RHETORICAL CRITICISM

Tens of thousands of students at more than 300 colleges and universities have learned the exciting art of rhetorical criticism from previous editions of this exceptionally accessible text.

Understanding the processes of rhetorical criticism—the systematic investigation and explanation of symbolic acts and artifacts—creates opportunities for more effective communication. When we are aware of the various options available in the construction of messages and how they function to produce effects, we have the tools needed to question the messages in artifacts rather than responding uncritically.

Sonja Foss, who has an enviable talent for synthesizing complex rhetorical concepts and processes into clear explanations, presents nine methods of rhetorical criticism. She carefully explains and illustrates the theory behind each method with abundant examples of applications. Interesting and lively essays, some written by students, encourage readers to develop their critical skills. Useful bibliographies list additional samples for each type of criticism.

Rhetorical criticism is not a process confined to a few assignments in a rhetorical or media criticism course. It is an everyday activity we can use to understand our responses to symbols of all kinds and to create our own symbols to generate the responses we desire.

Understanding African American Rhetoric Ronald L. Jackson II, Elaine B. Richardson, 2014-05-22 This is an extraordinarily well balanced collection of essays focused on varied expressions of African American Rhetoric it also is a critical antidote to a preoccupation with Western Rhetoric as the arbiter of what counts for effective rhetoric Rather than impose Western terminology on African and African American rhetoric the essays in this volume seek to illumine rhetoric from within its own cultural expression thereby creating an understanding grounded in the culture's values The consequence is a richly detailed and well researched set of essays The contribution of African American rhetoric can no longer be rendered invisible through neglect of its tradition The essays in this volume neither seek to displace Western Rhetoric nor function as an uncritical paen to Afrocentricity and Africology This volume is both timely and essential in advancing a better understanding of the richly textured history that is expressed through African American discourse and essential as a counterpoint to the hegemonic influence of Greek and Roman rhetoric as the origin of rhetorical theory and practice Written in the spirit of a critical rhetoric this collection eschews traditional focus on public address and instead offers a rich array of texts in musical and other forms that address publics

,2021-10-18 This book began as a collection of papers presented at a conference entitled The Future Business of Higher Education held at Oxford University The contributions range from those who grapple with the question of what a University should do through those concerned with making Higher Education more efficient to some who were already planning for some technologically inevitable virtual future These disparate leanings led to inevitable conflict and a challenge in editing into book form In compiling and editing the chapters the editor has tried to preserve some of the diversity of opinion presented at Oxford By doing so it is apparent that some individual contributors would find unacceptable much of what others in the book have to say The traditionalists clash with the modernizers the Left with the Right Public with Private and the theorists with the practitioners It is this very divergence of philosophical opinion as to the future of Higher Education that makes this book such an enjoyable and stimulating read Introducing Communication Research Donald Treadwell,Andrea Davis,2019-07-30 Introducing Communication Research Paths of Inquiry teaches students the basics of communication research in an accessible manner by using interesting real world examples engaging application exercises and up to date resources Best selling author Donald Treadwell and new co author Andrea Davis guide readers through the process of conducting communication research and presenting findings for scholarly professional news media and web audiences The Fourth Edition continues to emphasize the Internet and social media as topics of and tools for communication research and incorporates new content on online methodologies qualitative research critical methodologies and ethics
