Socrates Cafe Christopher Phillips, 2010-10-18 A bracing rollicking read about the spark that ignites when people start asking meaningful questions O Magazine Christopher Phillips is a man on a mission to revive the love of questions that Socrates inspired long ago in ancient Athens Like a Johnny Appleseed with a master's degree Phillips has gallivanted back and forth across America to cafés and coffee shops senior centers assisted living complexes prisons libraries day care centers elementary and high schools and churches forming lasting communities of inquiry Utne Reader Phillips not only presents the fundamentals of philosophical thought in this charming Philosophy for Dummies type guide USA Today he also recalls what led him to start his itinerant program and re-creates some of the most invigorating sessions which come to reveal sometimes surprising often profound reflections on the meaning of love friendship work growing old and others among Life's Big Questions How to Start Your Own Socrates Caf guide included Physics for the Inquiring Mind Eric M. Rogers, 2011-04-17 In our scientific age an understanding of physics is part of a liberal education Lawyers bankers governors business heads administrators all wise educated people need a lasting understanding of physics so that they can enjoy those contacts with science and scientists that are part of our civilization both materially and intellectually They need knowledge and understanding instead of the feelings all too common that physics is dark and mysterious and that physicists are a strange people with incomprehensible interests Such a sense of understanding science and scientists can be gained neither from sermons on the beauty of science nor from the rigorous courses that colleges have offered for generations when the headache clears away it leaves little but a confused sense of mystery Nor is the need met by survey courses that offer a smorgasbord of tidbits they give science a bad name as a compendium of information or formulas The non scientist needs a course of study that enables him to learn real science and make its own with delight For lasting benefits the intelligent non scientist needs a course of study that enables him to learn genuine science carefully and then encourages him to think about it and use it He needs a carefully selected framework of topics not so many that learning becomes superficial and hurried not so few that he misses the connected nature of scientific work and thinking He must see how scientific knowledge is built up by building some scientific knowledge of his own by reading and discussing and if possible by doing experiments himself He must think his own way through some scientific arguments He must form his own opinion with guidance concerning the parts played by experiment and theory and he must be shown how to develop a taste for good theory He must see several varieties of scientific method at work And above all he must think about science for himself and enjoy that These are the things that this book encourages readers to gain by their own study and thinking Physics for the Inquiring Mind is a book for the inquiring mind of students in college and for other readers who want to grow in scientific wisdom who want to know what physics really is
