Intercultural Dispute Resolution in Aboriginal Contexts Catherine Bell, David Kahane, 2007-10 In the last twenty years there has been a growing interest in alternative dispute resolution ADR as scholars and practitioners seek more effective context sensitive approaches to conflict Where formerly conflict was tackled and resolved in formal legal settings and with an adversarial spirit more conciliatory approaches negotiation mediation problem solving and arbitration are now gaining favour These new methods are proving especially appropriate in intercultural contexts particularly for Aboriginal land claims self government and community based disputes The essays collected here by Catherine Bell and David Kahane provide a balanced view of ADR exploring its opportunities and effectiveness alongside its challenges and limits The essays are international in scope with examples of efforts at dispute resolution involving Inuit and Arctic peoples Dene Gitksan and Wet suwet en Tsuu T ina Cree Metis Navajo Maori Aboriginal Australians and Torres Strait Islanders With contributions from Aboriginal and non Aboriginal theorists and practitioners Intercultural Dispute Resolution in Aboriginal Contexts presents an array of insightful perspectives This book will appeal to students and scholars of Aboriginal law and alternative dispute resolution legal and political theorists dispute resolution practitioners and anyone involved in struggles around land claims treaty and self government agreements in Canada or abroad

The Politics of Decolonial Investigations Walter D. Mignolo, 2021-07-09 In The Politics of Decolonial Investigations Walter D Mignolo provides a sweeping examination of how coloniality has operated around the world in its myriad forms from the sixteenth century to the twenty first Decolonial border thinking allows Mignolo to outline how the combination of the self fashioned narratives of Western civilization and the hegemony of Eurocentric thought served to eradicate all knowledges in non European languages and praxes of living and being Mignolo also traces the geopolitical origins of racialized and gendered classifications modernity globalization and cosmopolitanism placing them all within the framework of coloniality Drawing on the work of theorists and decolonial practitioners from the Global South and the Global East Mignolo shows how coloniality has provoked the emergence of decolonial politics initiated by delinking from all forms of Western knowledge and subjectivities The urgent task Mignolo stresses is the epistemic reconstitution of categories of thought and praxes of living destituted in the very process of building Western civilization and the idea of modernity The overcoming of the long lasting hegemony of the West and its distorted legacies is already underway in all areas of human existence Mignolo underscores the relevance of the politics of decolonial investigations in and outside the academy to liberate ourselves from canonized knowledge ways of knowing and praxes of living

Foundations of First Peoples' Sovereignty Ulrike Wiethaus, 2007 Foundations of First Peoples Sovereignty is an innovative collection of essays offering interdisciplinary perspectives on the topic of sovereignty for Indigenous nations Presenting contemporary initiatives and scholarship in the humanities on behalf of First Peoples the volume affirms and explores the dynamic interplay between tribal community action and reflection academic work and the commonalities shared by Indigenous nations globally

Home and Native Land May Chazan, Lisa Helps, Anna Stanley, Sonali Thakkar, 2011-07 Home and Native Land takes its vastly important topic and places it under a new penetrating light shifting focus from the present grounds of debate onto a more critical terrain The book s articles by some of the foremost critical thinkers and activists on issues of difference diversity and Canadian policy challenge sedimented thinking on the subject of multiculturalism Not merely another book on race relations national identity or the post 9 11 security environment this collection forges new and innovative connections by examining how multiculturalism relates to issues of migration security labour environment nature and land These novel pairings illustrate the continued power limitations and at times destructiveness of multiculturalism both as policy and as discourse

Publisher s note Routledge Handbook of Critical Indigenous Studies Brendan Hokowhitu, Aileen Moreton-Robinson, Linda Tuhiwai-Smith, Chris Andersen, Steve Larkin, 2020-12-30 The Routledge Handbook of Critical Indigenous Studies is the first comprehensive overview of the rapidly expanding field of Indigenous scholarship The book is ambitious in scope ranging across disciplines and national boundaries with particular reference to the lived conditions of Indigenous peoples in the first world The contributors are all themselves Indigenous scholars who provide critical understandings of indigeneity in relation to ontology ways of being epistemology ways of knowing and axiology ways of doing with a view to providing insights into how Indigenous peoples and communities engage and examine the worlds in which they are immersed Sections include Indigenous Sovereignty Indigeneity in the 21st Century Indigenous Epistemologies The Field of Indigenous Studies Global Indigeneity This handbook contributes to the re centring of Indigenous knowledges providing material and ideational

analyses of social political and cultural institutions and critiquing and considering how Indigenous peoples situate themselves within outside and in relation to dominant discourses dominant postcolonial cultures and prevailing Western thought This book will be of interest to scholars with an interest in Indigenous peoples across Literature History Sociology Critical Geographies Philosophy Cultural Studies Postcolonial Studies Native Studies M ori Studies Hawaiian Studies Native American Studies Indigenous Studies Race Studies Queer Studies Politics Law and Feminism Indigenous Aspirations and Structural Reform in Australia Harry Hobbs,2021-01-28 Can the Australian state be restructured to empower Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and ensure that their distinct voices are heard in the processes of government This book provides an answer to that question for Australia and provides guidance for all states that claim jurisdiction and authority over the traditional lands of Indigenous peoples By engaging directly with Indigenous peoples nuanced and complex aspirations this book presents a viable model for structural reform It does so by adopting a distinctive and innovative approach drawing on Indigenous scholarship globally it presents a coherent and compelling account of Indigenous peoples political aspirations through the concept of sovereignty It then articulates those themes into a set of criteria legible to Australia s system of governance This original perspective produces a culturally informed metric to assess institutional mechanisms and processes designed to empower Indigenous peoples Reflecting the Uluru Statement from the Heart s call for a First Nations Voice the book applies the criteria to one specific institutional mechanism Indigenous representative bodies It analyses in detail the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Commission and the Swedish S mi Parliament a representative body for the Indigenous people of Sweden In examining the S mi Parliament the book draws on a rich source of primary and secondary untranslated Swedish language sources resulting in the most comprehensive English language exploration of this unique institution Highlighting the opportunities and challenges of Indigenous representative bodies the book concludes by presenting a novel and informed model for structural reform in Australia that meets Indigenous aspirations Science, Colonialism, and Indigenous Peoples Laurelyn Whitt,2009-08-24 Examines how contemporary relations between indigenous and Western nations are shaped by the dynamics of power the politics of property and the apologetics of law "That the People Might Live" Arnold Krupat,2012-11-15 The word elegy comes from the Ancient Greek elogos meaning a mournful poem or song in particular a song of grief in response to loss Because mourning and memorialization are so deeply embedded in the human condition all human societies have developed means for lamenting the dead and in That the People Might Live Arnold Krupat surveys the traditions of Native American elegiac expression over several centuries Krupat covers a variety of oral performances of loss and renewal including the Condolence Rites of the Iroquois and the memorial ceremony of the Tlingit people known as koo eex examining as well a number of Ghost Dance songs which have been reinterpreted in culturally specific ways by many different tribal nations Krupat treats elegiac farewell speeches of the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries in considerable detail and comments on retrospective autobiographies by Black Hawk and Black Elk

Among contemporary Native writers he looks at elegiac work by Linda Hogan N Scott Momaday Gerald Vizenor Sherman Alexie Maurice Kenny and Ralph Salisbury among others Despite differences of language and culture he finds that death and loss are consistently felt by Native peoples both personally and socially someone who had contributed to the People's well being was now gone Native American elegiac expression offered mourners consolation so that they might overcome their grief and renew their will to sustain communal life

Neoliberal Indigenous Policy Elizabeth Strakosch, 2016-02-05 This book examines recent changes to Indigenous policy in English speaking settler states and locates them within the broader shift from social to neo liberal framings of citizen state relations via a case study of Australian federal policy between 2000 and 2007

Pathways of Settler Decolonization Lynne Davis, Jeffrey Denis, Raven Sinclair, 2020-05-06 Although settler colonialism is a deeply entrenched structural problem Indigenous peoples have always resisted it and sought to protect their land sovereignty and treaties Some settlers have aimed to support Indigenous peoples in these struggles This book examines what happens when settlers engage with and attempt to transform settler colonial systems What does decolonizing action look like What roles can settlers play What challenges complexities and barriers arise And what opportunities and possibilities emerge The authors emphasize the need for settlers to develop long term relationships of accountability with Indigenous peoples and the land participate in meaningful dialogue and respect Indigenous laws and jurisdiction Writing from multiple disciplinary lenses and focusing on diverse research settings from Turtle Island North America to Palestine the authors show that transforming settler colonial relations and consciousness is an ongoing iterative and unsettling process that occurs through social justice focused action critical self reflection and dynamic yet committed relationships with Indigenous peoples This book was originally published as a special issue of Settler Colonial Studies

Canada's Indigenous Constitution John Borrows, 2010-03-06 Canada's Indigenous Constitution reflects on the nature and sources of law in Canada beginning with the conviction that the Canadian legal system has helped to engender the high level of wealth and security enjoyed by people across the country However longstanding disputes about the origins legitimacy and applicability of certain aspects of the legal system have led John Borrows to argue that Canada's constitution is incomplete without a broader acceptance of Indigenous legal traditions With characteristic richness and eloquence John Borrows explores legal traditions the role of governments and courts and the prospect of a multi juridical legal culture all with a view to understanding and improving legal processes in Canada He discusses the place of individuals families and communities in recovering and extending the role of Indigenous law within both Indigenous communities and Canadian society more broadly This is a major work by one of Canada's leading legal scholars and an essential companion to Drawing Out Law A Spirit's

Guide Indigenous Poetics in Canada Neal McLeod, 2014-05-16 Indigenous Poetics in Canada broadens the way in which Indigenous poetry is examined studied and discussed in Canada Breaking from the parameters of traditional English literature studies this volume embraces a wider sense of poetics including Indigenous oralities languages and understandings of place Featuring work by academics and poets the book examines four elements of Indigenous poetics First it explores the poetics of memory collective memory the persistence of Indigenous poetic consciousness and the relationships that enable the Indigenous storytelling process The book then explores the poetics of performance Indigenous poetics exist both in written form and in relation to an audience Third in an examination of the poetics of place and space the book considers contemporary Indigenous poetry and classical Indigenous narratives Finally in a section on the poetics of medicine contributors articulate the healing and restorative power of Indigenous poetry and narratives

Expanding the Edges of Narrative Inquiry Laura E.
