Late Antique Textiles from the Papyrus Collection of the Austrian National Library Regina Hofmann-de Keijzer, Maarten R. Bommel, Ineke Joosten, Ines Bogensperger, 2024-09-02 MPER XXXIV 2 presents knowledge of textile dyeing in Late Antique Egypt ca 300-800 CE based on interdisciplinary research on 30 Late Antique textiles from the Papyrus Collection of the Austrian National Library combining scientific analyses with the study of ancient and scholarly literature. The general part deals with the dyeing materials and techniques that were available in Late Antique Egypt to create a wide variety of colours. The catalogue part contains the scientific analyses of 85 samples of 30 Late Antique textiles from this collection. The results of dye fibre and mordant analyses are documented with UHPLC chromatograms, UV-VIS absorption spectra, SEM-EDX spectra, microscopic images and tables. Textiles in which specific dyeing materials have been identified are listed in the appendices including textiles from the Papyrus Collection of the Austrian National Library as well as archaeological textiles from numerous international projects. A detailed bibliography completes this volume. MPER XXXIV 1, the first comprehensive compilation of Late Antique textiles from the Papyrus collection of the Austrian Library, provides an overall study of these 30 textiles and 208 more, including iconography and the analyses of the weaving techniques. MPER XXXIV 1 and 2 can also be purchased as a set.

Selling Textiles in the Long Eighteenth Century J. Stobart, B. Blonde, 2014-09-16 Textiles are a key component of the industrial and consumer revolutions, yet we lack a coherent picture of how the marketing of textiles varied across the long 18th century and between different regions. This book provides important new insights into the ways in which changes in the supply of textiles related to shifting patterns of demand. Prehistoric, Ancient Near Eastern & Aegean Textiles and Dress Mary Harlow, Cécile Michel, Marie-Louise Nosch, 2014-09-30 Textile and dress production from raw materials to finished items has had a significant impact on society from its earliest history. The essays in this volume offer a fresh insight into the emerging interdisciplinary research field of textile and dress studies by discussing archaeological, iconographical and textual evidence within a broad geographical and chronological spectrum. The thirteen chapters explore issues such as the analysis of textile tools, especially spindle whorls and textile imprints for reconstructing textile production in contexts as different as Neolithic Transylvania, the Early Bronze Age North Aegean and the Early Iron Age Eastern Mediterranean. The importance of cuneiform clay tablets as a documentary source for both drawing a detailed picture of the administration of a textile industry and for addressing gender issues such as the construction of masculinity in the Sumerian kingdoms of the 3rd millennium BC and discussions of royal and priestly costumes and clothing ornaments in the Mesopotamian kingdom of Mari and in Mycenaean culture. Textile terms testify to intensive exchanges between Semitic and Indo-European languages, especially within the terminology of trade goods. The production and consumption of textiles and garments are demonstrated in 2nd millennium Hittite Anatolia from 1st millennium BC Assyria. A cross-disciplinary approach combines texts, realia and iconography to produce a systematic study of golden dress decorations and finally the important discussion of fibres flax and wool in written and archaeological sources is evidence for delineating the economy of linen and the strong symbolic value of fibre types in 1st millennium Babylonia and the Southern Levant The volume is part of a pair together with Greek and Roman Textiles and Dress An Interdisciplinary Anthology edited by Mary Harlow and Marie Louise Nosch
