Population Growth And Agricultural Change In Africa Carter Lecture Hardcover:

Population Growth and Agricultural Change in Africa Billie Lee Turner, Göran Hydén, Robert William Kates, 1993 The question that drives the ten case studies of highland East Africa and Nigeria commissioned for this volume is whether population growth in densely settled areas of rural Africa has led to the intensification of agriculture Using a natural experiments methodology the authors explore changes in agricultural inputs and outputs analyze the role that external productive forces have played in these changes note the consequences of the changes especially for the environment and standard of living and speculate on the changes implications The volume is framed by chapters on theory one that presents traditional thought on the relationship between population and agriculture and one that offers a synthesis that while controversial holds out real hope for African agriculture American Book Publishing Record ,1973 Business Books and Serials in Print ,1977 Paperbound Books in Print ,1975 Books in Print Supplement ,1978 Population Growth and Agrarian Change David B. Grigg, 1980-12-18 This book first published in 1980 suggests some ways of looking at the interrelationships between population growth and agrarian change and uses these approaches to consider the demographic and agrarian problems of various parts of Europe in the past in the fourteenth century the sixteenth and early seventeenth centuries and in the early nineteenth century

Comparative Study of Population Growth and Agricultural Change United Nations. Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific, Population Growth and Agrarian Change ,1975 Conditions of Agricultural Growth Ester Boserup, 2013-11-05 Investigating the process of agrarian change this book analyzes costs and productivity under the main systems of primitive agriculture The conclusion is that technical economic and social changes are unlikely to take place within primitive agriculture unless the rural community concerned is exposed to the pressure of population growth a conclusion that is in sharp contrast to generally accepted ideas The themes in the book are central to the discussion of the problems of population explosion and the world's undernourished peoples

Comparative Study of Population Growth and Agricultural Change United Nations. Economic and Social Commission for Asia and the Pacific, 1975 Nutrition, Sustainable Agriculture and Climate Change in Africa Gbadebo Odularu, 2020-09-19 In Sub Saharan Africa the rapidly evolving COVID 19 increasing population growth and exponential expansion in demand for agricultural commodities are putting pressure on available resources thereby posing immense challenges to the region's capacity to achieve nutritional security related to United Nations Sustainable Development Goals SDGs Although Sub Saharan Africa boasts vast fertile and uncultivated arable lands its capacity to contribute to feeding its current and future population is being seriously undermined by factors such as poor adoption and utilization of innovations and digital tools climate change impact environmental degradation weak political will limited interest in farming lack of government support and more In spite of these constraints sustainable agriculture food security and nutrition security in Sub Saharan Africa can be achieved by adopting a multi pronged approach which includes improved agricultural mechanization

adoption of high yielding crop varieties use of information technology public investments in improved technologies and rural infrastructure funding This edited volume provides innovative policy tools for enhancing Sub Saharan Africa s capacity to achieve sustainable agriculture food security and nutrition security in the digital age and in the face of climate variability Furthermore this book presents smart strategies for increased agricultural production reduced food waste and enhanced nutritional outcomes by harnessing the latest discoveries in agricultural research education and advisory services
