Sculpture Space, Recent Trends Sarah A. Clark-Langager, 1984      Sculpture Space Sarah A. Clark-Langager, Munson-Williams-Proctor Institute, 1984      Sculpture Market Trends Gideon Fairchild, AI, 2025-02-22

Sculpture Market Trends offers a comprehensive exploration of the financial aspects of the sculpture and 3D artwork market. It delves into how these unique art forms command diverse prices influenced by factors like historical significance and material composition. Readers will gain insights into market trends and learn to identify investment opportunities, making it a valuable resource for artists, collectors, and investors. The book uncovers the economic principles governing the sculpture market, arguing that despite subjective aesthetic preferences, discernible financial dynamics are at play. It traces the market's evolution from ancient times to the digital age, highlighting the impact of technological changes on artistic production and market demand. The approach is analytical and data-driven, using auction house data and market reports to support its arguments. Organized for a holistic view, the book starts with art valuation and market dynamics before exploring factors driving sculpture prices, such as artist reputation and craftsmanship. Major sections cover various sculpture types, including emerging trends like 3D printed art. It culminates in practical strategies for buying, selling, and investing, complete with case studies and expert insights.

Current Trends in Narratology Greta Olson, 2011-03-29

Current Trends in Narratology offers an overview of cutting-edge approaches to theories of storytelling. The introduction details how new emphases on cognitive processing, non-prose, and multimedia narratives, and interdisciplinary approaches to narratology have altered how narrative and narrativity are understood. The volume also introduces a third post-classical direction of research: comparative narratology, and describes how developments in Germany, Israel, and France may be compared with Anglophone research. Leading international scholars, including Monika Fludernik, Richard Gerrig, Ansgar Nünning, John Pier, Brian Richardson, Alan Palmer, and Werner Wolf, describe not only their newest research but also how this work dovetails with larger narratological developments.

In many anthologies of art, sculpture is given short shrift in relation to other media if it is treated at all. Modern Sculpture Reader aims to rectify this situation by presenting a collection of important texts that have defined sculpture's radically changing status and role since the end of the nineteenth century, a time marked by a general reappraisal of the forms and functions of art. From the rigorously theoretical to the experimental and poetic, Modern Sculpture Reader offers a lively discourse on the medium by a range of artists, writers, critics, and poets: Marcel Duchamp, Louise Bourgeois, Claes Oldenburg, Andr  Breton, Ezra Pound, and Clement Greenberg, in a variety of genres: poems, lectures, transcribed interviews, newspaper and magazine articles, and artists' statements. These diverse text selections offer valuable insight into the development of the critical language of sculpture and its connections to other media in an era of increasingly conceptual artistic practice. Many of the essays highlight key ongoing concerns, such as sculpture's physical properties and conditions of display both of which have important implications for the viewer's tactile and emotional interaction with sculptural works

Sculpture and the Museum Christopher R. Marshall, 2017-07-05 Sculpture and the Museum is the first in-depth examination of the varying roles and meanings assigned to sculpture in museums and galleries during the modern period from neo-classical to contemporary art practice. It considers a rich array of curatorial strategies and settings in order to examine the many reasons why sculpture has enjoyed a position of such considerable importance and complexity within the institutional framework of the museum and how changes to the museum have altered in turn the ways that we perceive the sculpture within it. In particular, the contributors consider the complex issue of how best to display sculpture across different periods and according to varying curatorial philosophies. Sculptors discussed include Canova, Rodin, Henry Moore, Flaxman, and contemporary artists such as Rebecca Horn, Rachel Whiteread, Mark Dion, and Olafur Eliasson, with a variety of museums in America, Canada, and Europe presented as case studies. Underlying all of these discussions is a concern to chart the critical importance of the acquisition, placement, and display of sculpture in museums and to explore the importance of sculptures as a forum for the expression of programmatic statements of power, prestige, and the museum's own sense of itself in relation to its audiences and its broader institutional aspirations. ### Sculpture Techniques

Evelyn Foster, 2025-03-21 Have you ever wondered how a shapeless mass of stone, metal, or clay is transformed into a captivating work of art? Sculpture Techniques unveils the artistic and technical processes behind creating three-dimensional art, exploring both age-old traditions and cutting-edge innovations. This book is not just a survey of sculpture; it's an in-depth guide that illuminates the core methods sculptors use: carving, molding, and casting. Understanding these techniques is crucial for appreciating the art form and provides insight into the artist's vision and skill. Our journey begins with an exploration of carving, the subtractive process of removing material to reveal the desired form. From the monumental sculptures of ancient Egypt to the intricate wood carvings of indigenous cultures, we examine the tools, materials, and conceptual approaches that define this technique. Next, we delve into molding, where pliable materials like clay, wax, or plaster are shaped and built up to create a form. We will investigate methods from hand-building to sophisticated armature construction, highlighting the versatility of this process. The book culminates with an investigation into casting, the indirect method of creating sculpture from molten materials like bronze or resin. We will examine the lost wax process, sand casting, and other specialized techniques. The book emphasizes the historical context of each technique, tracing their evolution and cultural significance. We consider the social and economic factors that have influenced sculptural practices across different eras and regions. The central argument is that a deep understanding of the materials and processes involved in sculpture is essential for both appreciating and creating compelling works of art. Sculpture Techniques is structured to provide a comprehensive learning experience. It begins with an introduction to the fundamental principles of three-dimensional design, followed by dedicated chapters on carving, molding, and casting. Each chapter includes detailed explanations of the tools and materials used, step by step.

step instructions for specific techniques and case studies of notable sculptures that exemplify the process The book concludes with a look at contemporary trends in sculpture including digital fabrication and mixed media approaches Throughout the book arguments are supported by a combination of historical accounts technical diagrams and photographic documentation Drawings illustrate complex procedures while high quality images showcase the work of master sculptors Interviews with contemporary artists provide first hand insights into their creative processes Sculpture is inherently interdisciplinary drawing upon principles of engineering chemistry and design The book touches on the structural integrity required for large scale sculptures the chemical reactions involved in casting and the aesthetic considerations that guide the artist's hand These connections enrich the understanding of sculpture as a multifaceted art form Sculpture Techniques adopts a practical and accessible tone making complex technical information understandable to a wide audience The writing style balances historical background with technical details providing a well rounded learning experience The target audience includes aspiring sculptors art students art historians and anyone with a general interest in the visual arts It will be valuable for those seeking a comprehensive overview of sculptural techniques and the historical context in which they developed As a non fiction art book it adheres to the genre's conventions by providing accurate information detailed illustrations and clear explanations of complex processes The scope of the book is limited to the core techniques of carving molding and casting though it acknowledges and briefly discusses more recent innovations The information presented can be applied in various ways students can use it as a textbook hobbyists can follow the step by step instructions to create their own sculptures and art enthusiasts can gain a deeper appreciation for the art form The book also touches upon some of the ongoing debates in the field such as the role of technology in contemporary sculpture and the traditional versus digital approaches to art making
