Ethics in Contact Rhetoric Jon Radwan, Dale Cyphert, Ellen W. Gorsevski, Omar Swartz, 2024-12-15 Ethics in Contact Rhetoric re orients communication theory by centering touch and de centering symbolic acts Inspired by MLK's tradition of nonviolent power a contact orientation highlights the incarnate and immediate ground of communication ethics Ethical interactions are defined as bio relational dances arcing steps of nurture respect justice and too often violence Centering humanity's physical mutuality is a vital move today Communication is a thoroughly interactive art but the West's ancient instrumental tradition of rhetoric and its accompanying utilitarian ethic valorize individual agency over joint action This book re balances rhetorical theory by enabling critique of embodied relational patterns Special emphasis is placed on engaging material injustice and discerning the role of rhetoric in social transformation Critical case studies demonstrate contact rhetoric's rich heuristic and diverse applications

The Megarhetorics of Global Development Rebecca Dingo, J. Blake Scott, 2012-01-29 After World War II an unprecedented age of global development began The formation of the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund allowed war torn and poverty stricken nations to become willing debtors in their desire to entice Western investment and trade New capital it was foretold would pave the way to political and economic stability and the benefits would trickle down to even the poorest citizens The hyperbole of this neocolonialism however has left many of these countries with nothing but compounded debt and unfulfilled promises The Megarhetorics of Global Development examines rhetorical strategies used by multinational corporations NGOs governments banks and others to further their own economic political or technological agendas These wide ranging case studies employ rhetorical theory globalization scholarship and analysis of cultural and historical dynamics to offer in depth critiques of development practices and their material effects By deconstructing megarhetorics at both the local and global level and following their paths of mobilization and diffusion the concepts of progress and growth can be reevaluated with the end goal of encouraging self sustaining and ethical outcomes

Romancing Human Rights Tamara C. Ho, 2015-01-31 When the world thinks of Burma it is often in relation to Nobel laureate and icon Aung San Suu Kyi But beyond her is another world one that complicates the overdetermination of Burma as a pariah state and myths about the high status of Southeast Asian women Highlighting and critiquing this fraught terrain Tamara C Ho's Romancing Human Rights maps Burmese women as real and imagined figures across the twentieth century and into the twenty first century More than a recitation of on the ground facts Ho's groundbreaking scholarship the first monograph to examine Anglophone literature and dynamics of gender and race in Pinkerton,2024-03-21 This book studies Buddhist public advocacy and activism in Thailand a movement often broadly called socially engaged Buddhism from the perspective of rhetorical studies specifically on humanizing and dehumanizing communication practices In modern Thailand and historical Siam Buddhism has been integral to the social change processes shaping civil society and an emerging democracy This study examined two problems How do contemporary Buddhists in Thailand use rhetorical practice to influence the way the issues they work on are understood and how do these Buddhists justify their advocacy and activism in rhetorical practice To the first a rhetoric of dignity or humanization was the central answer To the second a rhetoric of duty was the central answer For researchers in Southeast Asian Studies Thai Studies and Buddhist Studies this book offers a fresh perspective on socially engaged Buddhism through the lens of the communication discipline For researchers in Psychology and Communication it sheds light on the understudied practices of humanizing communication The bulk of the current research is focused on its opposite dehumanization and most of this literature is in the field of psychology even though humanization and dehumanization are fundamentally and ontologically communication phenomena For researchers within the field of Communication and Rhetorical Studies this book advances innovations in the emerging practices of rhetorical field methods by applying rhetorical criticism to interview data in a new way and provides a non western perspective on communication and rhetorical theory for which there has been continual calls Rhetorical Animals Kristian Bjørkdahl,Alex C. Parrish,2017-11-30 For this edited volume the editors solicited chapters that investigate the place of nonhuman animals in the purview of rhetorical theory what it would mean to communicate beyond the human community how rhetoric reveals our brute roots In other words this book investigates themes that enlighten us about likely or possible implications of the animal turn within rhetorical studies The present book is unique in its focus on the call for nonanthropocentrism in rhetorical studies Although there have been many hints in recent years that rhetoric is beginning to consider the implications of the animal turn as yet no other anthology makes this its explicit starting point and sustained objective Thus the various contributions to this book promise to further the ongoing debate about what rhetoric might be after it sheds its long standing humanistic bias
