Scottish Short Stories 198:

British Short Fiction in the Early Nineteenth Century Dr Tim Killick, 2013-04-28 In spite of the importance of the idea of the tale within Romantic era literature short fiction of the period has received little attention from critics Contextualizing British short fiction within the broader framework of early nineteenth century print culture Tim Killick argues that authors and publishers sought to present short fiction in book length volumes as a way of competing with the novel as a legitimate and prestigious genre Beginning with an overview of the development of short fiction through the late eighteenth century and analysis of the publishing conditions for the genre including its appearance in magazines and annuals Killick shows how Washington Irving's hugely popular collections set the stage for British writers Subsequent chapters consider the stories and sketches of writers as diverse as Mary Russell Mitford and James Hogg as well as didactic short fiction by authors such as Hannah More Maria Edgeworth and Amelia Opie His book makes a convincing case for the evolution of short fiction into a self conscious intentionally modern form with its own techniques and imperatives separate from those of the novel British Books, 1900 Alien Heart Lyall Powers, 2012-11-02 Today almost two decades after her death Margaret Laurence remains one of Canada's best known and most beloved writers Twice winner of the Governor General's Award for fiction she was as the late William French wrote more profoundly admired than any other Canadian novelist of her generation Lyall Powers is both a respected scholar of literature and a lifelong friend of Laurence's having met her when they were students together at Winnipeg's United College in the 1940s Alien Heart is the first full length biography of Margaret that combines personal knowledge and insights about Laurence with a study of her work which often paralleled the events and concerns in her own life Drawing on letters personal correspondence journals and interviews Lyall Powers discusses the struggles and triumphs Laurence experienced in her efforts to understand herself in the roles of writer wife mother and public figure He portrays a deeply compassionate and courageous woman who yet felt troubled by conflicting demands While Laurence's work is not directly autobiographical Powers illustrates how her writing expressed many of the same dilemmas and how the resolution her characters achieved in the novels and stories had an impact on Laurence's own life Powers provides an in depth analysis of all Laurence's work including the early African essays fiction and translations and her books for children as well as the beloved Manawaka fiction The study clearly shows the progression and expression of Laurence as a writer of great humanity and conscience The Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature, 1900 Illustrated Catalogue of Books, Standard and Holiday McClurg, Firm, Booksellers, Chicago, 1891 Selected English Short Stories, 1917 The Publishers Weekly, 1879 A Companion to the British and Irish Short Story David Malcolm, Cheryl Alexander Malcolm, 2009-01-30 A Companion to the British and Irish Short Story provides a comprehensive treatment of short fiction writing and chronicles its development in Britain and Ireland from 1880 to the present Provides a comprehensive treatment of the short story in Britain and Ireland as it developed
