Day Perry,2015-06-02 Excerpt from Seat Weaving Woodworking shops in manual training schools far outnumber those for other manual activities and as a result courses in woodwork have come to be termed the stable courses in a handwork curriculum However experience in woodwork alone is not sufficient and needs to be supplemented by other and more varied activities to give to the boy a proper foundation for choice of vocation A definite way to produce necessary variety as applied to woodwork especially if woodwork is the only course offered is thru the use of such mediums as cane reed rush splints and allied materials in correlation with the wood These materials add life to the problems and generally arouse interest and enthusiasm in the work at hand The result is careful application to construction details with resultant appreciation of constructive design It would prove a difficult task to make a fair estimate of the value such mediums have in manual training shops Their use produces very definite reactions upon boys who could not be reached by woodwork alone awakening them to a new interest in their work and making them more workmanlike and exacting in construction There exists some element in such mediums which cannot be defined but which nevertheless stimulates the average or mediocre boy as well as the exceptional one to produce the best work of which he is capable Experience with these materials utilized in correlation with wood will prove the truth of these statements and demonstrate that they are not only worth while but necessary to any well rounded course in wood The originals of the projects illustrated by the photographs were with few exceptions constructed by boys of average ability in the eighth grade About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
