Johnson,2023-02-14 In the fall of 1999 the World Trade Organization WTO prepared to hold its biennial Ministerial Conference in Seattle The event culminated in five days of chaotic political protest that would later be known as the Battle in Seattle The convergence represented the pinnacle of decades of organizing among workers of color in the Pacific Northwest yet the images and memory of what happened centered around assertive black bloc protest tactics deployed by a largely white core of activists whose message and goals were painted by media coverage as disorganized and incoherent This insightful history takes readers beyond the Battle in Seattle and offers a wider view of the organizing campaigns that marked the last half of the twentieth century Narrating the rise of multiracial coalition building in the Pacific Northwest from the 1970s to the 1990s Diana K Johnson shows how activists from Seattle s Black Indigenous Chicano and Asian American communities traversed racial regional and national boundaries to counter racism economic inequality and perceptions of invisibility In a city where more than eighty five percent of the residents were white they linked far flung and historically segregated neighborhoods while also crafting urban rural multiregional and transnational links to other populations of color The activists at the center of this book challenged economic and racial inequality the globalization of capitalism and the white dominance of Seattle itself long before the WTO protest Metamorphosis of a Chinatown International District, Seattle Marilyn Chu,1977 I-90 Seattle Added Access, King County ,1992 I-5-I-90 Construction, Seattle ,1983 Seattle Monorail Project ,2004 Our Seattle Mike Sedam, Barbara Sleeper, Proposed Master Plan Update Development Actions, Seattle-Tacoma (Sea-Tac) International Airport, King County ,1996 Cumulative List of Organizations Described in Section 170 (c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 United States. Winter Han,2015-05-08 In gay bars and nightclubs across America and in gay oriented magazines and media the buff macho white gay man is exalted as the ideal the most attractive the most wanted and the most emulated type of man For gay Asian American men often viewed by their peers as submissive or too pretty being sidelined in the gay community is only the latest in a long line of racially motivated offenses they face in the United States Repeatedly marginalized by both the white centric queer community that values a hyper masculine sexuality and a homophobic Asian American community that often privileges masculine heterosexuality gay Asian American men largely have been silenced and alienated in present day culture and society In Geisha of a Different Kind C Winter Han travels from West Coast Asian drag shows to the internationally sought after Thai kathoey or ladyboy to construct a theory of queerness that is inclusive of the race and gender particularities of the gay Asian male experience in the United States Through ethnographic observation of queer Asian American communities and Asian American drag shows interviews with gay Asian American men and a reading of current media and popular culture depictions of Asian Americans Han argues that gay Asian American men used to gender privilege within their own communities must grapple with the idea that as Asians they have historically been feminized as a result of Western domination and colonization and as a result they are minorities within the gay community which is itself marginalized within the overall American society Han also shows that many Asian American gay men can turn their unusual position in the gay and Asian American communities into a positive identity In their own conception of self their Asian heritage and sexuality makes these men unique special and in the case of Asian American drag queens much more able to convey a convincing erotic femininity Challenging stereotypes about beauty nativity and desirability Geisha of a Different Kind makes a major intervention in the study of race and sexuality in America
