valuable resource provides readers with a wealth of factual detail and perceptive analysis of America's leading artists. This new edition has been updated to include a number of entries on prevailing topics such as body art, light and space, Indian American art, scatter art, and transactional art, and features many new or greatly expanded biographical entries on artists such as Ida Applebroog, Guerilla Girls, Peter Hujar, and Shirin Neshat. Morgan offers readers a wealth of authoritative information as well as well-informed analysis and criticism of artists and their work. Filled with fascinating historical background and penetrating insight, The Oxford Dictionary of American Art and Artists is an essential resource for art lovers everywhere.

Twentieth-Century American Art Erika Doss, 2002-04-26 Jackson Pollock, Georgia O'Keeffe, Andy Warhol, Julian Schnabel, and Laurie Anderson are just some of the major American artists of the twentieth century. From the 1893 Chicago World's Fair to the 2000 Whitney Biennial, a rapid succession of art movements and different styles reflected the extreme changes in American culture and society as well as America's position within the international art world. This exciting new look at twentieth-century American art explores the relationships between American art museums and audiences in the century that came to be called the American century. Extending beyond New York, it covers the emergence of Feminist art in Los Angeles in the 1970s, the Black art movement, the expansion of galleries and art schools, and the highly political public controversies surrounding arts funding. All the key movements are fully discussed, including early American Modernism, the New Negro movement, Regionalism, Abstract Expressionism, Pop Art, and Neo Expressionism.

Making Images Move Gregory Zinman, 2020-01-03 Making Images Move reveals a new history of cinema by uncovering its connections to other media and art forms. In this richly illustrated volume, Gregory Zinman explores how moving-image artists who worked in experimental film pushed the medium toward abstraction through a number of unconventional filmmaking practices, including painting and scratching directly on the film strip, deteriorating film with water, dirt, and bleach, and applying materials such as paper and glue. This book provides a comprehensive history of this tradition of handmade cinema from the early twentieth century to the present, opening up new conversations about the production, meaning, and significance of the moving image. From painted film to kinetic art and from psychedelic light shows to video synthesis, Gregory Zinman recovers the range of forms, tools, and intentions that make up cinema's shadow history, deepening awareness of the intersection of art and media in the twentieth century and anticipating what is to come.

Allan Kaprow, Robert Smithson, and the Limits to Art Philip Ursprung, Fiona Elliott, 2013-05-10 This innovative study of two of the most important artists of the twentieth century links the art practices of Allan Kaprow and Robert Smithson in their attempts to test the limits of art, both what it is and where it is. Ursprung provides a sophisticated yet accessible analysis, placing the two artists firmly in the art world of the 1960s as well as in the art-historical discourse of the following decades. Although their practices were quite different, they both extended the studio and gallery into desert landscapes, abandoned warehouses, industrial sites, train stations, and other spaces. Ursprung bolsters his argument with substantial archival research and sociological and economic models of expansion and limits

History of Art Horst Woldemar Janson, Anthony F.

Janson, 2004 For forty years this widely acclaimed classic has remained unsurpassed as an introduction to art in the Western world boasting the matchless credibility of the Janson name This newest update features a more contemporary more colorful design and vast array of extraordinarily produced illustrations that have become the Janson hallmark A narrative voice makes this book a truly enjoyable read and carefully reviewed and revised updates to this edition offer the utmost clarity in contributions based on recent scholarship Extensive captions for the book's incredible art program offer profound insight through the eyes of twentieth century art historians speaking about specific pieces of art featured throughout Significantly changed in this edition is the chapter on The Late Renaissance in which Janson offers a new perspective on the subject tracing in detail the religious art tied to the Catholic Reform movement whose early history is little known to many readers of art history Janson has also rearranged early Renaissance art according to genres instead of time sequence and he has followed the reinterpretation of Etruscan art begun in recent years by German and English art historians With a truly humanist approach this book gives written and visual meaning to the captivating story of what artists have tried to express and why for more than 30 000 years

Art as Organism

Charissa N. Terranova, 2015-10-10 What if modernism had been characterised by evolving interconnected and multi sensory images rather than by the monolithic objects often described by its artists and theorists In this groundbreaking book Charissa Terranova unearths a forgotten narrative of modernism which charts the influence that biology General Systems Theory and cybernetics had on art in the twentieth century From kinetic and interactive art to early computer art and installations spanning an entire city she shows that the digital image was a rich and expansive artistic medium of modernism

Material Modernity

Deborah Ascher Barnstone, Maria Makela, 2022-01-27 Material Modernity explores creative innovation in German art design and architecture during the Weimar Republic charting both the rise of new media and the re fashioning of old media Weimar became famous for the explosion of creative ingenuity across the arts in Germany due to experiments with new techniques including the move towards abstraction in painting and sculpture and inventive work in such new media as paper and plastic which utilized both new and old methods of art production Individual chapters in this book consider inventions such as the camera and materials like celluloid examine the role of new materials including concrete composites in opening up fresh avenues in the plastic arts and relate advances in the understanding of color perception and psychology to an increased interest in visual perception and the latent potential of color as both architectural ornament and carrier of emotional force in space While art historians usually argue that experimentation in the Weimar Republic was the result of an intentional rejection of traditional modes of expression in the conscious attempt to invent a modern art and architecture unshackled from historic media and methods this volume shows that the drivers for innovation were often far more complex and nuanced It first of all describes how the material shortages precipitated by the First World War along with the devastation to industrial infrastructure and disruption of historic trade routes affected art as did a spirit of experimentation that permeated interwar German culture It then analyzes new challenges in the 1920s to artistic conventions in traditional art modes like painting sculpture drawing architecture textiles and print making and simultaneously probes the likely causes of innovative new methods of artistic production that appeared such as photomontage assemblage mechanical art and multi media art In doing so Material Modernity fills a significant gap in Weimar scholarship and art history literature Historical Dictionary of Contemporary Art Ann Lee Morgan,2016-12-05 The Historical Dictionary of Contemporary Art illuminates important artists styles and movements of the past 70 years Beginning with the immediate post World War II period it encompasses earlier 20th century masters including Pablo Picasso Henri Matisse Henry Moore Alberto Giacometti Joan Mir Jean Dubuffet Stuart Davis Georgia O Keeffe and other well known figures who remained creatively productive while also inspiring younger generations The book covers subsequent developments including abstract expressionism happenings pop art minimalism conceptual art arte povera feminist art photorealism neo expressionism and postmodernism as well as the contributions of such artists as Jackson Pollock Willem de Kooning Mark Rothko Helen Frankenthaler Joan Mitchell Robert Rauschenberg David Hockney Ellsworth Kelly Francis Bacon Louise Bourgeois Lucio Fontana Andy Warhol Richard Serra Donald Judd Joseph Beuys Christo Anselm Kiefer Judy Chicago Ai Weiwei and Jeff Koons Historical Dictionary of Contemporary Art contains a chronology an introduction and an extensive bibliography including more than 900 cross referenced entries on important artists styles terms and movements This book is an excellent resource for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about contemporary art Notes on Participatory Art Gustaf Almenberg,2010-12-02 We are living in the Age of Participation Social media are exploding customer cooperation is sought in product development and customer content is even built into media But where is the art reflecting our times Where are the artists making this kind of art Who were their predecessors In this book the author traces the roots of Participatory Art from Duchamp Mondrian and Moholy Nagy via less well known artists like Lygia Clark and Charlotte Posenenske as well as via better known artists like Joseph Beuys and yvind Fahlstrm to contemporary artists showing an interest in participation like Olafur Eliasson and Antony Gormley Participation is the most important thing that has happened in art Gormley said in 2009 What then is Participatory Art After around 40 years of practice the author tries to distill the essential principles in 10 suggestions for a Manifesto Most central is its focus on the unfolding creative moment itself and on the creativity of the spectator Made in Los Angeles Rachel Rivenc, 2016-04-01 In the 1960s a group of Los Angeles artists fashioned a body of work that has come to be known as the LA Look or West Coast Minimalism Its distinct aesthetic is characterized by clean lines simple shapes and pristine reflective or translucent surfaces and often by the use of bright seductive colors While the role of materials and processes in the advent of these truly indigenous Los Angeles art forms has often been commented on it has never been studied in depth until now Made in Los Angeles focuses on four pioneers of West Coast Minimalism Larry Bell Robert Irwin Craig Kauffman and John McCracken whose working methods often borrowed from other industries featured the use of synthetic paints and resins as well as industrial processes to create objects that are both painting and sculpture Bell for example coated plate glass with films of material that alter the way the light is absorbed reflected and transmitted while Kauffman employed a process usually reserved for commercial signs for his work McCracken coated plywood with fiberglass then spray painted it with countless layers of automotive paints and Irwin spray painted discs of hammered aluminum or vacuum formed plastics The detailed study of each artist's work is presented in the context of the emergence of modern art in Los Angeles the burgeoning mid twentieth century gallery scene and the light infused LA cityscape Initially undertaken as part of the Pacific Standard Time Art in L A 1945 1980 initiative this volume combines technical art history and scientific analysis to investigate conservation issues associated with the work of these artists which are often emblematic of issues in the conservation of contemporary art in general Atmospheres of Projection Giuliana Bruno, 2022-10-20 Bringing together cultural history visual studies and media archaeology Bruno considers the interrelations of projection atmosphere and environment Projection has long been transforming space from shadow plays to camera obscuras and magic lantern shows Our fascination with projection is alive on the walls of museums and galleries and woven into our daily lives Giuliana Bruno explores the histories of projection and atmosphere in visual culture and their continued importance to contemporary artists who are reinventing the projective imagination with atmospheric thinking and the use of elemental media To explain our fascination with projection and atmosphere Bruno traverses psychoanalysis environmental philosophy architecture the history of science visual art and moving image culture to see how projective mechanisms and their environments have developed over time She reveals how atmosphere is formed and mediated how it can change and what projection can do to modify a site In so doing she gives new life to the alchemic possibilities of transformative projective atmospheres Showing how their environmentality produces sites of exchange and relationality this book binds art to the ecology of atmosphere Art of the 20th Century Karl Ruhrberg, Klaus Honnef, Manfred Schneckenburger, Christiane Fricke, 2000 The original edition of this ambitious reference was published in hardcover in 1998 in two oversize volumes
