A grammar of Iranian Armenian Hossep Dolatian, Afsheen Sharifzadeh, Bert

Vaux, 2023-10-20 Iranian Armenian is the variety of spoken Armenian that was developed by Armenians in Tehran Iran over the last few centuries It has a substantial community of speakers in California This variety or lect is called Persian Armenian p sk h je en or Iranian Armenian i n h je en by members of the community The present book is not a comprehensive grammar of the language It occupies a gray zone between being a simple sketch versus a sizable grammar We attempt to clarify the basic aspects of the language such as its phoneme inventory noticeable morphophonological processes various inflectional paradigms and some peculiar aspects of its syntax We likewise provide a sample text of Iranian Armenian speech Many aspects of this variety seem to be identical to Standard Eastern Armenian SEA so we tried to focus more on those aspects of Iranian Armenian which differ from SEA The phonology has developed new phonemes and intonational contours due to contact with Persian The morphophonology has grammaticalized allomorphic patterns that are phonosyntactic meaning they reference syntactic information Nominal morphology is largely identical to SEA but with some simplification of irregular processes Verbal morphology is similar to SEA but with major innovations in the aorist paradigm The aorist or past perfective paradigm has undergone a change whereby irregular patterns have been reanalyzed as regular patterns The syntax is largely the same as SEA but with innovations due to contact with Persian such as object clitics and the use of resumptive pronouns

The Languages of the Soviet Union Bernard Comrie, 1981-06-04 A general account of the languages of the Soviet Union one of the most diverse multinational and multilingual states in the world as well as one of the most important There are some 130 languages spoken in the USSR belonging to five main families and ranging from Russian which is the first language of about 130 000 000 people to Aluet spoken only by 96 in the 1970 census Dr Comrie has two general aims First he presents the most important structural features of these languages their genetic relationships and classification and their distinctive typological features Secondly he examines the social and political background to the use of functioning of the various languages in a multilingual state The volume will be of importance and interest to linguists and to those with a broader professional interest in the Soviet Union
