Screening Disability Essays On Cinema And Disability:

Screening Disability Christopher R. Smit, Anthony W. Enns, 2001-09-12 Films include The hunchback of Notre Dame various versions based on the novel Notre Dame de Paris by Victor Hugo Freaks directed by Tod Browning Ordinary people Smoke Wayne Wang the films of John Woo Crash David Cronenberg Animated Film and Disability Slava Greenberg, 2023-02-07 While many live action films portray disability as a spectacle crip animation a genre of animated films that celebrates disabled people's lived experiences uses a variety of techniques like clay animation puppets pixilation and computer generated animation to represent the inner worlds of people with disabilities Crip animation has the potential to challenge the ableist gaze and immerse viewers in an alternative bodily experience In Animated Film and Disability Slava Greenberg analyzes over 30 animated works about disabilities including Rocks in My Pockets An Eyeful of Sound and A Shift in Perception He considers the ableism of live action cinematography the involvement of filmmakers with disabilities in the production process and the evocation of the spectators senses of sight and hearing consequently subverting traditional spectatorship and listenership hierarchies In addition Greenberg explores physical and sensory accessibility in theaters and suggests new ways to accommodate cinematic screenings Offering an introduction to disability studies and crip theory for film media and animation scholars Animated Film and Disability demonstrates that crip animation has the power to breach the spectator's comfort evoking awareness of their own bodies and in certain cases their social privileges Disability in Film and Literature Nicole Markotić, 2016-06-10 Literary and filmic depictions of the disabled reinforce an ableist ideology that classifies bodies as normal or abnormal positive or negative Disabled characters are often represented as aberrant or evil and are isolated or incarcerated This book examines language in film fiction and other media that perpetuates the representation of the disabled as abnormal or problematic The author looks at depictions of disability both disparaging and amusing and discusses disability theory as a framework for reconsidering normal and abnormal bodies Another Disability Studies Reader? Geert Van Hove, 2005 Contemporary Art and Disability Studies Alice Wexler, John Derby, 2019-12-06 This book presents interdisciplinary scholarship on art and visual culture that explores disability in terms of lived experience It will expand critical disability studies scholarship on representation and embodiment which is theoretically rich but lacking in attention to art It is organized in five thematic parts methodologies of access agency and ethics in cultural institutions the politics and ethics of collaboration embodied representations of artists with disabilities in the visual and performing arts negotiating the outsider art label and first person reflections on disability and artmaking This volume will be of interest to scholars who study disability studies art history art education gender studies museum studies and visual culture

Teaching Film Lucy Fischer, Patrice Petro, 2012-07-27 Film studies has been a part of higher education curricula in the United States almost since the development of the medium Although the study of film is dispersed across a range of academic departments programs and scholarly organizations film studies has come to be recognized as a field in its own right

In an era when teaching and scholarship are increasingly interdisciplinary film studies continues to expand and thrive attracting new scholars and fresh ideas direction and research Given the dynamism of the field experienced and beginning instructors alike need resources for bringing the study of film into the classroom This volume will help instructors conceptualize contemporary film studies in pedagogical terms The first part of the volume features essays on theory and on representation including gender race and sexuality Contributors then examine the geographies of cinema and offer practical suggestions for structuring courses on national regional and transnational film Several essays focus on interdisciplinary approaches while others describe courses designed around genre film noir the musical mode animation documentary avant garde film or the formal elements of film such as sound music and mise en sc ne The volume closes with a section on film and media in the digital age in which contributors discuss the opportunities and challenges presented by access to resources media convergence and technological developments in the field

Hollywood's Others Katherine Fusco, 2025-09-02 We tend to think about movie stars as either glamorous or relatable But in the 1920s and 1930s when the Hollywood star system was taking shape a number of unusual stars appeared on the silver screen representing groups from which the American mainstream typically sought to avert its eyes What did it mean for a white entertainment columnist to empathize with an ambiguously gendered Black child star Or for boys to idolize Lon Chaney famous for portraying characters with disabilities Hollywood's Others explores the affective ties between white non disabled audiences and the fascinatingly different stars with whom they identified but only up to a point Katherine Fusco argues that stardom in this era at once offered ways for viewers to connect across group boundaries while also policing the limits of empathy Examining fan magazines alongside film performances she traces the intense audience attachment to atypical celebrities and the ways the film industry sought to manage it Fusco considers Shirley Temple's career in light of child labor laws and changing notions of childhood shows how white viewers responded to Black music in depictions of the antebellum South and analyzes the gender politics of conspiracy theories around celebrity suicides Shedding light on marginalized stardoms and the anxieties they provoked Hollywood's Others challenges common notions about film's capacity to build empathy

The Routledge Encyclopedia of Films Sabine Haenni, Sarah Barrow, John White, 2014-09-15 The Routledge Encyclopedia of Films comprises 200 essays by leading film scholars analysing the most important influential innovative and interesting films of all time Arranged alphabetically each entry explores why each film is significant for those who study film and explores the social historical and political contexts in which the film was produced Ranging from Hollywood classics to international bestsellers to lesser known representations of national cinema this collection is deliberately broad in scope crossing decades boundaries and genres The encyclopedia thus provides an introduction to the historical range and scope of cinema produced throughout the world

Cultures of Representation Benjamin Fraser, 2016-03-08 Cultures of Representation is the first book to explore the cinematic portrayal of disability in films from across the globe Contributors explore classic and recent works from Belgium France Germany India

Italy Iran Japan Korea Mexico Netherlands Russia Senegal and Spain along with a pair of globally resonant Anglophone films Anchored by David T Mitchell and Sharon L Snyder s coauthored essay on global disability film festivals the volume s content spans from 1950 to today addressing socially disabling forces rendered visible in the representation of physical developmental cognitive and psychiatric disabilities Essays emphasize well known global figures directors and industries from Temple Grandin to Pedro Almod var from Akira Kurosawa to Bollywood while also shining a light on films from less frequently studied cultural locations such as those portrayed in the Iranian and Korean New Waves Whether covering postwar Italy postcolonial Senegal or twenty first century Russia the essays in this volume will appeal to scholars undergraduates and general readers alike
