The Militarisation of Peacekeeping in the Twenty-First Century James Sloan, 2011-11-01 Since the end of the last century UN peacekeeping has undergone a fundamental and largely unexamined change Peacekeeping operations long expected to use force only in self defence and to act impartially are now increasingly relied upon by the Security Council as a means to maintain and restore security within a country The operations are established under Chapter VII of the UN Charter and some are empowered to use all necessary measures language traditionally reserved for enforcement operations Through a close examination of these twenty first century peacekeeping operations including operations in Sierra Leone the Democratic Republic of the Congo Liberia C te d Ivoire Haiti and the Darfur region of the Sudan the book shows that they are for the most part fundamentally ill suited to the enforcement type tasks being asked of them The operations which are under funded under equipped and whose troops are under trained frequently lurch from crisis to crisis There is scant evidence some 10 years on that matters are likely to improve The book argues that bestowing enforcement type functions on a peacekeeping operation is misconceived Such operations are likely to be unsuccessful in their enforcement type tasks thereby causing serious damage to the excellent reputation of UN peacekeeping and the UN more broadly In addition because such operations are more likely to be perceived as partial their ability to carry out traditional non forceful peacekeeping tasks may be impeded Finally the Security Council s practice of charging peacekeeping operations with enforcement functions lessens the pressure on the Council to work to establish genuine enforcement operations ie operations that are considerably better suited to restoring peace and security Dr Sloan is able to show in knowledgeable detail not only what has changed over the years but also what has brought these changes about His analysis leads him to offer not only well informed insights but critical observations too This book is a pleasing combination of detailed scrutiny of topics already familiar provisional measures consent so called Chapter VI 2 action implied powers and a rigorous questioning as to their place in or indeed relevance at all to militarised peacekeeping The reader will find much new terrain traversed and plenty of out of the box thinking From the foreword by Dame Rosalyn Higgins

The Economics of UN Peacekeeping Nadège Sheehan, 2011-07-25 Peacekeeping is a security concept that is very representative of the current interventionism multilateralism human rights and humanitarian ideas UN peacekeeping plays an important role in international security and includes various activities that go beyond the original roles assigned to UN armed forces e g humanitarian aid election supervision disarmament mine clearance civilian protection and peacebuilding The problem is to define the economic efficiency of these operations and to develop some recommendations in the context of an economic globalization process Although UN peacekeeping has shortcomings it must be considered essential for organizing and defending the world politico economic order UN peacekeeping is a political activity but its production strongly depends on nations economic considerations Governments make political decisions that also take into account the economic gains they expect to obtain from their contribution to any specific mission With low means and inadequate strategies to meet the challenges UN peacekeeping must pay particular attention to resolving the problems of free riding and of prisoner s dilemma in contributions that delay deployments and create significant financial problems Understanding how peacekeeping can be most cost effectively carried out while considering the importance of legitimacy in interventions is essential This book believes that regional organizations can ease the UN s financial responsibility by managing conflicts in their regions But to be most effective they must involve the UN in their interventions This book also emphasizes UN peacekeeping trust funds as the key to better financial effectiveness It strongly recommends that NATO be empowered by the UN with the role of global peace police and proposes the establishment of a UN high ranking team of international specialists in peacekeeping issues This research should be of interest to students and researchers looking at international and political economics as well as international relations defence security and peace studies
