David James Cantor, 2018-04-24 By 2017 it was estimated that over 40 million people were displaced within their own countries by conflict and violence across at least 56 countries worldwide Solutions to the epidemic of forced internal displacement are frequently premised on the return of internally displaced persons IDPs Indeed as a characteristic need of IDPs such returns benefit from a special protection framework developed by IDP protection instruments such as the Guiding Principles However the legal status of those instruments remains ambiguous generating attendant questions about the congruity of the IDP return framework with existing international law Moreover limited knowledge exists on its practical implementation As a result both international agencies and individual scholars have repeatedly issued urgent calls for comprehensive and grounded theoretical investigation into this topic This book answers those long standing calls for research by presenting a detailed study of the return of conflict affected IDPs under international law Returning

Head,2020-12-15 Drawing on the Homeric epics this multidisciplinary work reveals the cultural transformations which need to take place in order to transition from today s modern extractive agricultural system to a sustainable natural systems agriculture In order to provide an imaginative foundation on which to build such a cultural transformation the author draws on the oldest and most pervasive pair of literary works in the Western canon the Iliad and the Odyssey He uses themes from those foundational literary works to critique the concept of state sovereignty and to explain how innovative federalism structures around the world already show momentum building toward changes in global environmental governance The book proposes a dramatic expansion on those innovations to create eco states responsible for agroecological management Drawing from many years of experience in international institutions the author proposes a system of coordination by which an international agroecology focused organization would simultaneously i avoid the shortcomings of the world s current family of powerful global institutions and ii help create and implement a reformed system of local landscape based agriculture wholly consistent with ecological principles Acknowledging the difficulty of achieving reforms such as these the author suggests that a new cultural conceptual narrative can be constructed drawing on values set forth 2 700 years ago in the Homeric epics He explains how these values can be reimagined to drive forward our efforts in addressing today s the climate and agricultural crises in ways that reflect not reject the natural processes and relationships that make the Earth a living planet This book will be of great interest to students academics and policymakers addressing issues of agrarian values environmental and agricultural law environmental restoration agroecology and global institutional reform Big Data Applications and Services 2017 Wookey Lee,Carson K.
