Peacekeepers Politicians And Warlords The Liberian Peace Proceeb:

Peacekeepers, Politicians, and Warlords Abiodun Alao, John Mackinlay, Funmi Olonisakin, 1999 When the international community responds to a massive humanitarian emergency such as the one in Liberia the operation that results is both complicated and ephemeral The multifaceted nature of the problems in the crisis area attracts many different responses ranging from the deployment of thousands of international troops and observers to groups of civilians who act locally Acting simultaneously but not always in concert with the response operations are the regional and international political leaders In the context of Liberia the crisis and the international response to it developed in stages each with its own idiosyncratic nature characteristic form of violence cast of dominant personalities and fresh bouts of extreme violence Peacekeepers Politicians and Warlords is an original account of the entire peace process in Liberia that penetrates the roles of the peacekeepers the warlords and the politicians who were the key actors in this narrative Peacekeepers, Politicians, and Warlords, 2001 International Peacekeeping Michael Bothe, Boris Kondoch, 2002-10-09 Artikelsamling om og oversigt over internationalefredsbevarende operationer Ghana Armed Forces in Lebanon and Liberia Peace Operations Emmanuel Wekem Kotia, 2015-04-22 Africa Nations have contributed to peace operations in conflict zones across the world since the deployment of the United Nations Operations in the Congo in 1960 This has placed Africa as a major stakeholder in the maintenance of peace and security For over fifty years Ghana has earned the international reputation as one of the largest and consistent Troop Contributing Country in United Nations mandated peace operations While Ghana has long been an active contributor to peace operations there are few or no comparative studies that systematically analyze the actual roles played by troops in many of the different conflict context where they have served This book therefore focuses on a comparison of two peace operations undertaken by the forces of an African Nation in two different missions in Lebanon and Liberia Reinventing Peacekeeping in Africa F. Olonisakin, 2021-07-26 The euphoric cries of a peaceful and more dynamic new world order which followed the end of the Cold War have been silenced by the increased intensity of local conflicts around the world The humanitarian crises resulting from these conflicts have attracted greater international attention Perhaps even more tragic is the failure of the international community to find early effective response to these conflicts which have profound security implications for the affected regions and have led to the collapse of state structures in some cases The intra state conflicts in Africa alone have claimed over one million lives since 1990 On the international scene these internal conflicts have created new challenges for the UN whose efforts at dealing with them have produced mixed results whilst international policy makers the military and academics are faced with difficult questions Can traditional peacekeeping be stretched to accommodate this class of conflict What is the legal basis for these operations Attempts to answer these questions at the conceptual level have led to the development of concepts such as second generation peacekeeping wider peacekeeping peace support operations and strategic peacekeeping It has emerged that there is no common view on an effective and realistic set of tools to manage these crises Perhaps the most significant point to arise from the differing conceptual views presently is that an effective approach and sound legal basis have not been found for dealing with recalcitrant internal conflicts in far away regions which are not high on the strategic considerations of the great powers This book reconsiders the role of the UN and regional organisations such as ECOWAS in Africa It examines the response to the civil war in Liberia which served as a precursor to the international response to the crisis in Sierra Leone On the one hand this book offers an analysis of a new conceptual framework for managing a specific class of violent conflict On the other hand it provides first hand account of the character of a force that attempted to apply this approach In drawing some of its conclusions the book relies on the testimonies of many of the soldiers who formed the core of the military operations in these difficult conflict areas in West Africa

Peacebuilding and Natural Resource Governance After Armed Conflict

Michael D. Beevers, 2018-07-12 This book argues that a set of persuasive narratives about the links between natural resource armed conflict and peacebuilding have strongly influenced the natural resource interventions pursued by international peacebuilders The author shows how international peacebuilders active in Liberia and Sierra Leone pursued a collective strategy to transform conflict resources into peace resources vis vis a policy agenda that promoted securitization and marketization of natural resources However the exclusive focus on securitization and marketization have been counterproductive for peacebuilding since these interventions render invisible issues connected to land ownership environmental protection and sustainable livelihoods and mirror pre war governing arrangements in which corruption exclusion and exploitation took root Natural resource governance and peacebuilding must go beyond narrow debates about securitization and marketization and instead be a catalyst for trust building and cooperation that has a local focus and pursues an inclusive agenda that not only serves the cause of peace but the cause of people

Violent Order

Nicholai Hart Lidow, 2016-11-17 Rebel groups exhibit significant variation in their treatment of civilians with profound humanitarian consequences This book proposes a new theory of rebel behavior and cohesion based on the internal dynamics of rebel groups Rebel groups are more likely to protect civilians and remain unified when rebel leaders can offer cash payments and credible future rewards to their top commanders The leader's ability to offer incentives that allow local security to prevail depends on partnerships with external actors such as diaspora communities and foreign governments This book formalizes this theory and tests the implications through an in depth look at the rebel groups involved in Liberia's civil war The book also analyzes a micro level dataset of crop area during Liberia's war derived through remote sensing and an original cross national dataset of rebel groups

Women, Peace and Security

Funmi Olonisakin, Karen Barnes, Eka Ikpe, 2010-11-01 This book provides a critical assessment of the impact of UN Resolution 1325 by examining the effect of peacebuilding missions on increasing gender equality within conflict affected countries UN Resolution 1325 was adopted in October 2000 and was the first time that the security concerns of women in situations of armed conflict and their role in peacebuilding was placed on the agenda of the UN Security Council It was an important step forward in terms of bringing women's rights and gender equality to bear in the UN's peace and security agenda More than a decade after the adoption of this Resolution its practical reality is yet to be substantially felt on the ground in the very societies and regions where women remain disproportionately affected by armed conflict and grossly underrepresented in peace processes This realization in part led to the adoption in 2008 and 2009 of three other Security Council Resolutions on sexual violence in conflict violence against women and for the development of indicators to measure progress in addressing women peace and security issues The book draws together the findings from eight countries and four regional contexts to provide guidance on how the impact of Resolution 1325 can be measured and how peacekeeping operations could improve their capacity to effectively engender security This book will be of much interest to students of peacebuilding gender studies the United Nations international security and IR in general

Refugee Resettlement in the United States Emily M. Feuerherm, Vaidehi Ramanathan, 2015-12-03 This edited volume brings together scholars from various disciplines to discuss how language is used by for and about refugees in the United States in order to deepen our understanding of what refugee and resettlement mean The main themes of the chapters highlight the intersections of language education and refugee resettlement from community based adult programs to elementary school classrooms the language of resettlement policies and politics in the United States at both the national level and at the local level focusing on the agencies and organizations that support refugees the discursive constructions of refugee hood that are promulgated through the media resettlement agencies and even the refugees themselves This volume is highly relevant to current political debates of immigration human rights and education and will be of interest to researchers of applied linguistics sociolinguistics anthropology and cultural studies

Maintaining Peace and Security? Trudy Fraser, 2014-11-20 The security concerns of the United Nations today extend far beyond what the writers of the 1945 Charter could have imagined As a result the UN has been compelled to reconsider the parameters of what constitutes a threat to international peace and security and what it means to be safe and secure in the twenty first century This text critically assesses the capacity of the UN to evolve in response to changing notions of security and examines the complex history of people places and politics that have helped shape this important global actor

Franchised States and the Bureaucracy of Peace Niels Nagelhus Schia, 2017-10-30 This book examines a new type of state formation evoked by the rise of transnational rule what Schia calls franchised states Drawing on anthropological studying through fieldwork within the UN organization he demonstrates how peacebuilding activities turned Liberia into an object of governing whereby the UN in seeking to build the state also became the state The sovereign state of Liberia here emerges as a franchise rather than a self contained entity Two implications follow First that international peacebuilding turns post conflict countries into clients of the international community Second that sovereignty is no longer exclusively associated with the state it is organized in and through specific practices of governing where a state actor is only one among a range of actors With these findings the book moves beyond previous work on peacebuilding by focusing on the unbundling of sovereignty It contributes to the literature on the changing forms of sovereignty by showing the specific ways in which sovereignty is organized packaged and enacted often by actors working under international auspices This book will be of interest to practitioners and students interested in international organizations international relations the study of international practices UN and peacebuilding

War, Warlords, and Interstate Relations in the Ancient Mediterranean ,2017-12-05 During the final four centuries BC many political and stateless entities of the Mediterranean headed towards anarchy and militarism while stronger powers Carthage the Hellenistic kingdoms and Republican Rome expanded towards State formation forceful military structures and empire building Edited by T aco del Hoyo and F L pez S nchez this volume presents the proceedings from an ICREA Conference held in Barcelona 2013 addressing the connection between war warlords and interstate relations from classical studies and social sciences perspectives Some twenty scholars from European Japanese and North American Universities consider the scope of multipolarity and the usefulness of warlord a modern category in order to feature some ancient military and political leaderships

Hot Spot: Sub-Saharan Africa Toyin Falola,Adebayo O. Oyebade,2010-07-01 This book provides an extensive examination of the major conflicts in the extremely volatile region of sub Saharan Africa and their ramifications throughout the continent and beyond Conflict has been a critical factor in the making of contemporary Africa and its study is key to understanding the continent s tortuous history Hot Spot Sub Saharan Africa analyzes the area s major post independence conflicts intense enough to threaten national regional or international security This work defines conflict broadly to encompass political instability and state failure ethno religious tensions government and political corruption economic mismanagement and poverty cult violence and youth gangsterism Thematically organized chapters examine the origins and development of explosive hot spots including Sudan Somalia Rwanda and Democratic Republic of Congo in West Africa Nigeria Southern Africa the Horn of Africa and Central Africa and the Great Lakes region The book also explores outside factors that have impacted African conflicts such as superpower Cold War manipulation and foreign influence and intervention

Armed State Building Paul D. Miller,2013-07-12 Since 1898 the United States and the United Nations have deployed military force more than three dozen times in attempts to rebuild failed states Currently there are more state building campaigns in progress than at any time in the past century including Afghanistan Bosnia Kosovo the Democratic Republic of Congo Haiti Sudan Liberia Cote d Ivoire and Lebanon and the number of candidate nations for such campaigns in the future is substantial Even with a broad definition of success earlier campaigns failed more than half the time In this book Paul D Miller brings his decade in the U S military intelligence community and policy worlds to bear on the question of what causes armed international state building campaigns by liberal powers to succeed or fail The United States successfully rebuilt the West German and Japanese states after World War II but failed to build a functioning state in South Vietnam After the Cold War the United Nations oversaw relatively successful campaigns to restore order hold elections and organize post conflict reconstruction in Mozambique Namibia Nicaragua and elsewhere but those successes were overshadowed by catastrophes in Angola Liberia and Somalia The recent effort in Iraq and the ongoing one in Afghanistan where Miller had firsthand military intelligence and policymaking experience are yielding mixed results despite the high levels of resources dedicated and the long duration of the missions there Miller outlines different types of state failure analyzes various levels of intervention that liberal states have tried in the state building process and distinguishes among the various failures and successes those efforts have provoked

ECOWAS and the Dynamics of Conflict and Peace-building Thomas Jaye, Dauda Garuba, 2011-12-15 ECOWAS and the Dynamics of Conflict and Peace building testifies to the fact that we cannot talk of West African affairs more so of conflict and peace building without talking about ECOWAS For over two decades now West Africa has remained one of Africa's most conflict ridden regions It has been a theatre of some of the most atrocious brutalities in the modern world It has nonetheless witnessed one of the most ambitious internal efforts towards finding regional solutions to conflicts through ECOWAS The lead role of ECOMOG the ECOWAS peacekeeping force in search of peaceful solutions to civil wars in Liberia Sierra Leone Guinea Bissau and Cote d'Ivoire has yielded a mix of successes and failures In this book the authors take a candid look at the role that ECOWAS has played and show how the sub regional organisation has stabilised and created new conditions conducive to nation building in a number of cases Conversely the book shows that ECOWAS has aggravated if not created new tensions in yet other cases The comparative advantage that ECOWAS has derived from these experiences is reflected in the various mechanisms protocols and conventions that are now in place to ensure a more comprehensive conflict prevention framework This book provides a nuanced analysis of the above issues and other dynamics of conflicts in the region It also interrogates the roles played by ECOWAS and various other actors in the context of the complex interplay between natural resource governance corruption demography and the youth bulge gender and the conflicting interests of national regional and international players

Peaceland Séverine Autesserre, 2014-05-19 This book suggests a new explanation for why international peace interventions often fail to reach their full potential Based on several years of ethnographic research in conflict zones around the world it demonstrates that everyday elements such as the expatriates social habits and usual approaches to understanding their areas of operation strongly influence peacebuilding effectiveness Individuals from all over the world and all walks of life share numerous practices habits and narratives when they serve as interveners in conflict zones These common attitudes and actions enable foreign peacebuilders to function in the field but they also result in unintended consequences that thwart international efforts Certain expatriates follow alternative modes of thinking and acting often with notable results but they remain in the minority Through an in depth analysis of the interveners everyday life and work this book proposes innovative ways to better help host populations build a sustainable peace Women, Gender Equality, and Post-Conflict Transformation Joyce P. Kaufman, Kristen P. Williams, 2016-10-04 The end of formal hostilities in any given conflict provides an opportunity to transform society in order to secure a stable peace This book builds on the existing feminist international relations literature as well as lessons of past cases that reinforce the importance of including women in the post conflict transition process and are important to our general understanding of gender relations in the conflict and post conflict periods Post conflict transformation processes including disarmament demobilization and reintegration DDR programs transitional justice mechanisms reconciliation measures and legal and political reforms which emerge after the formal hostilities end demonstrate that war and peace impact and are impacted by women and men differently By drawing on a strong theoretical framework and a number of cases this volume provides important insight into questions pertaining to the end of conflict and the challenges inherent in the post conflict transition period that are relevant to students and practitioners alike

Madame President Helene Cooper, 2017-03-07 BEST BOOKS of 2017 SELECTION by THE WASHINGTON POST NEW YORK POST The harrowing but triumphant story of Ellen Johnson Sirleaf leader of the Liberian women s movement winner of the Nobel Peace Prize and the first democratically elected female president in African history When Ellen Johnson Sirleaf won the 2005 Liberian presidential election she demolished a barrier few thought possible obliterating centuries of patriarchal rule to become the first female elected head of state in Africa s history Madame President is the inspiring often heartbreaking story of Sirleaf s evolution from an ordinary Liberian mother of four boys to international banking executive from a victim of domestic violence to a political icon from a post war president to a Nobel Peace Prize winner Pulitzer Prize winning journalist and bestselling author Helene Cooper deftly weaves Sirleaf s personal story into the larger narrative of the coming of age of Liberian women The highs and lows of Sirleaf s life are filled with indelible images from imprisonment in a jail cell for standing up to Liberia s military government to addressing the United States Congress from reeling under the onslaught of the Ebola pandemic to signing a deal with Hillary Clinton when she was still Secretary of State that enshrined American support for Liberia s future Sirleaf s personality shines throughout this riveting biography Ultimately Madame President is the story of Liberia s greatest daughter and the universal lessons we can all learn from this Oracle of African women
