The Long Road to Paris Ed and Janet Howle, 2011-01-06 It was our intent to write a travelogue of an around the world car race the first of its kind in more than one hundred years We began by interviewing JC Wilkerson CEO of World Rallies Inc and Kyle Vanderhorn the official race reporter Then Thurman Alston one of the racers approached us with an outrageous list of accusations presenting a very different story from the sanitized official version Thurman wanted to make these allegations public The accusations were primarily aimed at Ed Talbot the driver of car 23 a controversial alternative energy automobile which it appears has now been destroyed The allegations were as follows First that Ed leaked information to the CIA about the radical nature of the car's technology leading to the intervention of the US and Russian governments and indirectly to the murders in Siberia Second that Ed's irresponsible actions during the race were the reasons that the environmentallyfriendly technology in his entry has not been made available to the world and that he is to blame for some of the climatic change that will take place in the future Third that Ed was lying about the innovation in the car It was actually nothing new and was in fact fully developed in Nazi Germany during World War II and then held off the market by oil interests Finally that his secret liaison with his navigator showed a reckless disregard for his wife and young daughter and affected his judgment While these accusations appeared to be absurd we knew we had to sort out Thurman's wild claims before we could write an objective report of the around the world race We discovered that there was some truth among these charges a story hidden within a story We became intrigued with our findings It turned out that the race was a minor part of the challenges Ed faced Our research had turned up a convoluted love story that alone would have made it difficult for Ed to have followed a different course of action You can decide for yourself whether a less disastrous outcome would have been possible if he had made different decisions Ed and Janet Howle www.thelongroadtoParis.com

The Long Road Back Judy Tam Sargent,1999    Mary Climbs In Lorraine Mangione,Donna Luff,2023-06-16 Bruce Springsteen has been cherished by his fans for decades from his early days playing high school gymnasiums through globally successful albums and huge stadium shows to solo performances in intimate theaters As his long and illustrious career has evolved the legendary devotion of his fans has remained a constant Springsteen fans have become worthy of study in their own right with books memoirs and even a movie documenting their passion and perspectives But his fans are not monolithic and surprisingly little attention has been paid to why so many women from across the world adore The Boss Mary Climbs In illuminates this once overlooked but increasingly important and multi faceted conversation about female audiences for Springsteen's music. Drawing on unique surveys of fans themselves the study offers insight into women's experiences in their own voices. Authors Lorraine Mangione and Donna Luff explore the depth of women fans connection to Springsteen and the profound ways this connection has shaped their lives. Reflections from fans enliven each page as readers journey through the camaraderie and joy of concerts the sorrow and confusion of personal loss and suffering the love and closeness of community and the search for meaning and for the self. Viewed through a psychological lens women fans relationship with Springsteen is revealed in all its complexity as never before. Mary Climbs In is an important interdisciplinary contribution to the growing field of Springsteen studies and a must read for any fan.

New-Yorker, 1903    A Hopeful Single Life Z-4, 2016-09-22 As Lisa turned the tv channel she could hardly believe an episode of an old Billy Graham Christian Crusade program was showing. Lisa watched intensely and it began to give her uplift in her down spirit. She viewed the show until the program conclusion. Then she stood up walked to her window looking into the night sky and began to all of a sudden laugh. She laughed until she walked over and picked up her Bible off her coffee table. She thought the scripture that said My grace is sufficient for thee my strength is made perfect in weakness 2 Cor 12:9. This was the turning point of her entire evening. She began to realize that all along she had been putting her faith and hope in men. And they were always a disappointment to her in one way or another. Now Lisa knew what she had to do without hesitation.

Nineteenth-century Women Learn to Write Catherine Hobbs, 1995 What and how were nineteenth century women taught through conduct books and hymnbooks? What did women learn about reading and writing at a state normal school and at the Cherokee Nation's female seminary? What did Radcliffe women think of rhetoric classes imported from Harvard? How did women begin to gain their voices through speaking and writing in literary societies and by keeping diaries and journals? How did African American women use literacy as a tool for social action? How did women's writing portray alternative views of the western frontier? The essays in this volume address these questions and more in exploring the gendered nature of education in the nineteenth century. These essays give a more complete picture of literacy in the nineteenth century. Part one presents a panoply of sites and cultural contexts in which women learned to write including ideological contexts institutional sites and informal settings such as literary circles. Part two examines specific genres texts and voices of literate women and students of writing and speaking. Nineteenth Century Women Learn to Write interweaves thick feminist social history with theoretical perspectives from such diverse fields as linguistics and folklore, feminist literary theory and African American and Native American studies. The volume constitutes a major addition to traditional social science studies of literacy.

Southern Sin Lee Gutkind, Beth Ann Fennelly, 2014-03-18 23 strange but true stories of women flirting with perdition. In the steamy South temptation is as wild and plentiful as kudzu. Whether the sin in question is skinny dipping or becoming an unlikely porn star running rum or renting out a room to a pair of exhibitionistic adulterers in these true stories women defy tradition and forge their own paths through life often learning unexpected lessons from the experience As Dorothy Allison writes in her introduction The most dangerous stories are the true ones the ones we hesitate to tell the adventures laden with fear or shame or the relentless pull of regret Some of those are about things that we are secretly deeply proud to have done A diverse array of contributors mothers daughters sisters best friends fiancées divorcees professors poets lifeguards in training lapsed Baptists tipsy debutantes middle aged lesbians lend their voices to this collection Introspective and abashed joyous and triumphant but almost never apologetic they remind us that sin like beauty is in the eye of the beholder     Is it You, Me, Or Adult A.D.D.?
