The Peasants of Languedoc Emmanuel Le Roy Ladurie, 1976 This volume combines elements of human geography historical demography economic history and folk culture in a depiction of a great agrarian cycle lasting from the Renaissance to the Enlightenment It describes the conflicts and contradictions of a traditional peasant society in whic the rise in population was not matched by increases in wealth and food production The Peasants of Languedoc Emmanuel Le Roy Les Paysans de Languedoc Emmanuel Le Roy Ladurie, 1966 The Mediterranean and the Mediterranean World in the Age of Philip II Fernand Braudel, 2023-07-25 The focus of Fernand Braudel s great work is the Mediterranean world in the second half of the sixteenth century but Braudel ranges back in history to the world of Odysseus and forward to our time moving out from the Mediterranean area to the New World and other destinations of Mediterranean traders Braudel's scope embraces the natural world and material life economics demography politics and The Content of Social Explanation Susan James, 1984-11-15 This is a study of the central questions of explanation in the social sciences and a defence of holism against individualism In the first half of the book Susan James sets out very clearly the philosophical background to this controversy She locates its source not at the analytical level at which most of the debate is usually conducted but at a more fundamental moral level in different conceptions of the human individual In the second half of the book she examines critically three case studies of holistic approaches Althusser Poulantzas and the Annales historians and progressively refines our sense of the strengths and deficiencies of their programmes She ends by arguing for a form of concessive holism which offers some accommodation to liberal conceptions of individual autonomy but continues to emphasise the explanatory importance of social regularities and environments

Grigg, 1980-12-18 This book first published in the two d symposium 1980 suggests some ways of looking at the interrelationships between population growth and agrarian change and uses these approaches to consider the demographic and agrarian problems of various parts of Europe in the past in the fourteenth century the sixteenth and early seventeenth centuries and in the early nineteenth century After the Black Death, Second Edition George Huppert, 1998-05-22 Praise for the first edition To give a sense of immediacy and vividness to the long period in such a short space is a major achievement History Huppert's book is a little masterpiece every teacher should welcome Renaissance Quarterly A work of genuine social history After the Black Death leads the reader into the real villages and cities of European society For this second edition George Huppert has added a new chapter on the incessant warfare of the age and thoroughly updated the bibliographical essay The Historical Present Walter Kudrycz, 2011-01-13 Medievalism has become a central concern for those studying and teaching medieval history It can be distinguished from traditional medieval history because it is not directly concerned with the study of the Middle Ages themselves but rather it looks at how ideas about the medieval era operate in modern culture This volume breaks new ground by moving beyond the arena of contemporary popular culture by interpreting modern academic attitudes towards the Middle Ages as themselves forms of medievalism What is presented as refined historical truth is no more than a construction of truth derived from the larger philosophical and cultural trends of our own day This volume argues that modernity s sense of the medieval past is the product of the dominant intellectual movements of the nineteenth century Romanticism and Idealism and that nineteenth century attitudes have continued to inform current understandings of the Middle Ages This is a narrative that combines the main themes of modern scholarship on the medieval age with a subtly portrayed picture of the philosophical culture which Encyclopedia of Historians and Historical Writing Kelly Boyd, 2019-10-09 The Encyclopedia of Historians produced them and Historical Writing contains over 800 entries ranging from Lord Acton and Anna Comnena to Howard Zinn and from Herodotus to Simon Schama Over 300 contributors from around the world have composed critical assessments of historians from the beginning of historical writing to the present day including individuals from related disciplines like I rgen Habermas and Clifford Geertz whose theoretical contributions have informed historical debate Additionally the Encyclopedia includes some 200 essays treating the development of national regional and topical historiographies from the Ancient Near East to the history of sexuality In addition to the Western tradition it includes substantial assessments of African Asian and Latin American historians and debates on gender and subaltern studies The French Peasantry, 1450-1660 Emmanuel Le Roy Ladurie, 1987-01-01 Sir Thomas Browne Reid Barbour, 2013-08 Reid Barbour brings the historical evidence of Browne s life together for the first time allowing readers to contextualise his most celebrated works The Life. Impossible Engineering Chandra Mukerji, 2021-11-09 The Canal du Midi which threads through southwestern France and links the Atlantic to the Mediterranean was an astonishing feat of seventeenth century engineering in fact it was technically impossible according to the standards of its day Impossible Engineering takes an insightful and entertaining look at the mystery of its success as well as the canal s surprising political significance. The waterway was a marvel that connected modern state power to human control of nature just as surely as it linked the ocean to the sea The Canal du Midi is typically characterized as the achievement of Pierre Paul Riguet a tax farmer and entrepreneur for the canal Yet Chandra Mukerji argues that it was a product of collective intelligence depending on peasant women and artisans unrecognized heirs to Roman traditions of engineering who came to labor on the waterway in collaboration with military and academic supervisors Ironically while Louis XIV and his treasury minister Jean Baptiste Colbert used propaganda to present France as a new Rome the Canal du Midi was being constructed with unrecognized classical methods Still the result was politically potent As Mukerji shows the project took land and power from local nobles using water itself as a silent agent of the state to disrupt traditions of local life that had served regional elites Impossible Engineering opens a surprising window into the world of seventeenth century France and illuminates a singular work of engineering undertaken to empower the state through technical conquest of nature Psychology and History Cristian Tileagă, Jovan Byford, 2014-02-20 As disciplines psychology and history share a primary concern with the human condition Yet historically the relationship between the two fields has been uneasy marked by a long standing climate of mutual suspicion This book engages with the history of this relationship and possibilities for its future intellectual and empirical development Bringing together internationally renowned psychologists and historians it explores the ways in which the two disciplines could benefit from a closer dialogue Thirteen chapters span a broad range of topics including social memory prejudice stereotyping affect and emotion cognition personality gender and the self Contributors draw on examples from different cultural contexts from eighteenth century Britain to apartheid South Africa to conflict torn Yugoslavia to offer fresh impetus to interdisciplinary scholarship Generating new ideas research questions and problems this book encourages researchers to engage in genuine dialogue and place their own explorations in new intellectual contexts
