Port Out Starboard Home The Rise And Fall Of The Ocean Passage:

Port Out, Starboard Home Anna Sproule, 1978 Imperial Boredom Jeffrey A. Auerbach, 2018-10-03 Imperial Boredom offers a radical reconsideration of the British Empire during its heyday in the nineteenth century Challenging the long established view that the empire was about adventure and excitement with heroic men and intrepid women eagerly spreading commerce and civilization around the globe this thoroughly researched engagingly written and lavishly illustrated account suggests instead that boredom was central to the experience of empire Combining individual stories of pain and perseverance with broader analysis Professor Auerbach considers what it was actually like to sail to Australia to serve as a soldier in South Africa or to accompany a colonial official to the hill stations of India He reveals that for numerous men and women from explorers to governors tourists to settlers the Victorian Empire was dull and disappointing Drawing on diaries letters memoirs and travelogues Imperial Boredom demonstrates that all across the empire men and women found the landscapes monotonous the physical and psychological distance from home debilitating the routines of everyday life wearisome and their work tedious and unfulfilling The empires early years may have been about wonder and marvel but the Victorian Empire was a far less exciting project Many books about the British Empire focus on what happened this book concentrates on how people felt Over the Mountains of the Sea David Hastings, 2013-10-01 Drawing upon more than 80 personal diaries and journals of those on board this resource explores the rich experience and the trials and tribulations of hopeful Anglo Celtic pilgrims headed to Australia and New Zealand aboard migrant ships in the late 19th century From daily routines to matters of food health religion crime and mutiny this history unearths the humor scandal and personal triumph that defined the nautical pilgrimage of hundreds Marine News ,1980 Sea Breezes ,1980 Isaac Baker Woodbury Robert M.
