Looking At Women:

Women's Bodies Jane Arthurs, Jean Grimshaw, 1999-03-01 The articles in this volume consider the prevailing standards of feminine decorum and how these are being played with and challenged by various media This is a collection of essays which focuses on the representation of women's bodies in historical and contemporary cultures It discusses recent books on the subject and compares the two different approaches to the body adopted by the soft porn magazine For Women and the women's monthly Cosmopolitan It also examines TV cult figures such as the comic body exemplified by comedienne Joe Brand and situation comedies such as Absolutely Fabulous Ladies, Please! José Covaco, 2014-07-11 Try as you may you won't get the answer because we're guys and we come from Mars where it's an alien eat alien world Most of the time we're confused as heck and need a girl to set us straight but all the other times we pretty much know what we want The same way how we can't figure you lot out and why you need so many pairs of shoes we too can be hard nuts all puns intended to crack Girls rule That's a fact no guy can deny That said there are a few things about you that drive us crazy and make us go running across continents and enroll into witness protection programmes to get as far away from you as possible Here's a book that'll help you if not figure us out save you from a few nasty dates and know when to run screaming because at the end of the day boys will be boys

Evaluative Perception Anna Bergqvist, Robert Cowan, 2018-06-06 Evaluation is ubiquitous Indeed it isn't an exaggeration to say that we assess actions character events and objects as good cruel beautiful etc almost every day of our lives Although evaluative judgement for instance judging that an institution is unjust is usually regarded as the paradigm of evaluation it has been thought by some philosophers that a distinctive and significant kind of evaluation is perceptual For example in aesthetics some have claimed that adequate aesthetic judgement must be grounded in the appreciator's first hand perceptual experience of the item judged In ethics reference to the existence and importance of something like ethical perception is found in a number of traditions for example in virtue ethics and sentimentalism This volume brings together philosophers working in aesthetics epistemology ethics philosophy of mind and value theory to investigate what we call evaluative perception Specifically they engage with 1 Questions regarding the existence and nature of evaluative perception Are there perceptual experiences of values If so what is their nature Are perceptual experiences of values sui generis Are values necessary for certain kinds of perceptual experience 2 Questions about epistemology Can evaluative perceptual experiences ever justify evaluative judgements Are perceptual experiences of values necessary for certain kinds of justified evaluative judgements 3 Questions about value theory Is the existence of evaluative perceptual experience supported or undermined by particular views in value theory Are particular views in value theory supported or undermined by the existence of evaluative perceptual experience

Look Homeward, Angel & Of Time and the River Thomas Wolfe, 2023-12-15 Thomas Wolfe's seminal works Look Homeward Angel and Of Time and the River offer a profound exploration of the human experience framed within the complexities of familial bonds and the quest for identity Utilizing a stream of consciousness narrative style Wolfe crafts an evocative tapestry of his semi autobiographical characters particularly the introspective Eugene Gant whose journey reflects the universal struggle between aspiration and the pull of home Set against the backdrop of early 20th century America these novels delve into themes of nostalgia memory and the passage of time all conveyed through Wolfe's lush lyrical prose that often teeters on the edge of the poetic Thomas Wolfe an American novelist born in 1900 in Asheville North Carolina was greatly influenced by his own tumultuous upbringing in a family of stone masons and his experiences of both small town life and the vastness of the American landscape His formative years marked by the dichotomy of ambition and the warmth of home propelled him to articulate the intricacies of his personal narrative Wolfe s encounters with literary giants such as Sherwood Anderson and F Scott Fitzgerald further shaped his distinctive voice and experimental approach to storytelling Readers are encouraged to engage with Wolfe s works as they grapple with not only the nuances of Gant s experience but also the larger questions of belonging and self discovery This profound duality encapsulates a poignant reflection on life itself making both novels essential reading for those interested in the emotional depths of American literature

Mongrels, Bastards, Orphans, and Vagabonds Gregory Rodriguez,2008-10-14 An unprecedented account of the long term cultural and political influences that Mexican Americans will have on the collective character of our nation In considering the largest immigrant group in American history Gregory Rodriguez examines the complexities of its heritage and of the racial and cultural synthesis mestizaje that has defined the Mexican people since the Spanish conquest in the sixteenth century He persuasively argues that the rapidly expanding Mexican American integration into the mainstream is changing not only how Americans think about race but also how we envision our nation Brilliantly reasoned highly thought provoking and as historically sound as it is anecdotally rich Mongrels Bastards Orphans and Vagabonds is a major contribution to the discussion of the cultural and political future of the United States Brown Beauty Laila Haidarali, 2018-09-25 Examines how the media influenced ideas of race and beauty among African American women from the Harlem Renaissance to World War II Between the Harlem Renaissance and the end of World War II a complicated discourse emerged surrounding considerations of appearance of African American women and expressions of race class and status Brown Beauty considers how the media created a beauty ideal for these women emphasizing different representations and expressions of brown skin Haidarali contends that the idea of brown as a respectable shade was carefully constructed through print and visual media in the interwar era Throughout this period brownness of skin came to be idealized as the real representational and respectable complexion of African American middle class women Shades of brown became channels that facilitated discussions of race class and gender in a way that would develop lasting cultural effects for an ever modernizing world Building on an impressive range of visual and media sources from newspapers journals magazines and newsletters to commercial advertising Haidarali locates a complex and sometimes contradictory set of cultural values at the core of representations of women envisioned as brown skin She explores how brownness affected socially mobile New Negro women in the urban environment during the interwar years showing how the majority of messages on brownness were directed at an aspirant middle class By tracing brown s changing meanings across this period and showing how a visual language of brown grew into a dynamic racial shorthand used to denote modern African American womanhood Brown Beauty demonstrates the myriad values and judgments compromises and contradictions involved in the social evaluation of women This book is an eye opening account of the intense dynamics between racial identity and the influence mass media has on what and who we consider beautiful 7 best short stories - Coming of Age Kate Chopin, George Moore, Sherwood Anderson, Katherine Mansfield, Nathaniel Hawthorne, James Joyce, August Nemo, 2020-05-12 Becoming an adult is a difficult process often painful and always unforgettable Cultures and religions have always tried to demarcate this passage with a rite or public ceremony but the internal process of each one is unique Join us in these seven stories carefully selected by critic August Nemo Caline by Kate Chopin My Kinsman Major Molineux by Nathaniel Hawthorne I m a Fool by Sherwood Anderson Her First Ball by Katherine Mansfield I Want to Know Why by Sherwood Anderson So On He Fares by George Moore Araby by James Joyce The Changing Consumer Cultures of Modern Egypt Mona Abaza, 2006-12-01 This book consists of a collage of images that attempts to convey the transformation of consumer culture and how it is related to the urban reshaping of the city of Cairo to meet with the demands of globalisation Analyzing the shift from socialist economy to the opening up of Egypt s economy and how this has affected everyday life of the middle classes the author touches on various themes such as the general changing lifestyles and conspicuous consumption the spread of mobile phones and coffee shops the gated communities and secondary resorts The folklorisation of culture through the flowering tourist industry the expansion of local crafts plastic surgery and the body as a site of consumption are all analysed Although being influenced by the discourse of the Frankfurt school on the culture industry this work attempts to highlight the paradoxes pertaining to the democratising effects of consumer culture without denying the growing flagrant class polarisation

Body Work Sylvia K. Blood, 2004-03-01 Are scientific facts about body image enough to define conceptions of normality Reassessing Experimental Psychology from a critical perspective Sylvia Blood demonstrates how its research into Body Image can be misused and prone to misuse Classifying women who experience distress and anxiety with food eating and body size as suffering body image disturbance or body image dissatisfaction it can reproduce dominant assumptions about language meaning and subjectivity Experimental psychology's discourse about body image has recently become more widely influential becoming popularised through domains such as women's magazines in which psychological experts provide facts about women's body image problems and offer advice and psychological treatments With acute cross disciplinary awareness Body Work The Social Construction of Women's Body Image exposes the assumptions at work in the methods and status of experimental approaches Penetrating beyond the usual dichotomy between experimental and popular psychology this book illuminates some of the ways in which women's magazines have embraced experimental psychology's treatment of the issue Drawing on her experience in Clinical Psychology Sylvia Blood highlights the damaging effects of uncritically experimental views of body image She goes on to elaborate not only an alternative model of discursive construction but also the implications of such a theory for clinical practice Merging theory and clinical experience Sylvia Blood exposes the fallacies about women's bodies that underpin experimental psychology's body image research She demonstrates the dangerous consequences of these fallacies being accepted as truths in popular texts and in the talk of everyday women
