of the physical environment of riverbank and seashore in their work It considers how each author employs the physical settings in the service of plot and character development and how those settings are used to connect with some of the major intellectual concerns of the late19th and 20th centuries Appendices offer significant quotations from the texts under discussion arranged according to the location they describe the rural river the urban river river into sea the rural shore and the urban shore Let's Discover Our

Endings in the Cinema Michael Walker, 2020-03-13 This book offers a new way of thinking about film endings Whereas existing works on the subject concentrate on narrative resolution this book explores the way film endings blend together a complex of motifs tropes and other elements to create the sense of an ending that is it looks at endings as endings Drawing on a wide range of examples taken from films of different periods and national cinemas the author identifies three key features which structure the work thresholds and boundaries water and above all the beach The beach combines water and a boundary and is the most resonant of the key sites to which film endings gravitate Although beach endings go back to at least 1910 they have increased markedly in post classical cinema and can be found across all genres and in films from many different countries As the leading example of the book s argument they illustrate both the aesthetic richness and the structural complexity of film endings

The Sea Hunters Clive Cussler, Craig Dirgo, 2003-09 Collects accounts of the underwater discoveries made by the author and his team of volunteers dedicated to the exploration of historic wrecks including the Lexington and the Arkansas
