Peacemaking In Rwanda The Dynamics Of Failure:

Peacemaking in Rwanda Bruce D. Jones, 2001 Contemporary Peacemaking Roger Mac Ginty, Anthony Wanis-St. John, 2022-01-12 This fully updated third edition of Contemporary Peacemaking is a state of the art overview of peacemaking in relation to contemporary civil wars It examines best and worst practice in relation to peace processes and peace accords The contributing authors are a mix of leading academics and practitioners with expert knowledge of a wide arrays of cases and techniques The book provides a mix of theory and concept building along with insights into ongoing cases of peace processes and post accord peacebuilding The chapters make clear that peacemaking is a dynamic field with new practices in peacemaking techniques changes to the international peace support architecture and greater awareness of key issues such as gender and development after peace accords The book is mindful of the intersection between top down and bottom up approaches to peace and how formal and institutionalized peace accords need to be lived and enacted by communities on the ground Final Solutions Benjamin A. Valentino, 2013-01-19 Benjamin A Valentino finds that ethnic hatreds or discrimination undemocratic systems of government and dysfunctions in society play a much smaller role in mass killing and genocide than is commonly assumed He shows that the impetus for mass killing usually originates from a relatively small group of powerful leaders and is often carried out without the active support of broader society Mass killing in his view is a brutal political or military strategy designed to accomplish leaders most important objectives counter threats to their power and solve their most difficult problems In order to capture the full scope of mass killing during the twentieth century Valentino does not limit his analysis to violence directed against ethnic groups or to the attempt to destroy victim groups as such as do most previous studies of genocide Rather he defines mass killing broadly as the intentional killing of a massive number of noncombatants using the criteria of 50 000 or more deaths within five years as a quantitative standard Final Solutions focuses on three types of mass killing communist mass killings like the ones carried out in the Soviet Union China and Cambodia ethnic genocides as in Armenia Nazi Germany and Rwanda and counter guerrilla campaigns including the brutal civil war in Guatemala and the Soviet occupation of Afghanistan Valentino closes the book by arguing that attempts to prevent mass killing should focus on disarming and removing from power the leaders and small groups responsible for instigating and organizing the killing The A to Z of Civil Wars in Africa Guy Arnold, 2009-09-02 The A to Z of Civil Wars in Africa covers all of the wars that have occurred in Africa since independence This is done through a chronology broken down by country an introductory essay a bibliography and cross referenced dictionary entries covering the wars conflicts maj

Conspiracy to Murder Linda Melvern, 2004 On the tenth anniversary of the horrific genocide in Rwanda an expert witness tells the first full story of the massacre s planning with damning details of Western inaction The A to Z of Civil Wars in Africa Guy Arnold, 2009-09-02 Ever since the end of World War II and even more so since 1960 when 17 African colonies became independent of colonial rule the African continent has been ravaged by a series of wars These wars have ranged from liberation struggles against former colonial powers to power struggles between different factions in the aftermath of independence. They have ranged from border wars between newly independent states to civil wars between ethnic groups. As with many conflicts, outside forces were drawn into these wars and major powers outside the continent intervened on one side or the other for a variety of reasons: political ideology, Cold War considerations, ethnic alignments, and stemming the flow of violence. Whether referring to Algeria's struggle for independence from French colonial rule, Nigeria's internal struggles to achieve a balanced state after the British departure, the Rwandan genocide of 1994, or the current ethnic cleansing in Darfur, The A to Z of Civil Wars in Africa covers all of the wars that have occurred in Africa since independence. This is done through a chronology broken down by country, an introductory essay, a bibliography, and cross-referenced dictionary entries covering the wars, conflicts, major political and military figures, child soldiers, mercenaries, and blood diamonds. Genocide Graham Charles Kinloch, Raj P. Mohan, 2005. Twenty authors analyze factors behind genocidal situations worldwide with detailed case studies and an evaluation of attempts to prevent genocide and of the implications for human rights policies with a particular concern to develop new and practical insights. Provided by publisher. A Thousand Hills Stephen Kinzer, 2009-05-04. A Thousand Hills: Rwanda's Rebirth and the Man Who Dreamed It is the story of Paul Kagame, a refugee who after a generation of exile found his way home. Learn about President Kagame who strives to make Rwanda the first middle income country in Africa in a single generation. In this adventurous tale, learn about Kagame's early fascination with Che Guevara and James Bond, his years as an intelligence agent, his training in Cuba and the United States, the way he built his secret rebel army, his bloody rebellion, and his outsized ambitions for Rwanda. Presidential Decision Making and Military Intervention in the Post-Cold War Era Dennis N. Ricci, 2019-07-08. Despite the end of the Cold War, the frequency of U.S. military intervention has increased. While military intervention accelerated after 9/11, increasing intervention was demonstrably evident well before 2001. Presidential Decision Making and Military Intervention in the Post-Cold War Era: Go or No Go analyzes presidential decision making regarding military intervention through a focused, structured comparison of go and no-go decisions from the four successive administrations of Presidents George H.W. Bush, Bill Clinton, George W. Bush, and Barack Obama. Dennis Ricci explores competing explanations for why a presidential administration will decide to intervene in one situation and not in another. Since both the situations and decision makers vary across cases, Ricci analyzes explanations for intervention by asking: Why intervene? Why use force or not? Under what conditions or circumstances are intervention decisions made?

Show Time Lee Ann Fujii, 2021-09-15. In Show Time, Lee Ann Fujii asks why some perpetrators of political violence, from lynch mobs to genocidal killers, display their acts of violence so publicly and extravagantly. Closely examining three horrific and extreme episodes—the murder of a prominent Tutsi family amidst the genocide in Rwanda, the execution of Muslim men in a Serb-controlled village in Bosnia during the Balkan Wars, and the lynching of a twenty-two-year-old Black farmhand on Maryland's Eastern Shore in 1933—Fujii shows how violent displays are staged to not merely to kill those perceived to be enemies or threats but also to affect and influence observers neighbors and the larger society Watching and participating in these violent displays profoundly transforms those involved reinforcing political identities social hierarchies and power structures Such public spectacles of violence also force members of the community to choose sides openly show support for the goals of the violence or risk becoming victims themselves Tracing the ways in which public displays of violence unfold Show Time reveals how the perpetrators exploit the fluidity of social ties for their own ends

Jones, Shepard Forman, Richard Gowan, 2010 Cooperating for Peace and Security attempts to understand more than fifteen years after the end of the Cold War seven years after 9 11 and in the aftermath of the failure of the United Nations UN reform initiative the relationship between US security interests and the factors that drove the evolution of multilateral security arrangements from 1989 to the present Chapters cover a range of topics including the UN US multilateral cooperation the North Atlantic Treaty Organization NATO nuclear nonproliferation European and African security institutions conflict mediation counterterrorism initiatives international justice and humanitarian cooperation examining why certain changes have taken place and the factors that have driven them and evaluating whether they have led to a more effective international system and what this means for facing future challenges

Confronting Land and Property Problems for Peace Shinichi Takeuchi, 2014-06-05 This collection clarifies the background of land and property problems in conflict affected settings and explores appropriate policy measures for peace building While land and property problems exist in any society they can be particularly exacerbated in conflict affected settings characterized by unstable security weak governance loss of proper documentation as well as the return of refugees and Internally Displaced Persons Unless these problems are properly addressed they can destabilize fragile political order and hinder economic recovery Although tackling land and property problems is an important challenge for peace building it has been relatively neglected in recent debates about liberal peace building as a result of the strong focus on state level institution building such as security sector reforms and transitional justice Using rich original data from eight conflict affected countries this book examines the topic from the viewpoint of State society relationship In contrast to previous literature this volume analyses land and property problems in conflict afflicted areas from a long term perspective of state building and economic development rather than concentrating only on the immediate aftermath of the conflict The long term perspective enables not only an understanding of the root causes of the property problems in conflict affected countries but also elaboration of effective policy measures for peace Contributors are area specialists and the eight case study countries have been carefully selected for comparative study The collection applies a common framework to a diverse group of countries South Sudan Uganda Rwanda Burundi Cambodia Timor Leste Colombia and Bosnia Herzegovina

Diversity, Violence, and Recognition Elisabeth King, Cyrus Samii, 2020-03-30 When considering strategies to address violent conflict scholars and policymakers debate the wisdom of recognizing versus avoiding reference to ethnic identities in government institutions In Diversity Violence and Recognition Elisabeth King and Cyrus Samii examine the reasons that governments choose to recognize ethnic identities and the consequences of such choices for peace The authors introduce a theory on the merits and risks of recognizing ethnic groups in state institutions pointing to the crucial role of ethnic demographics Through a global quantitative analysis and in depth case studies of Burundi Rwanda and Ethiopia they find promise in recognition Countries that adopt recognition go on to experience less violence more economic vitality and more democratic politics but these effects depend on which ethnic group is in power King and Samii s findings are important for scholars studying peace democracy and development and practically relevant to policymakers attempting to make these concepts a reality

Building a Future on Peace and Justice Kai

Ambos, Judith Large, Marieke Wierda, 2008-12-04 Results of the 2007 Nuremberg Conference on Peace and Justice Tensions between peace and justice have long been debated by scholars practitioners and agencies including the United Nations and both theory and policy must be refined for very practical application in situations emerging from violent conflict or political repression Specific contexts demand concrete decisions and approaches aimed at redress of grievance and creation of conditions of social justice for a non violent future There has been definitive progress in a world in which blanket amnesties were granted at times with little hesitation There is a growing understanding that accountability has pragmatic as well as principled arguments in its favour Practical arguments as much as shifts in the norms have created a situation in which the choice is increasingly seen as which forms of accountability rather than a stark choice between peace and justice It is socio political transformation not just an end to violence that is needed to build sustainable peace This book addresses these dilemmas through a thorough overview of the current state of legal obligations discussion of the need for a holistic approach including development analysis of the implications of the coming into force of the ICC and a series of hard case studies on internationalized and local approaches devised to navigate the tensions between peace and justice Postcolonial Violence,

Culture and Identity in Francophone Africa and the Antilles Lorna Milne, 2007 This collection of essays derives from a conference on Violence Culture and Identity held in St Andrews in June 2003 It examines postcolonial cultures and identities by investigating the way in which violence is represented by Francophone creative artists Strategies of Peace Daniel Philpott, Gerard Powers, 2010-03-24 How can a just peace be built in sites of genocide massive civil war dictatorship terrorism and poverty In Strategies of Peace the first volume in the Studies in Strategic Peacebuilding series fifteen leading scholars propose an imaginative and provocative approach to peacebuilding Today the dominant thinking is the liberal peace which stresses cease fires elections and short run peace operations carried out by international institutions western states and local political elites But the liberal peace is not enough the authors argue A just and sustainable peace requires a far more holistic vision that links together activities actors and institutions at all levels By exploring innovative models for building lasting peace a United Nations counter terrorism policy that also promotes good governance coordination of the international prosecution of war criminals with local efforts to settle civil wars increasing the involvement of religious leaders who have a unique ability to elicit peace settlements and many others the authors advance a bold new vision for peacebuilding

United Nations Interventionism, 1991-2004 Spyros Economides, 2007-02-15 After years of paralysis the 1990s saw an explosion in the number of United Nations field operations around the world In terms of scope and level of ambition these interventions went beyond the tried and tested principles of classical UN peacekeeping Indeed in some cases such as Cambodia Kosovo and East Timor the UN presence assumed the form of quasi protectorates designed to steer war torn and deeply divided societies towards lasting peace This book examines the UN's performance and assesses the wider impact of new interventionism on international order and the study of international relations Featuring eight case studies of major UN interventions and an introductory chapter outlining the most important theoretical and political features of the international system which have led to the increased interventionary practices of the UN this book will appeal to students and researchers in international relations and international organizations Building Sustainable Peace Editors: Tom Keating, 2006 Papers presented at a symposium held at University of Alberta on 10 March 2000
