Peace War And Gods Justice:

Peace, War and God's Justice Thomas D. Parker, Brian John Fraser, 1989 The Reformers on War, Peace, and Justice Timothy J. Demy, Mark J. Larson, J. Daryl Charles, 2019-09-23 Conflict and war were common during the Reformation era Throughout the sixteenth century rising religious and political tensions led to frequent conflict and culminated in the Thirty Years War 1618-48 that devastated much of Germany and killed one third of its population Some of the warfare as in central and southern Europe was between Christians and Muslims Other warfare in central and northwestern Europe was confessional warfare between Catholics and Protestants Religion was not the only cause of war during the period Revolts territorial ambitions and the beginnings of the contemporary nation state system and international order that emerged after the Treaty of Westphalia 1648 also fueled the trauma and tragedy of war In many ways the world of the Reformers and Protestant Reformation was a violent world and it was within such a sociopolitical framework that the Reformers and their followers lived worked and died This book introduces the teachings of the Protestant Reformers on war and peace in their context before offering relevant primary source readings Politics, Justice, and War Joseph E. Capizzi, 2015-05-14 The just war ethic emerges from an affirmative response to the basic question of whether people may sometimes permissibly intend to kill other people In Politics, Justice, and War Joseph E. Capizzi clarifies the meaning and coherence of the just war approach to the use of force in the context of Christian ethics By reconnecting the just war ethic to an Augustinian political approach Capizzi illustrates that the just war ethic requires emphasis on the right intention or goal of peace as ordered justice With peace set as the goal of war the various criteria of the just war ethic gain their intelligibility and help provide practical guidance to all levels of society regarding when to go to war and how to strive to contain it So conceived the ethic places stringent limits on noncombatant or innocent killing in war helps make sense of contemporary technological and strategic challenges and opens up space for a critical and constructive dialogue with international law Five Risks Presbyterians Must Take for Peace Christian Iosso, 2017-09-30 Believing peacemaking to be an inherent part of discipleship Presbyterians have taken many valiant stands for peace throughout our history However changing global realities political and military actions and new weapons of war have made the world less safe than ever The church must reconsider how to be faithful peacemakers in this changing reality The Presbyterian Church recently spent six years reflecting on peacemaking Building on past policy documents people at all levels of the church studied and discussed what peacemaking policies needed to be modified given the world context today The 2016 PC USA General Assembly affirmed five affirmations the church must make to fulfill its peacemaking calling Those affirmations become risks when truly taken because their message collides with the demands for continued sacrifice by the powers that be In this timely resource author Christian Iosso explains what the five risks are how they differ from previous positions and what taking each risk might look like today Ideal for individual or group study this important resource includes questions for reflection and discussion Islam, Peace and Social Justice A Christian

van Gorder,2014-05-29 Islam Peace and Social Justice examines the ways in which Islamic cultures have dealt with issues of social justice historically and culturally With unwavering objectivity the author helps readers of any faith to gain a nuanced and accurate understanding of the challenges that we face in contemporary multifaith engagements Dr van Gorder offers a comprehensive and sympathetic Christian insight into Islam The contentious issues of social justice that are encountered in this broad yet intricate study include the concept of Jihad poverty political oppression human rights genocide racism sexual injustice homophobia and environmental degradation The challenges are real and the problems are vast partnerships and solutions must be found people of faith Muslim Jewish and Christian must find ways to work together to address these shared challenges This work exposes misrepresentations and stereotypes about Islamic views of social justice that abound in Europe and North America The author encourages a deeper appreciation of how themes of social justice resound through Islamic texts and have been expressed both in the contemporary and historical life of various and diverse Islamic communities worldwide

Snyder Belousek,2012 In this substantial study Darrin W Snyder Belousek offers a comprehensive and critical examination of penal substitution the most widely accepted evangelical Protestant theory of atonement and presents a biblically grounded theologically orthodox alternative Attending to all of the relevant biblical texts and engaging with the full spectrum of scholarship Belousek systematically develops a biblical theory of atonement that centers on restorative rather than retributive justice He also shows how Christian thinking on atonement correlates with major global concerns such as economic justice capital punishment the war on terror and ethnic and religious conflicts Thorough and clearly structured this book demonstrates how a return to biblical cruciformity can radically transform Christian mission social justice and peacemaking

Zondervan, 2019-03-19 Theology is not done in a vacuum Our theology is affected by the culture in which we live and our theology can have unexpected effects on the lives of Christians who live thousands of miles away This point emerges clearly
