Peacehaven A Pictorial History Pictorial History Series:

Peacehaven Bob Poplett, 1993 A history of Peacehaven      Fabricating Lureland Julia Winckler, 2021-12-06 Through the analysis of surviving archival traces this book constructs a history of the imagination and memory of the town of Peacehaven Built as a speculative development atop iconic chalk cliffs on the Sussex Coast and marketed as a garden city by the sea the estate quickly attracted adverse publicity Influential voices such as the Bloomsbury group s Virginia and Leonard Woolf architect and writer Clough Williams Ellis and the Campaign for the Protection of Rural England soon began to criticise it as a blot on the rolling pastoral downland Instead of reading and appraising Peacehaven s story in a polarized way this book breaks new ground by critically interpreting visual representations and commissioned photographs of the Estate and re evaluating propositions from its inception which aspired to secure improved public health and home ownership in direct response to the negative impact of industrialization and WWI Focusing on the interwar period and tracing mutating agendas the book investigates contested marketing and construction narratives through Histoire Crois e methodology and its intercrossings with memory and the imagination By combining visual and creative research methods with oral history multi layered narratives of place come into focus The study tracks the visual programme of the developer s in house magazine Peacehaven Post alongside previously underexplored blueprints photographs postcards and promotional guidebooks and considers the garden city narrative as a form of social Utopia Garden city ideals are once again evoked in debates as a potential solution to the ongoing national housing shortage giving this research additional urgency as new large scale redevelopment erases many of the few and fast disappearing original landmarks      Brighton at War 1939-45 Douglas d'Enno, 2021-11-24 Long before war was declared on 3 September 1939 Brighton had steadily and carefully prepared for the coming conflict by building shelters organising defence and rescue services and providing the population with advice of its own or from government sources These precautions stood the town in good stead when the first bombs fell on it in mid 1940 and during the many subsequent attacks The resort did not admittedly suffer as grievously as some others on the South Coast yet civilian casualties totalled nearly 1 000 of whom over 200 were killed 357 were seriously injured and 433 slightly injured This is not the first book to reveal the toll of the bombs locally but it is the first to describe in parallel day to day events and societal responses during the nearly six years of conflict As elsewhere restrictions often made life arduous for residents Yet despite the hardship the town s citizens even marshalled sufficient resources to adopt two battleships and generously saved towards assisting with other wartime causes such as help to our ally Russia The hospitality trade and resort related services suffered greatly during the periods when the defence ban on entering the town was enforced In many respects however life went on largely as before particularly in the spheres of entertainment leisure and some sports Douglas d'Enno an authority on the history of Brighton and environs shows in meticulous detail in absorbing text and numerous pictures how life in wartime Brighton was a struggle for many but never dull      Hutchinson's Pictorial History of the War ,1944      Twentieth Century Industrial Archaeology Michael Stratton,Barrie Trinder,2014-04-04 This book examines the industrial monuments of twentieth century Britain Each chapter takes a specific theme and examines it in the context of the buildings and structure of the twentieth century The authors are both leading experts in the field having written widely on various aspects of the subject In this new and comprehensive survey they respond to the growing interest in twentieth century architecture and industrial archaeology The book is well illustrated with superb and unique illustrations drawn from the archives of the Royal Commission on the Historical Monuments of England It will mark and celebrate the end of the century with a tribute to its remarkable built industrial heritage      Bungalows Kathryn Ferry,2014-08-10 Now synonymous with the single storey home when the bungalow was introduced to Britain in the late 1860s it had more elaborate connotations Appropriated by colonial officials in Bengal this humble dwelling was transformed upon its arrival on the Kent coastline into a new type of holiday home complete with veranda and servant quarters These first Western examples became very popular amongst the upper middle class and the elderly and crucially also attracted artistic inhabitants setting the tone for the bungalow as a Bohemian escape well into the twentieth century Focusing on the British bungalow up to the Second World War Kathryn Ferry here explores its social cultural and architectural development revealing what the very earliest versions looked like and why at the peak of their popularity bungalows were so ubiquitous      Peacehaven and Telscombe Through Time Stanley Bernard,2009-05-15 The fascinating history of Peacehaven and Telscombe illustrated through old and modern pictures      Arcadia for All Dennis Hardy,Colin Ward,2004 From Canvey Island to Jaywick Sands from Peacehaven to Pitsea in the first 40 years of last century thousands of English families made their own place in the sun without benefit of councils planners architects building societies or even builders Were they as many planners and environmentalists suggested making rural slums and seaside eyesores or were they providing a unique example of unaided self build housing with lessons for us all today Here Dennis Hardy and Colin Ward uncover the history of the plotlands of South East England telling the fascinating detail of the places people built for themselves on the coast and in the country and of what happened to them since drawing parallels with similar developments in other parts of the world      National Index of Parish Registers Donald John Steel,A.
