Web Search: Public Searching of the Web Amanda Spink, Bernard J. Jansen, 2006-02-21 This book brings together results from the Web search studies we conducted from 1997 through 2004 The aim of our studies has been twofold to examine how the public at large searches the Web and to highlight trends in public Web searching The eight year period from 1997 to 2004 saw the beginnings and maturity of public Web searching Commercial Web search engines have come and gone or endured through the fall of the dot com companies We saw the rise and in some cases the demise of several high profile publicly available Web search engines The study of the Web search is an exciting and important area of interdisciplinary research Our book provides a valuable insight into the growth and development of human interaction with Web search engines In this book our focus is on the human aspect of the interaction between user and Web search engine We do not investigate the Web search engines themselves or their constantly changing interfaces algorithms and features We focus on exploring the cognitive and user aspects of public Web searching in the aggregate We use a variety of quantitative and qualitative methods within the overall methodology known as transaction log analysis

Web Search Amanda Spink, Michael Zimmer, 2008-09-16 The inspiration for this book emerged from the editors participation in a panel discussion on Web search engines at an annual meeting of the Association of Internet Researchers This multidisciplinary panel of Web search researchers revealed the diversity of scholars interested in Web searching coupled with a broad range of questions attitudes and approaches It became clear that more cross fertilization was necessary between the disciplines to ensure Web search engines the entities and Web searching the user behavior received the thorough scholarly attention they deserved This book is a result of that realization and an important first step in achieving new levels of awareness and collaboration across disciplines The book represents a core theme within the intellectual pursuits of the editors The first editor Spink is an information scientist who has worked with taught and has researched the informational dimensions of Web searching since 1997 The second editor Zimmer is a scholar of culture and communication who focuses on the political and ethical dimensions of new media and information technologies and whose dissertation research focused on the value related consequences of the quest for the perfect search engine Web Health Information Resource Guide Eugene A.
