Peace And Prosperity In An Age Of Incivility:

Peace and Prosperity in an Age of Incivility William Eric Davis, 2006 Peace and Prosperity in an Age of Incivility presents a comprehensive theory about peace and prosperity. It asserts that three core political values: liberty, order, and equality must be allocated by societies through law and policy. This book shows that the optimal allocation is pure balance. Balance of values provides the origin of the democratic peace: the observation that democracies rarely fight each other and when they do it is brief, does not escalate, and quickly results in a diplomatic resolution. By building on simple forms of spatial and game theories, this stunning analysis shows that the democratic peace is a Nash equilibrium where no player has an incentive to deviate from the solution given the choices of other players. Democracy, because it fosters compromise, drives the political values of liberty, order, and equality to intersect in perfect or at least relative balance. Maximum peace and prosperity is the consequence of balancing critical values. A nation's level of peace and prosperity, while perhaps not great, will be no greater than when these core values are in balance. Prosperity, while perhaps not great, will be no greater than when these core values are in balance. Pondering Life Issues / Gedagtegange Chris Jones, 2022-09-23 Over the past seven years, the author has written several articles for the media, often on request. This volume comprises the most important of these articles. The first 50 articles, Part 1, appear in English, and the last 39, Deel 2, in Afrikaans. The footnotes indicate who published the specific article and when. The latter is important because it puts each article in context. Sometimes the content in this volume differs slightly from that which has appeared in the media. Some of the articles have also been published by other than the indicated media platform: daily newspaper, but they are not mentioned here. There are some themes that overlap in English and Afrikaans but are not direct translations of each other. More than one article has been written on certain themes, and some articles were co-authored with colleagues, as indicated in the footnotes. Civil and Uncivil Violence in Lebanon Samir Khalaf, 2002-04-18 In this long-awaited work, Samir Khalaf analyzes the history of civil strife and political violence in Lebanon and reveals the inherent contradictions that have plagued that country and made it so vulnerable to both inter-Arab and superpower rivalries. How did a fairly peaceful and resourceful society with an impressive history of viable pluralism, coexistence, and republicanism become the site of so much barbarism and incivility? Khalaf argues that historically, internal grievances have been magnified or deflected to become the source of international conflict. From the beginning, he shows, foreign interventions have consistently exacerbated internal problems. Lebanon's fragmented political culture is a byproduct of two general features. First, it reflects the traditional forces and political conflicts caused by striking differences in religious beliefs and communal and sectarian loyalties that continue to split the society and reinforce its factional character. Second, and superimposed on these, are new forms of socioeconomic and cultural stress caused by Lebanon's role in the continuing international conflicts in the region.

Khalaf concludes that Lebanon is now at a crossroads in its process of political and social transformation and proposes some strategies to re create a vibrant civil and political culture that can accommodate profound transformations in the internal domestic sphere as well as mediate developments taking place internationally Throughout Khalaf demonstrates how the internal and external currents must be considered simultaneously in order to understand the complex and tragic history of the country This deeply considered and subtle analysis of the interplay of complex historical forces helps us to imagine a viable future not only for Lebanon but also for the Middle East as a whole
