Managerial Breakthrough Joseph M. Juran, 1964 Is Total Quality Management Enough for Competitive Advantage? Jamal K. Al-Dabal, 2001 TQM gurus and consultants market it as the best change initiative that provides organizations with a competitive advantage They also say that it is a cure for all problems that companies face This dissertation provides intellectual and factual data showing that this is not always the case There are areas where TQM provides a needed change initiative along with others In addition once most companies treat improving their processes as a priority TQM ceases to give a competitive advantage since it becomes a basic entry point into the competition The dissertation gives examples showing that contrary to what the consultants propagate 1 It is not a panacea for all problems in organizations and that it fits all types of organizations 2 It is not the only way to give organizations a competitive advantage and 3 TQM s fit for the services sector is discussed with emphasis on customer satisfaction Also covered are some limitations of TQM including empowerment times of paradigm shifts major process changes and reward systems Mapping the Journey Lorinda R. The Four Pillars of Portfolio Management Olivier Lazar, 2018-09-28 Portfolio management consists mainly of making decisions about which initiatives to undertake which initiatives not to pursue and which resources are to be allocated to which portfolio component At least that s how it is most commonly presented in textbooks and courses Indeed it is all of that but it is also so much more Portfolio management is of course about making these decisions but more accurately it is about making them with the goal of creating value for an organization s wide population of stakeholders both internal and external This value is not only expressed in financial terms but also in social terms The portfolio should create value for all stakeholders who thereby support the portfolio organization and enable it to sustain itself Portfolio management is about the realization of strategic vision achieving a purpose and developing an intelligent way of using resources to benefit stakeholders This requires the ability to find a balance among the different dimensions of portfolio governance and among the constraints constantly shaping and reshaping the business environment This is what portfolio management is truly about this is what organizational management is about
