Companion Species Mathilde van Dijk, 2024-11-28 This book explores the connection between saints and animals and how the power over animals has been a characteristic of saints from their beginnings in the Early Church The connection between saints and humans is examined with the saint as a human rising beyond humanity touching the divine and the non human animal as a creature which is connected to and yet removed from humanity and which may have a connection to the sacred itself This volume transcends traditional religious boundaries by including Christian saints as well as similar figures in Islam and Norse religions It operates on the cusp of two exciting and innovative fields hagiographic and animal studies It shows the complexities of human animal interaction and the sacred authorities clashing with experiential knowledge metaphorical animals as opposed to real animals ranging from helpers or opponents of saints disguises of demons or identity markers of a human community Companion Species will be of value to scholars and students interested in medieval history Europe and religion as well as social and cultural history of composition Richard North raises some old questions relating to the poet's influences from Vergil and from living Danes Norse analogues are discussed in order to identify how the poet changed his heroic sources while four episodes from Beowulf are shown to be reworked from passages in Vergil's Aeneid One chapter assesses how the poem's Latin sources might correspond with what is known of Beowulf's now lost library while another seeks to explain Danish mythology in Beowulf by arguing that Beowulf hosted a meeting with Danish Vikings in 809 This fascinating and challenging new study combines careful detective work with meticulous literary analysis to form a case that no future investigation will be able to ignore
