Travis, 2006-01-01 This volume presents a carefully reasoned rigorous critique of mainline academic psychology From the professional beginnings of their discipline contend the authors American psychologists have made two promises that psychology would be treated as a natural science and that its application to social mainly educational reform would be as effective as that of the more physical sciences to technological change Underlying these promises is the liberal consensus the belief that social problems are to be solved by improvements in educational methods Put to the test during the affluence of the 1950s and 1960s the years of the liberal consensus these promises were never kept maintain the authors Their provocative study provides a variety of reasons why the goal was unattained and is even unattainable The book will be of interest to psychologists sociologists professional educators and students of social change Teacher Education Policy and Research Diane Mayer, 2021-08-05 In this book leading teacher education researchers from Australia Belgium Canada England Finland Hong Kong SAR the Netherlands New Zealand North Ireland Portugal Scotland the USA and Wales examine teacher education policy and research in each of their contexts The book highlights the connections and disconnections between teacher education policy and research It examines contemporary challenges and issues in teacher education including how high quality teacher education is framed how teaching quality is framed and the role of teacher education research It also considers future policy and research possibilities and opportunities for teacher education research equity and preparing teachers for work within contexts of super diversity and early career teaching The Education of Children and Young People in State Care Sonia Jackson, Ingrid Hojer, 2017-10-02 Young people who leave care with few or no educational qualifications are at very high risk of social exclusion in adulthood Yet in the past their education has attracted little attention from researchers or professionals Studies by the editors and contributors to this volume show that the educational standards attained by young people in care fall progressively behind those of their peers living with their own families This research based book looks at the educational experiences of children and youths in nine different European countries and Canada It identifies the obstacles that prevent them from realising their aspirations and discusses ways of improving their opportunities How can countries with different traditions welfare regimes and administrative systems learn from each other What needs to be done at national local and individual levels to give children in care equal chances with those living with their families At present a child in public care is five times less likely to go to university than others How can teachers social workers and carers better support their educational attainment and enable more of them to succeed and progress to tertiary education This book was originally published as a special issue of the European Journal of Social Work
