Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1972      In Defense of American Higher Education Philip G. Altbach, Patricia J. Gumpert, D. Bruce Johnstone, 2003-04-30 The current era in higher education is characterized by increased need for accountability and fiscal constraint coupled with demands for increased productivity Higher education is expected to meet the demand of changing student demographics as well as requests for research and service from government and industry To preserve the academy's ability to meet these demands the editors and contributors to this volume argue that while change is inevitable and desirable any radical alterations to the practices that have established and upheld the excellence of higher education in the United States must be carefully considered The editors and contributors cherish the best ideals of higher education academic freedom commitment to both inquiry and teaching and preservation of an independence of mind and spirit in the face of external pressures At the same time the authors of these essays also reflect upon the failings of higher education including problematic historical legacies such as racism sexism and anti semitism In Defense of American Higher Education is a careful analysis of what we have inherited undertaken with a critical eye for constructive reform It will be of interest to anyone concerned about the future of American higher education

The Hidden Professoriate Arthur Wilke, 1979-03-28 Wilke has called upon sociologists observers as well as victims of the caste system to describe by use of case studies and to analyze the plight of non tenured faculty and their efforts to survive in an increasingly hostile environment These stories reveal the human factor too often slighted or forgotten in discussions of the precarious place of the university in today's society      The National Union Catalogs, 1963-, 1964      Resources in Education, 2001-04      Campus Challenge Edward Wight Bakke, Mary S. Bakke, 1971 Comparison based on interviews with students in Mexico Colombia India and Japan of youth unrest and student social movements and of the phenomenon as it has recently become manifest in the USA covers political activity psychological aspects individualism and alienation educational systems relations with the police etc and states that the explanation of student activism focuses on the ineffectiveness of the fusion process Bibliography pp 541 to 562      Planning For Higher Education Allan O. Pfnister,2019-06-10 This book focuses on some of the last decade s more significant writing about developments in higher education planning organizing the wide ranging commentaries and studies to show the administrator the faculty member and the informed layman what the current status of higher education appears to be      Law and Ethics in Academic and Student Affairs Michelle L.

Boettcher,Cristóbal Salinas Jr.,2023-10-23 This valuable resource provides academic and student affairs practitioners with the tools to make informed legal and ethical decisions in their college and university contexts Law is constantly changing and is interpreted differently from campus to campus based on institutional culture and history This text provides higher education practitioners with tools to anticipate practical and responsible action engaging readers in anticipatory and reflective practice In this text Boettcher and Salinas introduce the Institutional Intelligence Model a helpful framework that guides practitioners in examining a wide variety of campus issues Throughout the book readers can explore perspectives from current practitioners and utilize case studies to examine specific topics including admissions academics student living confidential resources and graduate student experiences By using the strategies in this book practitioners will be equipped to successfully navigate legal and ethical issues on their campuses This text is ideal for graduate students student and academic affairs professionals and those in leadership positions responsible for working with and supporting students and staff teams

"I Love Learning; I Hate School" Susan D. Blum, 2016-01-13 Frustrated by her students performance her relationships with them and her own daughter s problems in school Susan D Blum a professor of anthropology set out to understand why her students found their educational experience at a top tier institution so profoundly difficult and unsatisfying Through her research and in conversations with her students she discovered a troubling mismatch between the goals of the university and the needs of students In I Love Learning I Hate School Blum tells two intertwined but inseparable stories the results of her research into how students learn contrasted with the way conventional education works and the personal narrative of how she herself was transformed by this understanding Blum concludes that the dominant forms of higher education do not match the myriad forms of learning that help students people in general master meaningful and worthwhile skills and knowledge Students are capable of learning huge amounts but the ways higher education is structured often leads them to fail to learn More than that it leads to ill effects In this critique of higher education infused with anthropological insights Blum explains why so much is going wrong and offers suggestions for how to bring classroom learning more in line with appropriate forms of engagement She challenges our system of education and argues for a reintegration of learning with life
