questions such as Where were vines grown at this time How was wine made and stored Were there acknowledged distinctions in quality How did traders operate What were the social customs associated with wine drinking What view was taken by moralists How important was its association with Christian ritual Did Islamic prohibitions on alcohol affect the wine trade What other functions did wine have Submission of the Sir Rowland Hill committee, with opinions from the press Patrick Chalmers,1886 Photastatic [sic] Reproduction of Essays from the Shakespeare Head Press Edition of the Works of William Shakespeare ,1918 Conflict and Compromise in the Late Medieval Countryside Peter L. Larson,2012-12-06 Larson examines the changing relations between lords and peasants in post Black Death Durham This was a time period of upheaval and change part of the transition from medieval to modern Many historians have argued about the nature of this change and its causes often putting forth a single all encompassing model Larson presses for the importance of individual choice and action resulting in a flexible human framework that provides a more appropriate explanation for the many paths followed in this period The theoretical side is balanced by an on the ground examination of rural life in Durham an attempt to capture the raw emotions and decisions of the period No one has really examined this most studies are speculative relying on theory or statistics rather than tracing the history of real people both in the immediate aftermath of the plague and in the longer term Durham is fortunate in that records survive in abundance for this period most other studies of rural society end at 1300 or 1348 As such this book fills a major gap in medieval English history while at the same time grappling with major theories of change for this transformative period The Fortnightly ,1906
