Information Ingrid Lehmann, 2018-12-07 Ms Lehmann has provided a timely and challenging prescription for just how the goals of placing communication functions at the heart of the strategic management of the UN might be achieved and a dramatic warning of the consequences of failing to do so NATO and Peace Support Operations, 1991-1999 Henning A. Frantzen, 2004-12-17 This new book addresses the key question of how NATO and three of its member states are configuring their policies and military doctrines in order to handle the new strategic environment This environment is increasingly dominated by new wars more precisely civil wars within states and peacekeeping as the strategy devised by outside actors for dealing with them The book seeks to explain how this new strategic environment has been interpreted and how the new conflicts and peacekeeping have been fitted into defence and war key concepts in the field of security studies The Military and Negotiation Deborah Goodwin, 2004-11-23 A new investigation of the role of the modern soldier diplomat and the nature of military negotiation in comparison with negotiation in other key contexts This new book presents a detailed analysis of the role of the military in current operations as negotiators and liaison workers in the field It shows how very few in the academic world are writing on this specific role of the military and the nature of negotiation in this situation and such a volatile context This publication is a first in this context and has a keen audience in light of the current world order This study breaks new ground in analyzing the nature of military negotiation in relation to more generic forms of negotiation and assessing the role of the modern soldier diplomat in recent deployments around the world The author is an academic working within the military environment very few people have the same capacity and accessibility to firsthand evidence and observation Whilst peacekeeping has grown in the last decade or so no one has successfully investigated the role of the military and their approach to non violent conflict resolution on the ground as few have access to such work to make a viable detailed assessment of the nature of negotiation in a violent context but Dr Goodwin is able to do so Rethinking the

Liberal Peace Shahrbanou Tadjbakhsh, 2011-03-08 This book presents a critical analysis of the liberal peace project and offers possible alternatives and models In the past decade the model used for reconstructing societies after conflicts has been based on liberal assumptions about the pacifying effects of open markets and open societies Yet despite the vast resources invested in helping establish the precepts of this liberal peace outcomes have left much to be desired The book argues that failures in the liberal peace project are not only due to efficiency problems related to its adaptation in adverse local environments but mostly due to problems of legitimacy of turning an ideal into a doctrine for action The aim of the book is to scrutinize assumptions about the value of democratization and marketization and realities on the ground by combining theoretical discussions with empirical evidence from key post conflict settings such as Iraq and Afghanistan These show the disparities that exist between the ideals and the reality of the liberal peace project as seen by external peacebuilders and domestic actors The book then proposes various alternatives and modifications to better accommodate local perspectives values and agency in attempts to forge a new consensus This book will be of great interest to students of peacebuilding peacekeeping statebuilding war and conflict studies international security and IR

A UN 'Legion' Stephen Kinloch Pichat,2004-09-30 A fresh examination of the origins evolution and future of proposals for a UN Legion a permanent military force recruited trained and deployed by the UN This new book shows how this idea has grown re emerged and evolved in direct connection with the development of UN international military forces The legionnaires have been seen as the future representatives of a modern constabulary international police or humanitarian chivalry They have also invariably evoked the idea of mercenaries and resurrected fears of supranational government and a world army Such a force has been unattainable when needed not needed when attainable revealing the deficiencies of the international system in the perspective of a particular task The idea highlights the inadequacy of the means as compared to the objectives and the limits of the UN s capacity to adapt itself to new challenges This study examines how the project of a UN Legion is conditional on the viability of the original Utopia and vice versa It also argues that the extreme polarization of the debate may reflect a tendency to negate the inherent contradictions of reality reminding us of the historical dimension of the building of an international organization a work in progress

Mitigating Conflict Henry F. Carey,Oliver P. Richmond,2004-08-02 This title examines the roles and new opportunities arising from the increasing participation of non governmental organizations NGOs in peace making peacekeeping and peace building processes both formal and informal state sponsored and unofficial Drawing on both academic experts and activists this study brings together contributions from those who have observed how NGOs have sought to reflect civil society concerns provide humanitarian relief monitor compliance with international norms and treaty requirements and disseminate information of concern to advocacy networks A critical appraisal of the opportunities and constraints of NGOs is provided alongside the examination of the NGOs role in the new agendas for peace

Peace Operations and Organized Crime James Cockayne,Adam Lupel,2011-05-10 Peace operations are increasingly on the front line in the international community s fight against organized crime this book explores how in some cases peace operations and organized crime are clear enemies while in others they may become tacit allies The threat posed by organized crime to international and human security has become a matter of considerable strategic concern for national and international decision makers so it is somewhat surprising how little thought has been devoted to addressing the complex relationship between organized crime and peace operations This volume addresses this gap questioning the emerging orthodoxy that portrays organized crime as an external threat to the liberal peace championed by western and allied states and delivered through peace operations Based upon a series of case studies it concludes that organized crime is both a potential enemy and a potential ally of peace operations and it argues for the need to distinguish between strategies to contain organized crime and strategies to transform the political economies in which it flourishes. The editors argue for the development of intelligent transnational and transitional law enforcement that can make the most of organized crime as a potential ally for transforming political economies while at the same time containing the threat it presents as an enemy to building effective and responsible states. The book will be of great interest to students of peacebuilding, peace and conflict studies, organised crime, Security Studies and IR in general.

Recovering from Civil Conflict Edward Newman, Albrecht Schnabel, 2014-04-04. A number of international contributors emphasize the conceptual and practical challenges facing post conflict societies and the international community in the management of the transition from civil conflict to peaceful coexistence.

Statebuilding and Justice Reform Matteo Tondini, 2010-02-25. The book provides an updated account of justice reform in Afghanistan which started in the wake of the US led military intervention of 2001. In particular it focuses on the role of international actors and their interaction with local stakeholders highlighting some provisional results together with problems and dilemmas encountered in the reform activities. Since the mid 1990s justice system reform has become increasingly important in state building operations particularly with regard to the international administrations of Bosnia, Kosovo, East Slavonia and East Timor. Statebuilding and Justice Reform examines in depth the reform of justice in Afghanistan evaluating whether the success of reform may be linked to any specific feature or approach. In doing so it stresses the need for development programmes in the field of justice to be implemented through a multilateral approach involving domestic authorities and other relevant stakeholders. Success is therefore linked to limiting the political interests of donors, establishing functioning pooled financing mechanisms, restricting the use of bilateral projects, improving the efficacy of technical and financial aid and concentrating the attention on the demand for justice at local level rather than on the traditional supply of financial and technical assistance. This book will be of much interest to students of Afghanistan, intervention and statebuilding, peacekeeping and post conflict reconstruction as well as International Relations in general. Matteo Tondini is a researcher and a legal advisor. He has served as a project advisor to the Embassy of Italy in Kabul, Development Cooperation Unit working within the Afghanistan Justice Program and has a Phd in Political Systems and Institutional Change from the Institute of Advanced Studies, Lucca, Italy.

Global Lies? M. Alleyne, 2003-07-25. Mark D Alleyne analyzes the key role of the UN's public information department in the organization's pursuit of its objectives. The prominence of concepts such as human rights and national self determination in the international arena is due to the activity of this UN department. Alleyne explores the UN's use of propaganda to shape the agenda of international relations.

South America and Peace Operations Kai Michael Kenkel, 2013-07-18. This volume is the first English language work to focus specifically on South America in the context of peace operations. The region of South America has been undergoing significant changes recently with regard to its attitudes towards participation in peace operations. Leaving behind a strong reluctance with regard to intervention the states have recently taken on a much stronger presence among UN peacekeepers The foremost showcase of this more robust and responsible stance has been MINUSTAH the current UN mission in Haiti South American contributors provide over half the operation s troops and the Force Commander is provided by Brazil This book is intended as an introduction for researchers to the nexus of issues surrounding South America s increasing influence as a contributor to peace operations The authors provide the reader with a historically and theoretically grounded understanding of what motivates defence policy and decisions on intervention in the region Featuring contributions from prominent thinkers in the field and a broad range of case studies this volume successfully combines practical applicability with diversity of analysis This book will be of much interest to students of peacekeeping South American politics peace and conflict studies security studies and International Relations in general

Peace Operations in the Francophone World Bruno Charbonneau, Tony Chafer, 2014-05-09 This book critically examines peacebuilding humanitarian intervention and peace operation practices and experiences in francophone spaces Francophone Africa as a specific space is relatively little studied in the peace and security literature despite the fact that almost half of all peacekeepers are deployed or were deployed in this part of Africa during the last decade It is an arena for intervention that deserves more serious attention if only because it provides fertile ground for exploring the key questions raised in the peacekeeping and peacebuilding literature For instance in 2002 a French operation Licorne was launched and in 2003 a UN force was deployed in C te d Ivoire alongside the French force there Filling a gap in the current literature Peace Operations in the Francophone World critically examines peacekeeping and peacebuilding practices in the francophone world including but not limited to conflict prevention and resolution security sector reform SSR francophone politics and North South relations The book explores whether peace and security operations in francophone spaces have exceptional characteristics when compared with those carried out in other parts of the world and assesses whether an analysis of these operations in the francophone world can make a specific and original contribution to wider international debates about peacekeeping and peacebuilding This book will be of much interest to students of peacekeeping peacebuilding peace and conflict studies African politics security studies and IR in general

Anti-racism and Multiculturalism Mark Alleyne, 2017-09-08 All scholarly books are engagements with the existing literature often the published scholarly work of one established discipline This book originated with modest objectives to produce a work that would be in conversation with the literature of international relations even though not of relevance only to that field The professed goal of international relations is international peace The ethical lens of pondering the best means to achieve world peace is used to filter media content in the field of multiculturalism and anti racism Although there has been little work on the impact of racial difference on the contours of contemporary international order there has been a sizeable body of research intended to abolish the credibility of pseudo scientific racism Such racism has provided the ideological foundation and justification for imperialism colonialism the holocaust and apartheid Race has been debunked as a myth Because of this racism the ideology bred of human classification according to racial difference has been found to be intellectually and morally barren But the need to communicate egalitarian and scientific sentiments remains The contributors to this volume consider five questions How does the literature on antiracism improve our understanding of conflict resolution How does the analysis of the media s role in racist and anti racist discourses improve the process of theorizing on hate and war propaganda How can research on anti racist discourse improve UN peacekeeping What implications does this subject have for theory building and cultural diversity How and why should the literature on anti racism expand research in international relations This is a unique worthwhile framework for cross disciplinary research in race and intellectual consensus and conflict
