Scientific Racism In Modern South Africa:

Scientific Racism in Modern South Africa Saul Dubow, 1995-06-30 A study of the history of intellectual and scientific racism in modern South Africa

Eugenics at the Edges of Empire Diane B. Paul, John Stenhouse, Hamish G. Spencer, 2017-11-16 This volume explores the history of eugenics in four Dominions of the British Empire New Zealand Australia Canada and South Africa These self governing colonies reshaped ideas absorbed from the metropole in accord with local conditions and ideals Compared to Britain and the US Germany and Scandinavia their orientation was generally less hereditarian and more populist and agrarian It also reflected the view that these young and enterprising societies could potentially show Britain the way if they were protected from internal and external threat This volume contributes to the increasingly comparative and international literature on the history of eugenics and to several ongoing historiographic debates especially around issues of race As white settler societies questions related to racial mixing and purity were inescapable and a notable contribution of this volume is its attention to Indigenous populations both as targets and on occasion agents of eugenic ideology

Historical Controversies and Historians William Lamont, 2005-06-20 Using a range of historical problems as case studies and the work of particular historians this collection of essays introduces students to the nature of historical method and the realities of doing history

Race and empire Chloe Campbell, 2013-07-19 Race and empire tells the story of a short lived but vehement eugenics movement that emerged among a group of Europeans in Kenya in the 1930s unleashing a set of writings on racial differences in intelligence more extreme than that emanating from any other British colony in the twentieth century The Kenyan eugenics movement of the 1930s adapted British ideas to the colonial environment in all its extremity Kenyan eugenics was not simply a bizarre and embarrassing colonial mutation as it was later dismissed but a logical extension of British eugenics in a colonial context By tracing the history of eugenic thought in Kenya the book shows how the movement took on a distinctive colonial character driven by settler political preoccupations and reacting to increasingly outspoken African demands for better and more independent education Through a close examination of attitudes towards race and intelligence in a British colony Race and empire reveals how eugenics was central to colonial racial theories before World War Two

Science and society in southern Africa Saul Dubow, 2017-03-01 This collection dealing with case studies drawn from South Africa Zimbabwe Mozambique and Mauritius examines the relationship between scientific claims and practices and the exercise of colonial power It challenges conventional views that portray science as a detached mode of reasoning with the capacity to confer benefits in a more or less even handed manner That science has the potential to further the collective good is not fundamentally at issue but science can also be seen as complicit in processes of colonial domination Not only did science assist in bolstering aspects of colonial power and exploitation it also possessed a significant ideological component it offered a means of legitimating colonial authority by counter poising Western rationality to native superstition and it served to enhance the self image of colonial or settler elites in important respects This innovative volume ranges broadly through topics such as statistics medicine eugenics agriculture entomology and botany

Racism Albert J. Wheeler, 2005 Of all mankind's vices racism is one of the most pervasive and stubborn Success in overcoming racism has been achieved from time to time but victories have been limited thus far because mankind has focused on personal economic gain or power grabs ignoring generosity of the soul This bibliography brings together the literature

The Routledge Handbook of Science and Empire Andrew Goss, 2021-07-05 The Routledge Handbook of Science and Empire introduces readers to important new research in the field of science and empire This compilation of inquiry into the inextricably intertwined history of science and empire reframes the field showing that one could not have grown without the other The volume expands the history of science through careful attention to connections exchanges and networks beyond the scientific institutions of Europe and the United States These 27 original essays by established scholars and new talent examine scientific and imperial disciplines networks of science scientific practice within empires and decolonised science The chapters cover a wide range of disciplines from anthropology and psychiatry to biology and geology There is global coverage with essays about China Southeast Asia the Pacific Australia and New Zealand India the Middle East Russia the Arctic and North and South America Specialised essays cover Jesuit science natural history collecting energy systems and science in UNESCO With authoritative chapters by leading scholars this is a guiding resource for all scholars of empire and science Free of jargon and with clearly written essays the handbook is a valuable path to further inquiry for any student of the history of science and empire

Knowledge and Power William Burns, 2016-09-16 Knowledge and Power shows how science has developed in different historical settings by focusing on four episodes in the history of world science from the Middle Ages to the mid twentieth century The title of this book comes from a famous saying by the English Renaissance philosopher Francis Bacon Knowledge is Power Through a combination of narrative and primary sources author William Burns explores the following topics in order to provide students with an understanding of how different cultures throughout time and across the globe approached science Science in the Medieval Mediterranean The Jesuits and World Science ca 1540 1773 Science in Russia and Japan ca 1684 1860s and Africa in the Age of Imperialism and Nationalism ca 1860 1960

Race, Racism, and Science John P. Jackson, Nadine M. Weidman, 2006 Since the eighteenth century when natural historians created the idea of distinct racial categories scientific findings on race have been a double edged sword For some antiracists science holds the promise of one day providing indisputable evidence to help eradicate racism On the other hand science has been enlisted to promote racist beliefs ranging from a justification of slavery in the eighteenth century to the infamous twentieth century book The Bell Curve whose authors argued that racial differences in intelligence resulted in lower test scores for African Americans This well organized readable textbook takes the reader through a chronological account of how and why racial categories were created and how the study of race evolved in multiple academic disciplines including genetics psychology sociology and anthropology In a bibliographic essay at the conclusion of each of the book's seven sections the authors recommend primary texts that will further the reader's understanding of each topic Heavily illustrated and enlivened with sidebar biographies this text is ideal for classroom use What is

Africanness? Contesting nativism in race, culture and sexualities Charles Ngwena, 2018-01-01 What is Africanness

Contesting nativism in race culture and sexualities by Charles Ngwena 2018 ISBN 978 1 920538 82 8 Pages 306 Print version Available Electronic version Free PDF available About the publication What is Africanness Contesting nativism in culture race and sexualities by Charles Ngwena Professor of Law at the Centre for Human Rights Faculty of Law University of Pretoria is a peer reviewed monograph aiming to contribute to the ongoing scholarly conversation in and beyond South Africa about who is African and what is African It aims to implicate a reductive sameness in the naming of Africans nativism by showing its teleology and effects and offers an alternative understanding of how Africans can be named or can name themselves The book develops an epistemology for constructing the hermeneutics of Africanness today long after the primal colonial moment and its debasing racialising ideology It interrogates the making of Africa in colonial discourses and the making of an African race and African culture's and sexuality lies in ways that are not just historically conscious but also have a heuristic capacity to contest nativism from the outside as well as from within The arguments in this book go beyond problematising African identity by addressing an existential gap in theory for explicating African social identity The book develops an interpretive method a hermeneutics for locating and deciphering African identifications in ways that are historically conscious and conjunctural The hermeneutics look to the present and the future in addition to the past so that African identifications are not nailed to a mast but remain invested with mobility and the capacity to mutate radically and make new and unexpected beginnings Comments Charles Ngwena's timely and original book is a wonderful read rich in theory and insight and an essential companion for those interested in exploring the multiplicity of histories cultures and subjectivities that constitute the diversity of Africanness and African identities Professor Cathi Albertyn School of Law University of the Witwatersrand Editor South African Journal on Human Rights This is a brilliant exploration of liberating and affirming ways to speak of African identities and sexualities reminding us there can be creative beauty where pain and dispossession have resided Rudo Chigudu Centre for Human Rights University of Pretoria This is a masterpiece Not only does the author capture the discourse and debates on Africanness he aptly examines them before offering his views on decentring the race of Africanness with the important recognition of Africa as land of diverse identifications Prof Serges Djouyou Kamga Thabo Mbeki African Leadership Institute UNISA Table of Contents ACKNOWLEDGMENTS PREFACE DEDICATION PART 1 BACKGROUND TO THE HERMENEUTICS OF HETEROGENOUS AFRICANNNESS 1 INTRODUCING THE MANYNESS OF AFRICANNNESS 1 Introduction 2 Nativism 2 1 Theocratic vision 2 2 Logic of identity 3 Reformulating African identity Overcoming status subordination and achieving inclusive equality 4 Scope and structure of the book A broad triangulation of race culture and sexualities 4 1 Part 1 Background to the hermeneutics of heterogeneous Africanness 4 2
