The Boy He Left Behind Mark Matousek, 2001-02-01 A riveting story in the hands of a master storyteller James McBride The Color of Water I was four years old when my father came back to kidnap me begins this gripping memoir about Matousek s search for James Matousek the drifter father he never knew Described by the New York Times as part reminiscence part detective story part spiritual musing this memoir is more than the story of one man s search for his father it is also a look at the meaning of life and how fathers contribute to that meaning Growing up in a family of troubled women Matousek s sister committed suicide when the author was 29 he describes the turmoil of growing up fatherless in America an experience shared by millions of children in what sociologists have called the Age of the Absent Father and the difficult ultimately successful struggle to figure out what being a man really means in an age of shifting definitions and evolving sexuality With the tension of a mystery story the climax occurs when Matousek meets a man he believes to be his father But is he And does Matousek who has reconciled with his mother as she lay dying really care These are just two questions leading to this memoir s surprising conclusion
Forgetting Fathers David Marshall, 2015-09-24 An eloquent personal reflection on the fascination of family history and the desire to both discover and escape origins In Forgetting Fathers David Marshall weaves together the stories of his grandfather and great grandfather with his own quest to solve the mystery of his family s past Beginning as a search for his lost family name Marshall attempts to understand the origins of his grandfather who spent part of his childhood in the Hebrew Orphan Asylum of the City of New York He also reconstructs the life and death of his great grandfather a Russian immigrant tailor who died at age thirty six in a private sanitarium dedicated to the treatment of mental and nervous diseases The narrative becomes a detective story that reflects on our ambivalence about origins the relation between history and mourning and the compulsion to search for life stories Forgetting Fathers combines historical accounts based on records reports and public documents with autobiographical reflections and speculations Included throughout are photographs newspaper clippings and facsimiles of original documents that provide a sense of both the texture of the times and the fabric of archival and genealogical research One of our most gifted literary scholars David Marshall in Forgetting Fathers has written an un forgettable detective story born in a deeply felt personal quest to solve the mystery of his grandfather s name The result is not only an absorbing read it is a profound testament to the human impulse to know who we are and from whence we came For Marshall that secret was locked a century ago in the Hebrew Orphan Asylum of the City of New York and in his odyssey to find and turn the key Marshall

Men Into Fathers Barbara Meil Hobson,2002-01-10 Fatherhood is on the political agenda in many countries often cast in terms of crisis One side of the policy debate focuses on fathers as deadbeat dads who do not provide financial support and care for their children The other revolves around making men into active and engaged fathers However these policies are often at odds with the employers reluctance to accommodate work schedules to fathers needs In Making Men into Fathers prominent scholars in gender studies and the critical studies of men consider how varied institutional settings and policy logics around cash and care contour the possibilities and constraints for new models of fatherhood determining the choices open to men From different historical and societal perspectives the authors provide insights into the studies of men as gendered subjects including the role of transnational and global issues of fatherhood and the emergence of men's movements contesting and reimagining fatherhood Wounded Masculinity and the Search for (Father) Self in American Film Susan Mackey-Kallis,Brian Johnston,2023-12-12 Drawing on texts and theorists of Greek myth psychoanalysis and masculinities Susan Mackey Kallis and Brian Johnston develop and offer a model of rhetorical and mythic criticism to analyze popular American film In this book Mackey Kallis and Johnston focus their analysis on films that point to the need for father atonement ego decentering and the resurrection of the lost feminine to heal our collective gendered cultural wounds Many of these mystic films they contend affirm the role of meaningful suffering compassion integration of the feminine self sacrifice and transcendence as antidotes to the inevitable woundedness of the human condition Ultimately the authors argue for the importance of digging into the substance of cultural wounds rather than superficially suturing them over to change the conversation about woundedness and provide a roadmap for healing gendered relations in contemporary American culture The book concludes with a discussion of Joseph Campbell s interpretation of the metaphorical power of myth and its transcendent function to argue for a theory of us rather than a theory of us versus them Scholars of film gender studies American studies cultural studies gender studies and psychology will find this book of particular interest
