Peacock Cries at the Three Gorges Ying Hong, 2004 Beauty is fragile and has to cry in the face of destruction Peacock Cries at the Three Gorges Ying Hong, 2005-07-01 The book takes on the subjects of reincarnation and a spiritual quest in the face of economic development and provides an insight into the intricate details of Chinese life Jacket Chinese Women Writers in Diaspora Amy Tak-yee Lai, 2009-03-26 The mention of Chinese women writers in diaspora immediately brings to mind Jung Chang b 1952 and her Wild Swans Three Daughters of China 1991 which won the 1992 NCR book award and the 1993 British Book of the Year Award and got officially banned in China Despite its popular reception and crucial acclaim Chang's work has invited a lot of attacks Among the most common is the contention that it merely focuses on the experience of the privileged and does not tell the reader what other memoirs have not already revealed Chinese Women Writers in Diaspora is a pioneering study that focuses on four Chinese women writers currently living in the United States and England whose works have been popularly received and are in many cases highly controversial but have received little scholarly attention Xinran b 1958 Hong Ying b 1962 Anchee Min b 1957 and Adeline Yen Mah b 1937 The chapters illuminate how Xinran constructs her identity and her fellow Chinese women in dialectics of self and other how Hong Ying evokes cycles of return that blend Western and Chinese philosophical concepts how Min employs images of theatre and theatrical conventions to depict the entrapment and transgression of her protagonists and how Mah transliterates and appropriates both Western and Chinese fairy tale motifs to fashion her Chinese feminist utopia While Jung Chang's memoir seems confining it has aroused interest in the genre of Chinese female autobiography and Chinese women writers who live and write between cultures Water and Art David Clarke, 2012-01-01 Restless protean fluid evanescent despite being a challenge to represent visually water has gained a striking significance in the art of the twentieth century This may be due to the fact that it allows for a range of metaphorical meanings many of which are particularly appropriate to the modern age Water is not merely a subject of contemporary art but also a material increasingly used in art making giving it a distinct dual presence Water and Art probes the ways in which water has gained an unprecedented prominence in modern Western art and seeks to draw connections to its depiction in earlier art forms David Clarke looks across cultures finding parallels within contemporary Chinese art which draws on a cultural tradition in which water has an essential presence and is used as both a subject and a medium The book features a wealth of images by artists from East and West including Fu Baoshi Shi Tao Wei Zixi Fang Rending Leonardo da Vinci Bernini Turner Gericault Klee Matisse Monet Picasso Mondrian and Kandinsky Fast paced accessible and comprehensive Water and Art will appeal to the specialist and the general reader alike offering fresh perspectives on familiar artists as well as an introduction to others who are less well known The Routledge Handbook of Chinese Discourse Analysis Chris Shei, 2019-01-14 Chinese is a discourse oriented language and the underlying mechanisms of the language involve encoding and decoding so the language can be correctly delivered and understood To date there has been a lack of consolidation at the discourse level such that a reference framework for understanding the language in a top down fashion is still underdeveloped The Routledge Handbook of Chinese Discourse Analysis is the first to showcase the latest research in the field of Chinese discourse analysis to consolidate existing findings put the language in both theoretical and socio functional perspectives offer guidance and insights for further research and inspire innovative ideas for exploring the Chinese language in the discourse domain The book is aimed at both students and scholars researching in the areas of Chinese linguistics and discourse analysis Contemporary World Fiction Juris Dilevko, Keren Dali, Glenda
