Down the Road a Piece Joseph G Sissón,2022-01-27 It is summer 1957 Full of excitement and a sense of adventure a thirteen year old African American boy Gaylloyd embarks on an eye opening road trip with his parents and five brothers to meet relatives in the Deep South Gaylloyd

is a Boy Scout from San Diego who has grown up in diverse communities and attends a parochial school as his parents have worked hard to give him a better life. None of his life experiences though have prepared him for what he will learn on his journey across the United States on Route 66. As Gaylloyd's family passes through segregated states, Gaylloyd is cheerful, observant but naïve about the white public's reactions to them. For a time his parents have to dodge his questions about new things like the Dixie flag, separate restrooms, and Jim Crow. Finally, the family reaches Gaylloyd's father's isolated rural hometown of Winona, Mississippi, for a visit full of new experiences plus several traumatic events. Gaylloyd becomes angrier and more confused, blaming his dad for a host of confrontations and humiliations until his father explains to him the historical differences between the Deep South and the West Coast. With a new appreciation for his father's struggles growing up and insights into his country not yet taught in school, Gaylloyd has an epiphany that entering manhood is more than just a trip.

It was a time when neighbors all knew one another and took care of each other without question. A time when the stresses of the day were about making it home for dinner at six thirty when you were out playing in the woods a little too late. For Billy Blasedale, life is one adventure after another as he learns all about life, friendship, and the responsibility of growing up on a small family farm. Join Billy on this adventure and experience the simple life of rural America in the sixties and seventies in the eyes of a bright, energetic young boy.
