Screening Disability Essays On Cinema And Disability:

Screening Disability Christopher R. Smit, Anthony W. Enns, 2001-09-12 Films include The hunchback of Notre Dame various versions based on the novel Notre Dame de Paris by Victor Hugo Freaks directed by Tod Browning Ordinary people Smoke Wayne Wang the films of John Woo Crash David Cronenberg Animated Film and Disability Slava Greenberg, 2023-02-07 While many live action films portray disability as a spectacle crip animation a genre of animated films that celebrates disabled people's lived experiences uses a variety of techniques like clay animation puppets pixilation and computer generated animation to represent the inner worlds of people with disabilities Crip animation has the potential to challenge the ableist gaze and immerse viewers in an alternative bodily experience In Animated Film and Disability Slava Greenberg analyzes over 30 animated works about disabilities including Rocks in My Pockets An Eyeful of Sound and A Shift in Perception He considers the ableism of live action cinematography the involvement of filmmakers with disabilities in the production process and the evocation of the spectators senses of sight and hearing consequently subverting traditional spectatorship and listenership hierarchies In addition Greenberg explores physical and sensory accessibility in theaters and suggests new ways to accommodate cinematic screenings Offering an introduction to disability studies and crip theory for film media and animation scholars Animated Film and Disability demonstrates that crip animation has the power to breach the spectator's comfort evoking awareness of their own bodies and in certain cases their social privileges Another Disability Studies Reader? Geert Van Hove, 2005 Disability in Film and Literature Nicole Markotić, 2016-06-10 Literary and filmic depictions of the disabled reinforce an ableist ideology that classifies bodies as normal or abnormal positive or negative Disabled characters are often represented as aberrant or evil and are isolated or incarcerated This book examines language in film fiction and other media that perpetuates the representation of the disabled as abnormal or problematic The author looks at depictions of disability both disparaging and amusing and discusses disability theory as a framework for reconsidering normal and abnormal bodies The Politics of Age and Disability in Contemporary Spanish Film Matthew J. Marr, 2013 The Politics of Age and Disability in Contemporary Spanish Film examines the onscreen construction of adolescent elderly and disabled subjects in Spanish cinema from 1992 to the present Applying a dual lens of film analysis and theory drawn from the allied fields of youth age and disability studies this study is set both within and against a conversation on cultural diversity with respect to gender sexual and ethnic identity which has driven not only much of the past decade's most visible and fruitful scholarship on representation in Spanish film but also the broader parameters of discourse on post Transition Spain in the humanities Presenting an engaging and heretofore under explored interdisciplinary approach to images of multiculturalism in what has emerged as one of recent Spain's most vibrant areas of cultural production this book brings a fresh while still complementary critical sensibility to the field of contemporary Peninsular film studies through its detailed discussion of six contemporary films by Salvador Garc a Ruiz Achero Ma as Santiago Aguilar Luis Guridi Marcos

Carnevale Alejandro Amenabar and Pedro Almodóvar and supporting reference to the production of other prominent and emerging filmmakers The Matter of Disability David T. Mitchell, Susan Antebi, Sharon L. Snyder, 2019-05-01 The Matter of Disability returns disability to its proper place as an ongoing historical process of corporeal cognitive and sensory mutation operating in a world of dynamic even cataclysmic change The book's contributors offer new theorizations of human and nonhuman embodiments and their complex evolutions in our global present in essays that explore how disability might be imagined as participant in the complex elaboration of difference rather than something gone awry in an otherwise stable process This alternative approach to materiality sheds new light on the capacities that exist within the depictions of disability that the book examines including Spider-Man, Of Mice and Men and Bloodchild Hideous Progeny Angela Smith, 2012-01-24 Twisted bodies deformed faces aberrant behavior and abnormal desires characterized the hideous creatures of classic Hollywood horror which thrilled audiences with their sheer grotesqueness Most critics have interpreted these traits as symptoms of sexual repression or as metaphors for other kinds of marginalized identities yet Angela M Smith conducts a richer investigation into the period's social and cultural preoccupations She finds instead a fascination with eugenics and physical and cognitive debility in the narrative and spectacle of classic 1930s horror heightened by the viewer's desire for visions of vulnerability and transformation Reading such films as Dracula 1931 Frankenstein 1931 Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde 1931 Freaks 1932 and Mad Love 1935 against early twentieth century disability discourse and propaganda on racial and biological purity Smith showcases classic horror's dependence on the narratives of eugenics and physiognomics She also notes the genre's conflicted and often contradictory visualizations Smith ultimately locates an indictment of biological determinism in filmmakers' visceral treatments which take the impossibility of racial improvement and bodily perfection to sensationalistic heights Playing up the artifice and conventions of disabled monsters filmmakers exploited the fears and yearnings of their audience accentuating both the perversity of the medical and scientific gaze and the debilitating experience of watching horror Classic horror films therefore encourage empathy with the disabled monster offering captive viewers an unsettling encounter with their own impairment Smith's work profoundly advances cinema and disability studies in addition to general histories concerning the construction of social and political attitudes toward the Other Disability and Social Theory D. Goodley, B. Hughes, L. Davis, 2012-06-01 This comprehensive interdisciplinary collection examines disability from a theoretical perspective challenging views of disability that dominate mainstream thinking Throughout social theories of disability intersect with ideas associated with sex gender race ethnicity class and nation Hollywood's Others Katherine Fusco, 2025-09-02 We tend to think about movie stars as either glamorous or relatable But in the 1920s and 1930s when the Hollywood star system was taking shape a number of unusual stars appeared on the silver screen representing groups from which the American mainstream typically sought to avert its eyes What did it mean for a white entertainment columnist to empathize with an ambiguously gendered Black child star Or for boys to idolize Lon Chaney famous for portraying characters with disabilities Hollywood's Others explores the affective ties between white non disabled audiences and the fascinatingly different stars with whom they identified but only up to a point Katherine Fusco argues that stardom in this era at once offered ways for viewers to connect across group boundaries while also policing the limits of empathy Examining fan magazines alongside film performances she traces the intense audience attachment to atypical celebrities and the ways the film industry sought to manage it Fusco considers Shirley Temple's career in light of child labor laws and changing notions of childhood shows how white viewers responded to Black music in depictions of the antebellum South and analyzes the gender politics of conspiracy theories around celebrity suicides Shedding light on marginalized stardoms and the anxieties they provoked Hollywood's Others challenges common notions about film's capacity to build empathy

Disability and the Media Katie Ellis, Gerard Goggin, 2017-09-16 This concise integrated introduction to the complex relationship between disability and the media offers a roadmap to the key areas of participation access and representation Bringing together international theoretical work and research on disability with analysis and examples across a diverse range of media forms from radio to news popular television and new digital technologies this unique text explores the potential for establishing a more diverse rich and just media Providing an approachable but critical introduction to the field Katie Ellis and Gerard Goggin show how disability like the closely connected areas of race and gender is a pervasive issue in how the media represent society Engaging and accessible this is an invaluable resource for students of Media and Communication Studies Cultural Studies and Disability Studies as well as teachers researchers media professionals policy makers and anyone interested in the intersections of disability and media
