Friedman, 1972 Searching in the Syntax of Things Maurice S. Friedman, Thomas Patrick Burke, Samuel Laeuchli, 1972 Death in Second-Century Christian Thought Jeremiah Mutie, 2015-03-24 Death in Second Century Christian Thought explores how the meaning of death was conceptualized in this crucial period of the history of the church Through an exploration of some key metaphors and other figures of speech that the early church used to talk about this interesting but difficult topic the author argues that the early church selected modified and utilized existing views on the subject of death in order to offer a distinctively Christian view of death based on what they believed the word of God taught on the subject particularly in light of the ongoing story of Jesus following his death his burial and resurrection In short the book shows how Christians interacted with the views of death in late antiquity coming up with their own distinctive view of death Martyred for the Church Justin Buol, 2018-09-21 In this study Justin Buol analyzes the writings connected with the deaths of Ignatius of Antioch Polycarp of Smyrna and Pothinus of Lyons in light of earlier accounts of the noble deaths of military political and religious leaders from Greco Roman literature and the Bible which record benefits accruing to a group on account of its leader's death. The author argues that the accounts of these three bishops martyrdoms draw upon those prior models in order to portray the bishops as dying to unite protect and strengthen the Church oppose false teaching and apostasy and solidify the teaching role of the episcopal office Finally by providing a foundation for Irenaeus to argue for apostolic succession these second century bishop martyrs also help form a lasting contribution to the growth of episcopal Religion in Life John Baillie, Lucius Hatfield Bugbee, Charles Kendall Gilbert, 1932 Theology Digest ,1970 power Includes section Book reviews Pluralism and Truth in Religion John Francis Kane, 1981 Polycarp and the New Testament Paul Hartog, 2002 Paul Hartog argues for the unity and early dating of Polycarp's letter to the Philippians and thus provides invaluable early evidence for the use of various New Testament documents Back cover Explorations in Adult Development Virginia H.
