

The background of the image is a scenic landscape. A two-lane asphalt road with white dashed lines curves through a dark, forested valley. In the distance, more hills are visible under a sky with soft, orange and pink clouds, suggesting a sunset or sunrise. The overall mood is contemplative and serene.

To the warrior, peace has no memories, no milestones, no adventures, no heroic deaths, no gut-wrenching sorrow, no jubilation, no remorse, no repentance, and no salvation. Peace was meant for some people, but probably not for me.

Peace Has No Space For Memories:

Uncovering Memory Tanja Sakota, 2023-03 The book is an interdisciplinary work shaped around films made by different workshop participants using film to access personal interpretations of space and place It is focused on interacting and engaging with remembering through different memory sites Travelling along a timeline of memory Tanja Sakota takes us on a journey through South Africa Germany Poland and Bosnia Herzegovina Using a camera and short film format Sakota hosts several workshops in different countries focused on interacting and engaging with remembering through different memory sites The author sits at the core but the book is an interdisciplinary work shaped around films made by different workshop participants using film to access personal interpretations of space and place Questions that underpin the uncovering of memories are How does one use a camera to make the invisible visible How does one remember events that one hasn't necessarily experienced How does one use film to interrogate the past from the future present As the journey evolves workshop participants and readers alike enter into a conversation around practice based research autoethnography and film

The Language of Ethics and Community in Graham Greene's Fiction Paula Martín Salvan, 2016-04-29 A study of Graham Greene's fiction from the perspective of ethics and community focusing on the narrative pattern that emerges from the author's idiosyncratic use of keywords like peace despair compassion or commitment This book explores their potential for the textual articulation of narrative conflict and the dramatization of the ethical

Heritage as an action word: Uses beyond communal memory Susan Shay, Kelly M. Britt, 2024-04-16 There is no limit to what constitutes heritage By definition heritage is the use of the past for present purposes Yet to any given group or population heritage can be a multitude of things and can serve a variety of purposes Based on shared memory heritage can be tangible or intangible boundless in variety and scope it can be for example objects landscapes food or clothing music or dance sites or statues monuments or buildings Importantly however heritage also has many and varied uses and powers It can be used to control to unite to engage and to empower people communities and nations In this interdisciplinary volume authors from around the world explore how different communities nations and groups intentionally and creatively use heritage both tangible and intangible in a wide variety of ways to positively address social and environmental issues Significantly these studies demonstrate how heritage can be an exceptionally valuable tool for political economic and social change Insightful studies are presented pertaining to heritage as social memory including the nationalistic political use of heritage heritage as resistance to political powers traditional knowledge as environmental science heritage for legal and community action heritage for building peace heritage for Indigenous and minority empowerment and heritage for exploring the past through phenomenological methods The goal of this volume is to move beyond seeing heritage as only social memory a mere interpretation of static past events people or places and instead explores critically the variety of ways heritage is engaged in the present and can be in the future

Architecture, Space and Memory of Resurrection in Northern Ireland Mohamed Gamal Abdelmonem, Gehan

Selim, 2019-04-25 Northern Ireland has a complex urbanism with multilayered socio spatial politics In this environment issues of communication self representation and expression of identity are central to the experience of urban space and architecture where the dichotomy of division and shared living are spatially exercised in everyday life Unlike other studies in the area this book focuses on the everyday experiences of local communities in both public and private spheres issues of shareness challenging conventional approaches to divided cities The book aims to layer its narratives of architectural and social developments as an urban experience in post conflict settings over the past two decades Ancestral Memory in Early China K. E. Brashier, 2011 Ancestral ritual in early China was an orchestrated dance between what was present the offerings and the living and what was absent the ancestors The interconnections among the tangible elements of the sacrifice were overt and almost mechanical but extending those connections to the invisible guests required a medium that was itself invisible Thus in early China ancestral sacrifice was associated with focused thinking about the ancestors with a structured mental effort by the living to reach out to the absent forebears and to give them shape and existence Thinking about the ancestors about those who had become distant required active deliberation and meditation qualities that had to be nurtured and learned This study is a history of the early Chinese ancestral cult particularly its cognitive aspects Its goals are to excavate the cult's color and vitality and to quell assumptions that it was no more than a simplistic and uninspired exchange of food for longevity of prayers for prosperity Ancestor worship was not the author contends merely mechanical and thoughtless Rather it was an idea system that aroused serious debates about the nature of postmortem existence served as the religious backbone to Confucianism and may even have been the forerunner of Daoist and Buddhist meditation practices

Memory, Reconciliation, and Reunions in South Korea Nan Kim, 2016-10-31 Winner of the 2019 Scott Bills Memorial Prize for Outstanding First Book in Peace History Memory Reconciliation and Reunions in South Korea Crossing the Divide explores the history and tells the story of the emotionally charged meetings that took place among family members who after having lost all contact for over fifty years on opposite sides of the Korean divide were temporarily reunited in a series of events beginning in 2000 During an unprecedented period of reconciliation between North and South Korea those nationally televised reunions would prove to be the largest meetings held theretofore among civilians from the two states since the inter Korean border was sealed following the end of active hostilities in 1953 Drawing on field research during the reunions as they happened oral histories with family members who participated interviews among government officials involved in the events negotiation and planning and observations of breakthrough developments at the turn of the millennium this book narrates a grounded history of these pivotal events The book further explores the implications of such intimate family encounters for the larger political and cultural processes of moving from a disposition of enmity to one of recognition and engagement through attempts at achieving sustained reconciliation amid the complex legacies of civil war and the global Cold War on the Korean Peninsula Managing and Interpreting D-Day's Sites of Memory Geoffrey Bird, Sean

Claxton, Keir Reeves, 2016-03-02 More than seventy years following the D Day Landings of 6 June 1944 Normandy's war heritage continues to intrigue visitors and researchers Receiving well over two million visitors a year the Normandy landscape of war is among the most visited cultural sites in France This book explores the significant role that heritage and tourism play in the present day with regard to educating the public as well as commemorating those who fought The book examines the perspectives experiences and insights of those who work in the field of war heritage in the region of Normandy where the D Day landings and the Battle of Normandy occurred In this volume practitioner authors represent a range of interrelated roles and responsibilities These perspectives include national and regional governments and coordinating agencies involved in policy planning and implementation war cemetery commissions managers who oversee particular museums and sites and individual battlefield tour guides whose vocation is to research and interpret sites of memory Often interviewed as key informants for scholarly articles the day to day observations experiences and management decisions of these guardians of remembrance provide valuable insight into a range of issues and approaches that inform the meaning of tourism remembrance and war heritage as well as implications for the management of war sites elsewhere Complementing the Normandy practitioner offerings more scholarly investigations provide an opportunity to compare and debate what is happening in the management and interpretation at other World War II related sites of war memory such as at Pearl Harbor Okinawa and Portsmouth UK This innovative volume will be of interest to those interested in remembrance tourism war heritage dark tourism battlefield tourism commemoration D Day and World War II Latent Memory Maxine

Lowy, 2022-04-14 Generations of marginalized Jewish immigrants and refugees migrated to Chile during the first half of the twentieth century only to live through persecution during Pinochet's military coup Maxine Lowy asks how individuals and institutions may overcome fear indifference and convenience to take a stand even under intense political duress

(Re)Constructing Memory: Education, Identity, and Conflict Michelle J. Bellino, James H. Williams, 2017-02-08 How do schools protect young people and call on the youngest citizens to respond to violent conflict and division operating outside and sometimes within school walls What kinds of curricular representations of conflict contribute to the construction of national identity and what kinds of encounters challenge presumed boundaries between us and them Through contemporary and historical case studies drawn from Cambodia Egypt Northern Ireland Peru and Rwanda among others this collection explores how societies experiencing armed conflict and its aftermath imagine education as a space for forging collective identity peace and stability and national citizenship In some contexts the erasure of conflict and the homogenization of difference are central to shaping national identities and attitudes In other cases collective memory of conflict functions as a central organizing frame through which citizenship and national identity are re-constructed with embedded messages about who belongs and how social belonging is achieved The essays in this volume illuminate varied and complex interrelationships between education conflict and national identity while accounting for ways in which policymakers teachers youth and community members replicate resist and transform conflict through everyday interactions in educational spaces

Memories and Studies of War and Peace Archibald Forbes, 1895 The Construction of Memory in Interwar France Daniel J. Sherman, 1999 The contrast between battlefield and home front soldier and civilian was the basis for memory and collective gratitude Postwar commemoration however also grew directly out of the long and agonized search for the remains of hundreds of thousands of missing soldiers and the sometimes contentious debates over where to bury them For this reason the local monument with its inscribed list of names and its functional resemblance to tombstones emerged as the focal point of commemorative practice Sherman traces every step in the process of monument building as he analyzes commemoration's competing goals to pay tribute to the dead to console the bereaved and to incorporate mourners' individual memories into a larger political discourse Pub description The Mind in Disease M. P. Leahy, 2018-02-21 The Mind in Disease Some Conditions Cured by Suggestion Fourth Impression emphasizes that a hopeful mental outlook can do much to improve a patient's condition in disease whether the disease itself is physical or mental This book stresses that the mind is a factor in disease and acts sometimes by virtue of willpower or at other times by virtue of the imagination By combining imagination and willpower suggestion can be developed to cure many diseases The topics discussed include the relationship between patient and doctor in suggestion treatment physical pain and how suggestion acts in the relief of it chronic constipation cured by an impression made on the mind and depression in a German prisoners of war camp 1915 This publication is suitable for psychiatrists and medical practitioners interested in suggestion treatment Beyond Memory Silvana Ziviani, 2014-05-14 Silvana Ziviani seventy five year old has had an extremely adventurous life both internally and externally and with this book a true and exact report of her inner voyage she wants to offer testimony of the direct experience of her long and difficult religious search the hard fought and thrilling quest for the freedom of the heart This is a book that can be read at different levels It is an autobiography of a modern woman and her adventurous life but at the same time it's a study of Buddhism and its various traditions it is the direct experience of the teachings of the foremost spiritual masters during entire years of silence and meditation almost without interruption years of going deeply within into the mechanics of the mind and emotions isolated in various meditation centers throughout Europe and Asia Nepal Burma Sri Lanka Thailand Imagining Europe: Memory, Visions, and Counter-Narratives Lars Klein, Martin Tamcke, 2015 In the course of the so called economic and financial crisis from 2008 onwards there has been a fierce debate about the role and purpose of the European Union It was led in politics and the media just as in academia The economic usefulness of the Euro has been discussed and the political implications of a fostered European unification Most often the state of Europeanization has been presented as being without alternatives no Europe without Greece no Euro without Greece no way back to the nation state in its old form As a result the debate on Europe was largely narrowed down to the very questions of the immediate crisis namely economics and finance Only a few voices held that the crisis in fact was one of politics not of economics And only late did politicians mention again that Europe is more than the EU Alternative views of Europe however were scarce and often presented full of consequences It thus came without much surprise that the lacking imaginative power of politicians as well as intellectuals was criticized The idea for this volume sprang from that situation The editors invited scholars from various disciplines to present them with ways of imagining Europe that go beyond the rather limited view of EU institutions How was how is Europe imagined Which memories are evoked which visions explicated Which counter narratives to prominent discourses are there Crosses of Memory and Oblivion Miguel Ángel del Arco Blanco,2023-07-31 This book explores the history and legacy of monuments to the fallen from the Francoist side in the Spanish Civil War Del Arco Blanco studies thousands of monuments in towns and cities across Spain to provide a detailed account of the history and memory of the civil war Francoism and the transition to democracy Chapters in the book focus on the myth of those said to have fallen for God and for Spain a phrase that encapsulated and shaped the dichotomy between good and bad Spaniards They also focus on the use of monuments to control political and ideological ideals and to legitimise the Francoist dictatorship Further chapters study Spanish society's struggle to deal with its past of mass killing denial and exclusion Del Arco Blanco also pays attention to the way the Francoist authorities used monuments and memory for their political and ideological advantage and to control people power as well as the political agenda The book draws on extensive research to reconstruct both the specific history of monuments scattered throughout the country and their role within manipulative Francoist memory of the Spanish Civil War In these ways monuments helped shape the Francoist narrative and memory but they also became part of the landscape of contemporary Spanish history This book is an excellent resource for postgraduate students and professional researchers studying the aftermath of the Spanish Civil War and the influence of monuments on the construction of national memory culture and society in Spain both at the time and through to the present day Hidden Valley, Hidden Mind Eleanor Mannikka,2011-04-01 In the latter half of the 1950s a series of unusual events that started with a UFO encounter continued with a near death experience and ended with unusual transformations of consciousness started me on a journey to Tibetan Buddhism Several decades passed before I began to suspect that the Tibetan legend of Shambhala might tie these disparate events together This book is the result Tapestry in Time... a Woven Memory Rev.
