Powell,Mamari Stephens,Rosemary Hunter,2017-11-30 This edited collection asks how key New Zealand judgments might read if they were written by a feminist judge Feminist judging is an emerging critical legal approach that works within the confines of common law legal method to challenge the myth of judicial neutrality and illustrate how the personal experiences and perspectives of judges may influence the reasoning and outcome of their decisions Uniquely this book includes a set of cases employing an approach based on mana wahine the use of Maori values that recognise the complex realities of Maori women s lives Through these feminist and mana wahine judgments it opens possibilities of more inclusive judicial decision making for the future This Project stops us in our tracks and asks us how could things have been different At key moments in our legal history what difference would it have made if feminist judges had been at the tiller By doing so it raises a host of important questions What does it take to be a feminist judge Would we want our judges to be feminists and if so why Is there a uniquely female perspective to judging Professor Claudia Geiringer Faculty of Law Victoria University of Wellington With this book some of our leading jurists expose the biases and power structures that underpin legal rules and the interpretation of them Some also give voice to mana wahine perspectives on and about the law that have become invisible over time perpetuating the impacts of colonialism and patriarchy combined on Maori women I hope this book will be a catalyst for our nation to better understand and then seek to ameliorate these impacts Dr Claire Charters Associate Professor Faculty of Law University of Auckland The work is highly illuminating and is critical to the development of our legal system It is crucial not only for legal education so that students of the law open their minds to the different ways legal problems can be conceptualised and decided It is also crucial if we are going to have a truly just legal system where all the different voices and perspectives are fairly heard Professor Mark Henaghan Dean of the Faculty of Law University of Otago I believe this project is particularly important as few academics or researchers in New Zealand concentrate on judicial method I am therefore hopeful that it will provoke thoughtful debate in a critical area for society The Honourable Justice Helen

Winkelmann New Zealand Court of Appeal    Abortion Care Sam Rowlands,2014-08-28 This comprehensive review of the emotive and often controversial topic of abortion provides clinicians with a multidisciplinary focus on abortion services discussing clinical topics in their sociological legal and ethical context It is particularly timely as novel methods of service delivery make this vital resource more accessible allowing abortion to be performed in community settings Topics include medical and surgical methods of abortion ultrasound scanning pain control complications and abortion in women with medical conditions as well as ethics stigma and human rights Written by leading authorities in their subject areas Abortion Care is essential reading for medical and nursing specialists and forms a useful resource in the delivery of graduate courses in the fields of obstetrics and gynaecology and sexual and reproductive healthcare It is also of interest to professionals involved in planning delivering and managing women s health services including counsellors service managers and public health specialists    The Regulation of Medical Products Penny Gleeson,2024-12-31 This book develops a theoretical framework for examining and assessing the regulatory arrangements for medical products Since the first half of the 20th century the regulation of pharmaceuticals medical devices and more recently biologicals have been controlled in many jurisdictions by specific regulatory regimes and agencies Their regulatory mandates are similar to ensure the quality safety and efficacy of medical products This book provides a timely and relevant assessment of the complexities of medical regulatory regimes by drawing on a particular theory of political legitimacy In this respect the book adopts a dialogic approach according to which a shared set of normative beliefs and values are formulated as a theoretical tool to identify deficiencies in the regulatory arrangements for medical products Drawing on several Australian cases studies characterised by divergent normative perspectives the book develops its dialogic approach in order to challenge the usual legitimisation of regulatory regimes from the perspective of science alone Specifically it maintains that such regimes need to embrace a normative pluralism that admits a diversity of types and sources of knowledge This evaluation of the increasingly influential domain of medical regulation will appeal to a range of scholars and practitioners working in law public health politics and science and technology studies
