E. Butler, 2015-07-13 Excerpt from Post Augustan Poetry From Seneca to Juvenal I Have attempted in this book to provide something of an introduction to the poetical literature of the post Augustan age Although few of the writers dealt with have any claim to be called poets of the first order and some stand very low in the scale of poetry as a whole the poets of this period have suffered greater neglect than they deserve Their undeniable weaknesses tend in many cases to obscure their real merits with the result that they are at times either ignored or subjected to unduly sweeping condemnation I have attempted in these pages to detach and illustrate their excellences without in any way passing over their defects Manilius and Phaedrus have been omitted on the ground that as regards the general character of their writings they belong rather to the Augustan period than to the subsequent age of decadence Manilius indeed composed a considerable portion of his work during the lifetime of Augustus while Phaedrus though somewhat later in date showed a sobriety of thought and an antique simplicity of style that place him at least a generation away from his contemporaries About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Post Augustan Poetry H. E. Butler, 2004-06-01 The most curious and in some respects the most remarkable work that the Silver Age has bequeathed to us is a fragment of a novel the Satyricon of Petronius Arbiter Its author is generally identified with Titus Petronius the friend and victim of Nero Tacitus has described him in a passage remarkable even among Tacitean portraits for its extraordinary brilliance His days he passed in sleep his nights in the business and pleasures of life Indolence had raised him to fame as energy raises others and he was reckoned not a debauchee and spendthrift like most of those who squander their substance but a man of refined luxury POST-AUGUSTAN POETRY FROM SENE Harold Edgeworth 1878 Butler,2016-08-28 Roman Poetry Edward Ernest Sikes,1923 Style in Latin Poetry Paolo Dainotti,Alexandre Pinheiro Hasegawa,Stephen Harrison,2024-02-19 Though stylistics undoubtedly plays a crucial role in the scholarship on Latin poetry from commentaries to textual criticism from intertextuality to literary criticism in recent years for various reasons it has not received the attention it deserves This book published a generation after Adams and Mayer s seminal 1999 volume Aspects of the Language of Latin Poetry ideally aims to complement and update it on a smaller scale offering the reader a collection of stimulating papers from international scholars on the style of some of the most significant voices of Latin poetry from early drama to the Flavian period Non-Elegiac Latin Love Poetry of Late Antiquity Vasileios Pappas,2025-05-19 For about five hundred years between Ovid s death 17 AD and Maximianus Elegies 6th century AD the genre of love elegy disappears Does this mean that love poetry in general was no longer being written This was certainly not the case Poets continued to compose love poetry merely in other forms than elegy This book deals with non elegiac Latin love poetry of Late Antiquity It is the first monograph to focus on the metaliterary interpretation of four non elegiac poetic works the Pervigilium Veneris Ausonius Bissula Reposianus De concubitu Martis et Veneris and the Aegritudo Perdicae The book contains all the required information about these poems including their date authorship structure and literary tradition However its content is predominantly original as it examines subjects that have not previously been discussed in the past These include a the generic interaction between the poems host genre and several guest genres that are present within them b the metaliterary discourse developed in several passages which reveals the metapoetic self consciousness of their poets c their hidden demands for the innovation of love poetry and d their allusive comments on the conservatism of this era Augustan Poetry and the Irrational Philip Hardie,2016-01-07 The establishment of the Augustan regime presents itself as the assertion of order and rationality in the political ideological and artistic spheres after the disorder and madness of the civil wars of the late Republic But the classical Apollonian poetry of the Augustan period is fascinated by the irrational in both the public and private spheres There is a vivid memory of the political and military furor that destroyed the Republic and also an anxiety that furor may resurface that the repressed may return Epic and elegy are both obsessed with erotic madness Dido experiences in her very public role the disabling effects of love that are both lamented and celebrated by the love elegists Didactic especially the Georgics and the related Horatian exercises in satire and epistle offer programmes for constructing rational order in the natural political and psychological worlds but at best contain uneasily an ever present threat of confusion and backsliding and for the most part fall short of the austere standards of rational exposition set by Lucretius Dionysus and the Dionysiac enjoy a prominence in Augustan poetry and art that goes well beyond the merely ornamental The person of the emperor Augustus himself tests the limits of rational categorization Augustan Poetry and the Irrational contains contributions by some of the leading experts of the Augustan period as well as a number of younger scholars An introduction which surveys the field as a whole is followed by chapters that examine the manifestations of the irrational in a range of Augustan poets including Virgil Horace Ovid and the love elegists and also explore elements of post classical reception

Latin Poetry Robert Yelverton Tyrrell, 1895 The Epistolary Moment William C. Dowling, 2014-07-14 The eighteenth century verse epistle argues William Dowling was an attempt to solve in literary terms the dilemma of solipsism as raised by Locke and Hume The focus of The Epistolary Moment is on internal audience in poetry the audience inside the poem created by its discourse and belonging to its world as this divides in epistolary poetry into a double or simultaneous register of address the audience directly addressed by the letter writer and an epistolary audience listening in on the exchange from a point external to the discourse of the speaker but internal to the discourse of the poem Epistolary audience lies contends The Epistolary Moment at the heart of an Augustan theory of poetry as ideological intervention poems as symbolic acts with enormous consequences in the domain of the real The emergence of the verse epistle as the dominant form in eighteenth century poetry thus takes as its ultimate context the origins of eighteenth century solipsism in a degraded modernity symbolized by Sir Robert Walpole and his Robinocracy the demonic representatives of a new money or market society arising from the ruins of organic or traditional community Originally published in 1991 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

Elements of Tragedy in Flavian Epic Sophia Papaioannou,Agis Marinis,2021-01-18 In the light of recent scholarly work on tragic patterns and allusions in Flavian epic the publication of a volume exclusively dedicated to the relationship between Flavian epic and tragedy is timely The volume concentrating on the poetic works of Silius Italicus Statius and Valerius Flaccus consists of eight original contributions two by the editors themselves and a further six by experts on Flavian epic The volume is preceded by an introduction by the editors and it concludes with an Afterword by Carole E Newlands Among key themes analysed are narrative patterns strategies or type scenes that appear to derive from tragedy the Aristotelian notions of hamartia and anagnorisis human and divine causation the transfer of individual characters from tragedy to epic as well as instances of tragic language and imagery The volume at hand showcases an array of methodological approaches to the question of the presence of tragic elements in epic Hence it will be of interest to scholars and students in the area of Classics or Literary Studies focusing on such intergeneric and intertextual connections it will be also of interest to scholars working on Flavian epic or on the ancient reception of Greek and Roman tragedy Oxford University Press Oxford University Press,1924 A Companion to Latin Studies ,1910 A Companion to Latin Studies John Edwyn Sandys,2015-04-02 First published in 1921 this book aims to provide a comprehensive introduction to the study of ancient Rome and the Romans The topics covered include Italian flora and fauna state religion typical clothing medicine art literature and law all written by authors with academic experience in their particular field
