Peace And World Security Studies A Curriculum Guide:

Peace and World Security Studies Michael T. Klare, 1994 New edition of a guide first published in 1972 as a resource for college and university faculty It features a diverse collection of essays on new themes in peace and conflict studies and on new approaches to their teaching as well as several dozen syllabi selected for their excellence in presenting particular topics No index Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Peace, Justice, and Security Studies Timothy A. McElwee, 2009 Fully revised to reflect the realities of the post September 11 world this reference provides a comprehensive review of the field of peace justice and security studies Seven introductory essays cover the state of the discipline today surveying current intellectual and pedagogical themes Theory of World Security Ken Booth, 2007-12-20 What is real What can we know How might we act This book sets out to answer these fundamental philosophical questions in a radical and original theory of security for our times Arguing that the concept of security in world politics has long been imprisoned by conservative thinking Ken Booth explores security as a precious instrumental value which gives individuals and groups the opportunity to pursue the invention of humanity rather than live determined and diminished lives Booth suggests that human society globally is facing a set of converging historical crises He looks to critical social theory and radical international theory to develop a comprehensive framework for understanding the historical challenges facing global business as usual and for planning to reconstruct a more cosmopolitan future Theory of World Security is a challenge both to well established ways of thinking about security and alternative approaches within critical security studies Handbook on Teaching Social Issues Ronald W. Evans, David W. Saxe, 2007-10-01 There's no book like this one for educators interested in issues centered teaching More than 40 experts have contributed articles offering comprehensive coverage of the field of social issues education In addition to a full examination of objectives and methods contributors show how social issues can be taught as part of history geography the social sciences and global and environmental studies. The challenges of assessment curriculum and effective teacher education are fully explored With its teaching ideas and useful resource section this book is an indispensable addition to your library Contributors include Shirley Engle Anna Ochoa Becker Jack Nelson Carole Hahn Byron Massialas Jeff Passe Jesus Garcia Gloria Ladson Billings Merry Merryfield Patricia Avery Sam Totten Bill Wraga Walter War and Public Health Barry S. Levy, Victor W. Sidel, 2000 Parker and James Shaver Handbook of Oil Politics Robert Looney, 2012-01-25 To many oil markets and their linkages to a whole spectrum of events remain something of a mystery Unfortunately most of the easily obtained information on oil is deeply flawed Whole web conspiracy sites depict ruthless insiders and reckless dictators manipulating energy markets at will The 30 essays in this volume written by the leading experts in the field attempt to set the record straight While their assessments may lack the sensationalism of many popular pundits serious readers will find their insights invaluable in the years to come in providing a framework for understanding many of the events of the day The five sections Politics of Oil Supply Political Responses Regional Dimensions Country Case

Studies and Key Issues for the Future give a comprehensive overview of the politics of oil world wide Internationalizing the Psychology Curriculum in the United States Frederick Leong, Wade E. Pickren, Mark M. Leach, Anthony J. Marsella, 2011-12-27 The psychology community recognizes that cultivating an international worldview is crucial not only to professionals and researchers but more importantly for professors and students of psychology as well It is critically necessary for psychologists to learn from their colleagues who are working in different cultural contexts in order to develop the type of knowledge and psychological understanding of human behavior that will be maximally useful to practitioners and researchers alike This volume Internationalizing the Psychology Curriculum in the United States provides information and resources to help psychology faculty educate and train future generations of psychologists within a much more international mindset and global perspective Recognizing that cultural context are central to a true and accurate psychology the authors describes how cultural economic political and social factors in different countries frame individual experience and affect the science and practice of psychology Each of the chapters will provide a content specific overview of how the curriculum in psychology with regards to social development clinical counseling psychology etc will need to be modified in order to present Peace Studies in the Chinese Century Alan Hunter, 2017-05-15 The rise of a much more global view of psychology China is probably the most significant shift in the international power structure this generation China's leaders have so far committed themselves to a peaceful rising but serious tensions are inevitable in such a rapid transformation Dialogue on peace and conflict issues at this juncture is invaluable This volume focuses on developments in peace research in a number of key countries and in particular introduces for the first time in English the perspectives of a number of Chinese scholars who have started to engage with peace studies agendas Comparisons are drawn from the UK USA Mexico Japan and South Africa to provide a better understanding of the debates on a global level and the discussion among different countries Some of the outstanding peace researchers who contribute to the volume include Andrew Rigby Johan Galtung who is generally considered to have founded the discipline in its current form and Ursula Oswald The volume is a valuable and unique contribution to the contemporary peace research agenda and will appeal to an interdisciplinary readership in peace studies sociology politics international relations religious studies philosophy and Asian studies The Evolution of International Security Studies Barry Buzan, Lene Hansen, 2009-08-27 International Security Studies ISS has changed and diversified in many ways since 1945 This book provides the first intellectual history of the development of the subject in that period It explains how ISS evolved from an initial concern with the strategic consequences of superpower rivalry and nuclear weapons to its current diversity in which environmental economic human and other securities sit alongside military security and in which approaches ranging from traditional Realist analysis to Feminism and Post colonialism are in play It sets out the driving forces that shaped debates in ISS shows what makes ISS a single conversation across its diversity and gives an authoritative account of debates on all the main topics within ISS This is an unparalleled survey of the literature and institutions of ISS that will be an invaluable guide for all students and scholars of ISS whether traditionalist new agenda or Defining War for the 21st Century Steven Metz, Phillip R. Cuccia, 2011 The Strategic Studies Institute s XXI critical Annual Strategy Conference held at Carlisle Barracks from April 6 8 2010 addressed the topic of the meaning of war While it did not seek to produce a definitive answer to questions about the nature and definition of war it did highlight the crucial questions and their implications including issues such as whether the cause of war is shifting whether all forms of organized politically focused violence constitute war and the distinction between passive and active war In the report which follows Steven Metz and Philip Cuccia of SSI have summarized the presentations and debates at the conference and placed them in their wider intellectual and strategic context John A Collected Essays 2 John Scales Avery, 2016-02-06 This book contains a collection of essays and articles by John Scales Avery discussing the severe problems and challenges which the world faces during the 21st century Human civilization and the biosphere are threatened by catastrophic climate change Unless rapid steps are taken to replace fossil fuels by 100% renewable energy we risk passing a tipping point beyond which uncontrollable feedback loops could produce a 6th extinction event comparable to those observed in the geological record Another serious threat to human civilization and the biosphere is the danger of a catastrophic thermonuclear war Over a long period of time there is an ever increasing risk that such a war will occur by accident or miscalculation Thirdly there is threat of an extremely serious and widespread famine produced by the climate change rapidly growing populations and the end of the fossil fuel era We must urgently address all three challenges Building Sustainable Societies: A Blueprint for a Post-industrial World Dennis Clark Pirages, 2016-09-16 A collection of articles addressing the issue of whether the industrial model of human progress can be sustained in the long term It asks what the social political economic and environmental implications as well as potential solutions to the problem of resource intensive growth are Reconciliation. Justice, and Coexistence Mohammed Abu-Nimer, 2001-05-23 Since the end of the Cold War several political agreements have been signed in attempts to resolve longstanding conflicts in such volatile regions as Northern Ireland Israel Palestine South Africa and Rwanda This is the first comprehensive volume that examines reconciliation justice and coexistence in the post settlement context from the levels of both theory and practice Mohammed Abu Nimer has brought together scholars and practitioners who discuss questions such as Do truth commissions work What are the necessary conditions for reconciliation Can political agreements bring reconciliation How can indigenous approaches be utilized in the process of reconciliation In addition to enhancing the developing field of peacebuilding by engaging new research questions this book will give lessons and insights to policy makers and anyone interested in post settlement issues Space-Age Science and Stone-Age Politics John Scales Avery, 2016-02-07 Space age science and stone age politics make an extraordinarily dangerous mixture It seems probable that in the future the rapidity of scientificand technological change will produce ethical dilemmas and social tensions even more acute than those we experience today It is likely that the fate of our species and the fate of the biosphere will be made precarious by the astonishing speed of scientific and technological change unless this progress is matched by the achievement of far greater ethical and political maturity than we have yet attained Peacebuilding and the Arts Jolyon Mitchell, Giselle Vincett, Theodora Hawksley, Hal Culbertson, 2019-11-19 Ending violent conflict requires societies to take leaps of political imagination Artistic communities are often uniquely placed to help promote new thinking by enabling people to see things differently In place of conflict s binary divisions artists are often charged with exploring the ambiguities and possibilities of the excluded middle Yet their role in peacebuilding remains little explored This excellent and agenda setting volume provides a ground breaking look at a range of artistic practices and the ways in which they have attempted to support peacebuilding a must read for all practitioners and policy makers and indeed other peacemakers looking for inspiration Professor Christine Bell FBA Professor of Constitutional Law Assistant Principal Global Justice and co director of the Global Justice Academy The University of Edinburgh UK Peacebuilding and the Arts offers an impressive and impressively comprehensive engagement with the role that visual art music literature film and theatre play in building peaceful and just societies Without idealizing the role of the arts the authors explore their potential and limits in a wide range of cases from Korea Cambodia Colombia and Northern Ireland to Uganda Rwanda South Africa and Israel Palestine Roland Bleiker Professor of International Relations University of Queensland Australia and author of Aesthetics and World Politics and Visual Global Politics Peacebuilding and the Arts is the first publication to focus critically and comprehensively on the relations between the creative arts and peacebuilding expanding the conventional boundaries of peacebuilding and conflict transformation to include the artist actor poet novelist dramatist musician dancer and film director The sections on the visual arts music literature film and theatre include case studies from very different cultures contexts and settings but a central theme is that the creative arts can play a unique and crucial role in the building of peaceful and just societies with the power to transform relationships heal wounds and nurture compassion and empathy Peacebuilding and the Arts is a vital and unique resource which will stimulate critical discussion and further research but it will also help to refine and reframe our understanding of peacebuilding While it will undoubtedly become mandatory reading for students of peacebuilding and the arts its original approach and dynamic exploratory style should attract a much wider interdisciplinary audience Professor Anna King Professor of Religious Studies and Social Anthropology and Director of Research Centre of Religion Reconciliation and Peace WCRRP University of Winchester UK This volume explores the relationship between peacebuilding and the arts Through a series of original essays authors consider some of the ways that different art forms including film theatre music literature dance and other forms of visual art can contribute to the processes and practices of building peace This book breaks new ground by setting out fresh ways of analysing the relationship between peacebuilding and the arts Divided into five sections on the Visual Arts Music Literature Film and Theatre Dance over 20 authors offer conceptual overviews of each art form as well as new case studies from around the globe and critical reflections on how the arts can contribute to peacebuilding As interest in the topic increases no other book approaches this complex relationship in the way that Peacebuilding and the Arts does By bringing together the insights of scholars and practitioners working at the intersection of the arts and peacebuilding this book develops a series of unique critical perspectives on the interaction of diverse art forms with a range of peacebuilding endeavours Islam and the Securitisation of Population Policies Katrina Riddell, 2016-05-06 There has been much scholarly debate on the politically disruptive capabilities of Islam and the threats to global security posed by or to Muslim states and societies but within this dialogue there has been little recognition of the role of population policies in security issues Katrina Riddell's study focuses specifically on Islam and the securitization of population policies and sustainability Opening with a discussion of contemporary population discourses and their historical foundations the book examines how population growth has become an international security issue The author takes the examples of Pakistan and Iran to provide a nuanced understanding of Muslim states interaction with global debates on sustainability She also explores how Muslim and non Muslim states societies and agents perceive issues of population growth and control Providing an innovative approach to the pursuit of global sustainability and security this book presents useful material to scholars whose research focuses on Islam and the future Flashpoints in Environmental Policymaking Sheldon Kamieniecki, George A. Gonzalez, Robert O. Vos, 1997-01-01 As a contribution to public policy and to help educate students about natural resource issues this book identifies the likely hot spots of environmental policy and presents alternative and often opposing points of view on the major controversies that are likely to be with us well into the next century Among the topics covered are comparative risk assessment market incentives in environmental regulation environmental justice public versus private management of public lands international trade and sustainable development and the relationship between national security and environmental protection International Social Work Lynne M. Healy, 2001 International Social Work Professional Action in an Interdependent World is a comprehensive introduction that places social work history practice policy and education within an international perspective Two main themes global interdependence and professional action are emphasized in this complete examination of an increasingly global profession The author provides a four part definition of international social work emphasizing competence for professional action in international aspects of domestic practice and policy professional exchange international development practice and policy formulation and advocacy at the global level The economic cultural environmental and social welfare implications of global interdependence are addressed through a discussion of resource utilization poverty structural adjustment and the debt crisis migration HIV AIDS and the rights of women and children A chapter on value and ethical dilemmas considers how context influences the ways in which social issues are approached and case examples from Asia Africa Europe South America and the Caribbean are used throughout the book to illustrate concepts The text concludes with an exploration of universal concepts for social work around the world including social development human rights multiculturalism social exclusion sustainability and security From direct service to policy and administration International Social Work Professional Action in an Interdependent World provides a thorough overview of the international dimensions of social work practice It is an essential text for all social work students and practitioners and provides a sound foundation for future academic and career exploration in international social work

The Political Economy of Peace and Security in Africa Adele Jinadu, 2000 A Feminist Voyage through International Relations J. Ann Tickner, 2014-02-03 J Ann Tickner is ranked among the most influential scholars of international relations As one of the founders of the field of feminist international relations she is also among the most pioneering In many ways her academic career has traced the development of the feminist subfield of IR and it is no overstatement to say that the field today would look much different without her groundbreaking contributions A Feminist Voyage through International Relations provides a compendium of Tickner's work as a feminist IR scholar from the late 1980s through today The book addresses the issue of methodology in feminist IR and the continuing challenge from traditional IR scholars that feminists don t perform legitimate scientific research Tickner introduces and contextualizes her previous writings with new essays that trace her intellectual development as a feminist scholar The chapters consider the introduction of women and gender into the conversation about IR as well as feminist methodological interventions and conversations with the IR mainstream The final section of the book includes some of Tickner's later writings on topics including race imperialism and religion She ends with thoughts on the present currents of feminist IR and its place within the wider discipline Given the way that her career has mirrored the evolution of the subfield Tickner's book provides a methodological and epistemological story of feminist interventions in IR and a thoughtful reflection on where the field is headed in the future
