Somerville,2001 7 Euthanasia by Confusion Living Life and the Struggle for Virtue Tab McKenzie,2023-05-09 A once famous philosopher named Montaigne warned that using oneself as the subject to write about is only pardonable when the person is famous and exceptional and I am certainly not. However I was motivated to write this book to relieve my conscience by sharing some of my most private thoughts about some of life's most important topics with my family and friends since I failed to communicate with them adequately in person on these matters. It has always been easier for me to express such intimate thoughts in writing. Since I am now in my last stage of living life I thought it was time to share my thoughts on what I believe is most important in living life and that is Religion, Philosophy, how to live life well and Politics. I don't believe that politics is that important to living a good life but it has become such a divisive force in our world that I decided it was worth discussing. There are many writers and speakers concerning these topics that I have observed and contemplated over my many years. But my book relies heavily on the teachings of Jesus regarding my religious beliefs and the philosopher Montaigne in my discussion on living life well or better. In the POLITICS section of the book I highlight my thoughts and beliefs about the priorities, values and perspective a Christian should consider when engaging in the political process. The essence of my book is to highlight my belief about what is the PURPOSE of our existence. I think most people are seeking the answer to this question. For me it is the struggle for Virtue.

Posthumanity Brian Cooney, 2004-05-26 In Posthumanity Brian Cooney examines this philosophically turbulent era in which the products of our latest technology will include a new kind of reality, new kinds of minds and new sorts of bodies for those minds. Until now major technological innovations have always had an important effect on human history. But our newest technology will alter the human animal to such an extent that the next era could end up being posthuman. Posthumanity introduces key concepts in philosophy in a creative and provocative manner guaranteed to engage the attention of first year students and other newcomers to the study of philosophy. Using examples from films, television and science fiction, Cooney advances a fascinating and original argument about technology while simultaneously acquainting students with the foundations of philosophy.

The Aesthetics of Loss Claudia Siebrecht, 2013-09-19 The Aesthetics of Loss is a cultural history of German women's art of the First World War that locates the artists' rich visual testimony in the context of the civilian experience of war and wartime loss. Drawing on a fascinating body of visual sources produced throughout the war years, Claudia Siebrecht examines the thematic evolution of women's art from expressions of support for the war effort to more nuanced and ambivalent testimonies of loss and grief. Many of the images are stark woodcuts, linocuts and lithographs of great iconographical power that acted as narrative tools to deal with the novel, unsettling and often traumatic experience of war. German female artists developed a unique aesthetic response to the conflict that both expressed emotional distress and allowed them to re imagine the place of mourning women in wartime society Historical codes of wartime behaviour and traditional rites of public mourning led female artists to redefine cultural practices of bereavement question existing notions of heroic death and proud bereavement through art and to place grief at the centre of women s war experiences As a cultural aesthetic and thematic point of reference German women s art of the First World War has had a fundamental influence on the European memory and understanding of modern war
