

Do birds come from dinosaurs?

Evolution of birds is a debate topic in science. The most widespread theory says that they come from the Theropods, dinosaurs that walked on two legs. Fossils of specimens with feathers have been found, and the Archaeopteryx, which lived 150 millions of years ago is the oldest relative known. Covered with feathers, it had a primitive wing and it flew. However, it kept a good amount of dinosaurian features.

STRANGE BIRD

The Archaeopteryx lithographica is the most primitive bird known. It lived in the Jurassic, 150 years ago. It was carnivorous and about 50 cm of height, and 20 long, similar to a crow. Its features make it the closest model to observe the transition between dinosaurs and birds.

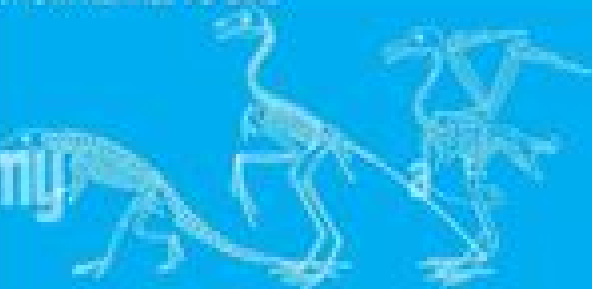

OTHER THEORIES

A second theory says that birds came from the first cynodonts, which were small mammals with claws. The third one says that they came from the first amphibians, along with the first reptiles. There are also theories about the origin of birds from the first fish.
