The Difficult Politics of Peace Christopher

Clary, 2022-05-17 A sweeping and theoretically original analysis of the India Pakistan rivalry from 1947 to the present Since their mutual independence in 1947 India and Pakistan have been engaged in a fierce rivalry Even today both rivals continue to devote enormous resources to their military competition even as they face other pressing challenges at home and abroad Why and when do rival states pursue conflict or cooperation In The Difficult Politics of Peace Christopher Clary provides a systematic examination of war making and peace building in the India Pakistan rivalry from 1947 to the present Drawing upon new evidence from recently declassified documents and policymaker interviews the book traces India and Pakistan s complex history to explain patterns in their enduring rivalry and argues that domestic politics have often overshadowed strategic interests It shows that Pakistan s dangerous civil military relationship and India s fractious coalition politics have frequently stymied leaders that attempted to build a more durable peace between the South Asian rivals In so doing Clary offers a revised understanding of the causes of war and peace that brings difficult and sometimes dangerous domestic politics to the forefront

The Overcoming of History in War and Peace

Jeff Love, 2004 The Overcoming of History in War and Peace marks a radical departure from the critical tradition dominated by Sir Isaiah Berlin s view that the novel is deeply divided against itself a majestically flawed contest of brilliant art and clumsy thought To the contrary Jeff Love argues that the apparently divided nature of the text its multi leveled negotiation between different kinds of representation expresses the rich variety of the novel s very deliberate striving to capture the fluidity of change and becoming in the fixed forms of language The inevitable failure of this striving revealing the irreducible conflict between infinite desire and finite capacity is at once the source of new beginnings and the repetition of old ones a wellspring of continually renewed promises to achieve a synoptic vision of the whole that the novel cannot fulfill This repetitive struggle between essentially comic and tragic conceptions of human action far from being a pervasive flaw in the texture of the novel in fact constitutes its dynamic center and principal trope as well as the productive origin of the unusual features that distinguish it as an uncommonly bold narrative experiment

PEACE PSYCHOLOGY Akif Manaf, The

Between Peace and War Richard Ned Lebow, 2020-08-31 This is an updated edition of the now classic original of the same title It has three new substantial chapters a prologue a chapter on new evidence on World War I and an epilogue The updated edition contains the now famous typology of international crisis the original critique of deterrence the emphasis on agency and the turn to political psychology to explain sharp departures from rational policy making The new chapters update and reevaluate these arguments and approach a critical hindsight assessment in light of post Cold War developments

Peace Education Evaluation Celina Del Felice, Aaron Karako, Andria Wisler, 2015-05-01 Practice and research of peace education has grown in the recent years as shown by a steadily increasing number of publications programs events and funding mechanisms The oft cited point of departure for the peace education community is the belief in education as a valuable tool for decreasing the use of violence in conflict and for building cultures of positive peace hallmarked by just and equitable structures Educators and organizations implementing peace education activities and programming however often lack the tools and capacities for evaluation and thus pay scant regard to this step in program management Reasons for this inattention are related to the perceived urgency to prioritize new and more action in the context of scarce financial and human resources notwithstanding violence or conflict the lack of skills and time to indulge in a thorough evaluative strategy and the absence of institutional incentives and support Evaluation is often demand driven by donors who emphasize accounting given the current context of international development assistance and budget cuts Program evaluation is considered an added burden to already over tasked programmers who are unaware of the incentives and of assessment techniques Peace education practitioners are typically faced with forcing evaluation frameworks techniques and norms standardized for traditional education programs and venues Together these conditions create an unfavorable environment in which evaluation becomes under valued de prioritized and mythologized for its laboriousness This volume serves three inter related objectives First it offers a critical reflection on theoretical and methodological issues regarding evaluation applied to peace education interventions and programming The overarching questions of the nature of peace and the principles guiding peace education as well as governing theories and assumptions of change transformation and complexity are explored Second the volume investigates existing quantitative qualitative and mixed methods evaluation practices of peace educators in order to identify what needs related to evaluation persist among practitioners Promising practices are presented from peace education programming in different settings formal and non formal education within various groups e g children youth police journalists and among diverse cultural contexts Finally the volume proposes ideas of evaluation novel techniques for experimentation and creative adaptation of tools from related fields in order to offer pragmatic and philosophical substance
