Edwards, 2021-08-10 WINNER 2022 John Hope Franklin Prize given by the American Studies Association HONORABLE MENTION 2022 Gloria E Anzald a Book Prize given by the National Women s Studies Association Reveals the troubling intimacy between Black women and the making of US global power The year 1968 marked both the height of the worldwide Black liberation struggle and a turning point for the global reach of American power which was built on the counterinsurgency honed on Black and other oppressed populations at home The next five decades saw the consolidation of the culture of the American empire through what Erica R Edwards calls the imperial grammars of blackness This is a story of state power at its most devious and most absurd and at the same time a literary history of Black feminist radicalism at its most trenchant Edwards reveals how the long war on terror beginning with the late Cold War campaign against organizations like the Black Panther Party for Self Defense and the Black Liberation Army has relied on the labor and the fantasies of Black women to justify the imperial spread of capitalism Black feminist writers not only understood that this would demand a shift in racial gendered power but crafted ways of surviving it The Other Side of Terror offers an interdisciplinary Black feminist analysis of militarism security policing diversity representation intersectionality and resistance while discussing a wide array of literary and cultural texts from the unpublished work of Black radical feminist June Jordan to the memoirs of Condoleezza Rice to the television series Scandal With clear moving prose Edwards chronicles Black feminist organizing and writing on the other side of terror which tracked changes in racial power transformed African American literature and Black studies and predicted the crises of our current era with unsettling accuracy

The Economies of Queer Inclusion S.M. Rodriguez, 2018-12-11 The Anti Homosexuality dubbed Kill the Gays Bill of 2009 propelled Uganda to the forefront of global media In its initial manifestation the Bill threatened to penalize aggravated homosexuality with the death penalty The media attention earned by the proposed legislation opened avenues for transnational cooperation and communication between US based Human and LGBTI Rights organizations and kuchu or LGBTI Ugandans The Economies of Queer Inclusion focuses on this transnational relationship and the complications that arise when international currency and professionalization transform grassroots organizing This book excavates how transnational advocacy which aims to empower LGBTI rights activism actually restructures and in some cases limits local movements With interview and ethnographic data with activists in Kampala Uganda and New York City the research highlights how the introduction of international attention and funding causes organizations to restructure their movement goals and strategies in order to best attract desired partners The funder funded relationship causes both local discord and transnational divestment from alternative forms of organizing The research presents a compelling counter narrative that exposes that the development of this economy did not occur because of the Anti Homosexuality but rather inspired the legislation and then peaked in the five years following As an engaged ethnographic look into a social justice movement the text explores organizational structures and activist strategies in order to critique and strengthen future mobilization Accordingly the text applies various sociological and critical race theories to provide an incisive and in depth exploration of a powerful political moment

Telling Blackness Krystal Smalls, 2024 Telling Blackness begins with two simple premises conventional models of the ways people make meaning of the world fail to account for the particularities of Blackness and accounts of Black life often miss the significance of the smallest and subtlest acts that sustain it With this introduction of raciosemiotics Smalls remaps the field of semiotic anthropology around the specificities of race and the body and remaps contemporary Black diaspora through the embodied significations of a group of young Liberian women in the US This transdisciplinary ethnographic account of their lives helps us reimagine their talk twerks and tweets as tellings that exceed our understandings of narrative and that potentially act on the world of meaning And with careful historical contextualization we see how such acts reproduce refuse or powerfully disregard racial logics that have entangled the US and Liberia for two centuries Led by Black feminist scholarship Telling Blackness also provides a semiotic glimpse into ways of relating that help create complex diasporic intimacies and that sustain Black life beyond survival

Secular Societies, Spiritual Selves? Anna Fedele, Kim E. Knibbe, 2020-05-17 Secular Societies Spiritual Selves is the first volume to address the gendered intersections of religion spirituality and the secular through an ethnographic approach The book examines how spirituality has emerged as a relatively silent category with which people often signal that they are looking for a way to navigate between the categories of the religious and the secular and considers how this is related to gendered ways of being and relating Using a lived religion approach the contributors analyse the intersections between spirituality religion and secularism in different geographical areas ranging from the Netherlands Portugal and Italy to Canada the United States and Mexico The chapters explore the spiritual experiences of women and their struggle for a more gender equal way of approaching the divine as well as the experience of men and of those who challenge binary sexual identities advocating for a queer spirituality This volume will be of interest to anthropologists and sociologists as well as scholars in other disciplines who seek to understand the role of spirituality in creating the complex gendered dynamics of modern societies
