Peepshows A Visual History:

Peepshows Richard Balzer, 1998 Long before the movies were created peepshows were appealing to a public eager for entertainment and enlightenment The peepshowman and his box were a common sight on bustling city streets and quiet village greens He attracted a crowd with music animals puppets and clever patter and then might offer a view of a famous battle scene or a glimpse of a storied landscape a stroll through the public squares of distant capitals or a peek at a fabled monument Such views could challenge the boundaries of ordinary life and satisfy a growing hunger for information Peepshows A Visual History offers the reader a rich sense of the history of this mysterious and magical box The book includes nearly 200 annotated images many never before published The Routledge Companion to Film History William Guynn, 2010-09-13 The Routledge Companion to Film History is an indispensable guide for anyone studying film history for the first time Incorporating a series of 11 introductory critical essays on key subject areas with a dictionary of key names and terms it serves to introduce the reader to the field of film history in a comprehensive and well rounded manner Light Touches Alice Barnaby, 2016-11-10 Light Touches Cultural Practices of Illumination 1800 1900 explores how urban lives in the nineteenth century were increasingly touched by innovations in the technologies and aesthetics of illumination Dramatic changes in qualities of light and darkness became acutely palpable to the human sensorium using seeing feeling and being in light were now matters of intense personal and cultural concern Light gave meaningful vitality to the period s material culture and light itself became something to be perceptually consumed Over the course of six chapters Alice Barnaby traces how light was used in amateur artistic pastimes interior design and clothing fashions spectacular public amusements volatile street demonstrations and art gallery designs From these previously unexplored examples a more complex history of light in the period emerges Society s fascination with illumination its desire to work with it and make meaning from it gave rise to a distinctly new set of cultural practices Through these practices unexpected discoveries about the modern world were revealed Light proved to be instrumental in everyday acts of experimentation and imaginative enquiry Barnaby offers an intervention into the dominant scholarly narrative of the nineteenth century which traditionally reads modernity as synonymous with the formation of a spectacular disembodied visuality Light Touches in contrast returns vision to the body and foregrounds the actively felt as well as seen sensation of light In coming to understand these cultural practices of illumination the book reconsiders many assumptions about nineteenth century modernity Screening Fears Francesco Casetti, 2023-08-15 A historical and theoretical investigation of the unexpected ways screen based media protect and excite viewers fears and anxieties of the world In this brilliant contribution to contemporary media studies acclaimed theorist Francesco Casetti advances a provocative hypothesis instead of being prostheses that expand or extend our perceptions modern screen based media are in fact apparatuses that shelter and protect us from exposure to the world Rather than bringing us closer to external reality dominant forms of visual media function as barriers or enclosures that defend against the apparent threats and dangers that seem increasingly to surround us Working with an original historical overview that begins with the Phantasmagoria of the late eighteenth century then the shared interior spaces of the movie theater in the early to mid twentieth century and finally the solitary digital milieus of the present Casetti traces the outlines of the protective bubbles that disconnect us from our immediate surroundings To be provided with a shield of immunity to the hazards and uncertainties of the world while experiencing them at a safe remove might seem a positive development But he asks what if these media instead of providing invulnerability ensnare individuals in a suffocating enclosure What if in their effort to keep reality under control they exercise a violence equal to that of the dangers they resist In a dialectical exercise and through a vivid range of cultural artifacts Screening Fears traces the emergence of modern protective media and the way they changed our forms of mediation with the world in which we live Before the Crash Mark J. P. Wolf, 2012-06-15

Movable books are an innovative area of children's publishing Commonly equated with spectacular pop ups movable books have a little known history as interactive narrative media Since they are hybrid artifacts consisting of words images and movable components they cross the borders between story toy and game Interactive Books is a historical and comparative study of early movable books in relation to the children who engage with them Jacqueline Reid Walsh focuses on the period movable books became connected with children from the mid 17th to the early 19th centuries In particular she examines turn up books paper doll books and related hybrid experiments like toy theaters and paignion or domestic play set produced between 1650 and 1830
